The Family of Patterson

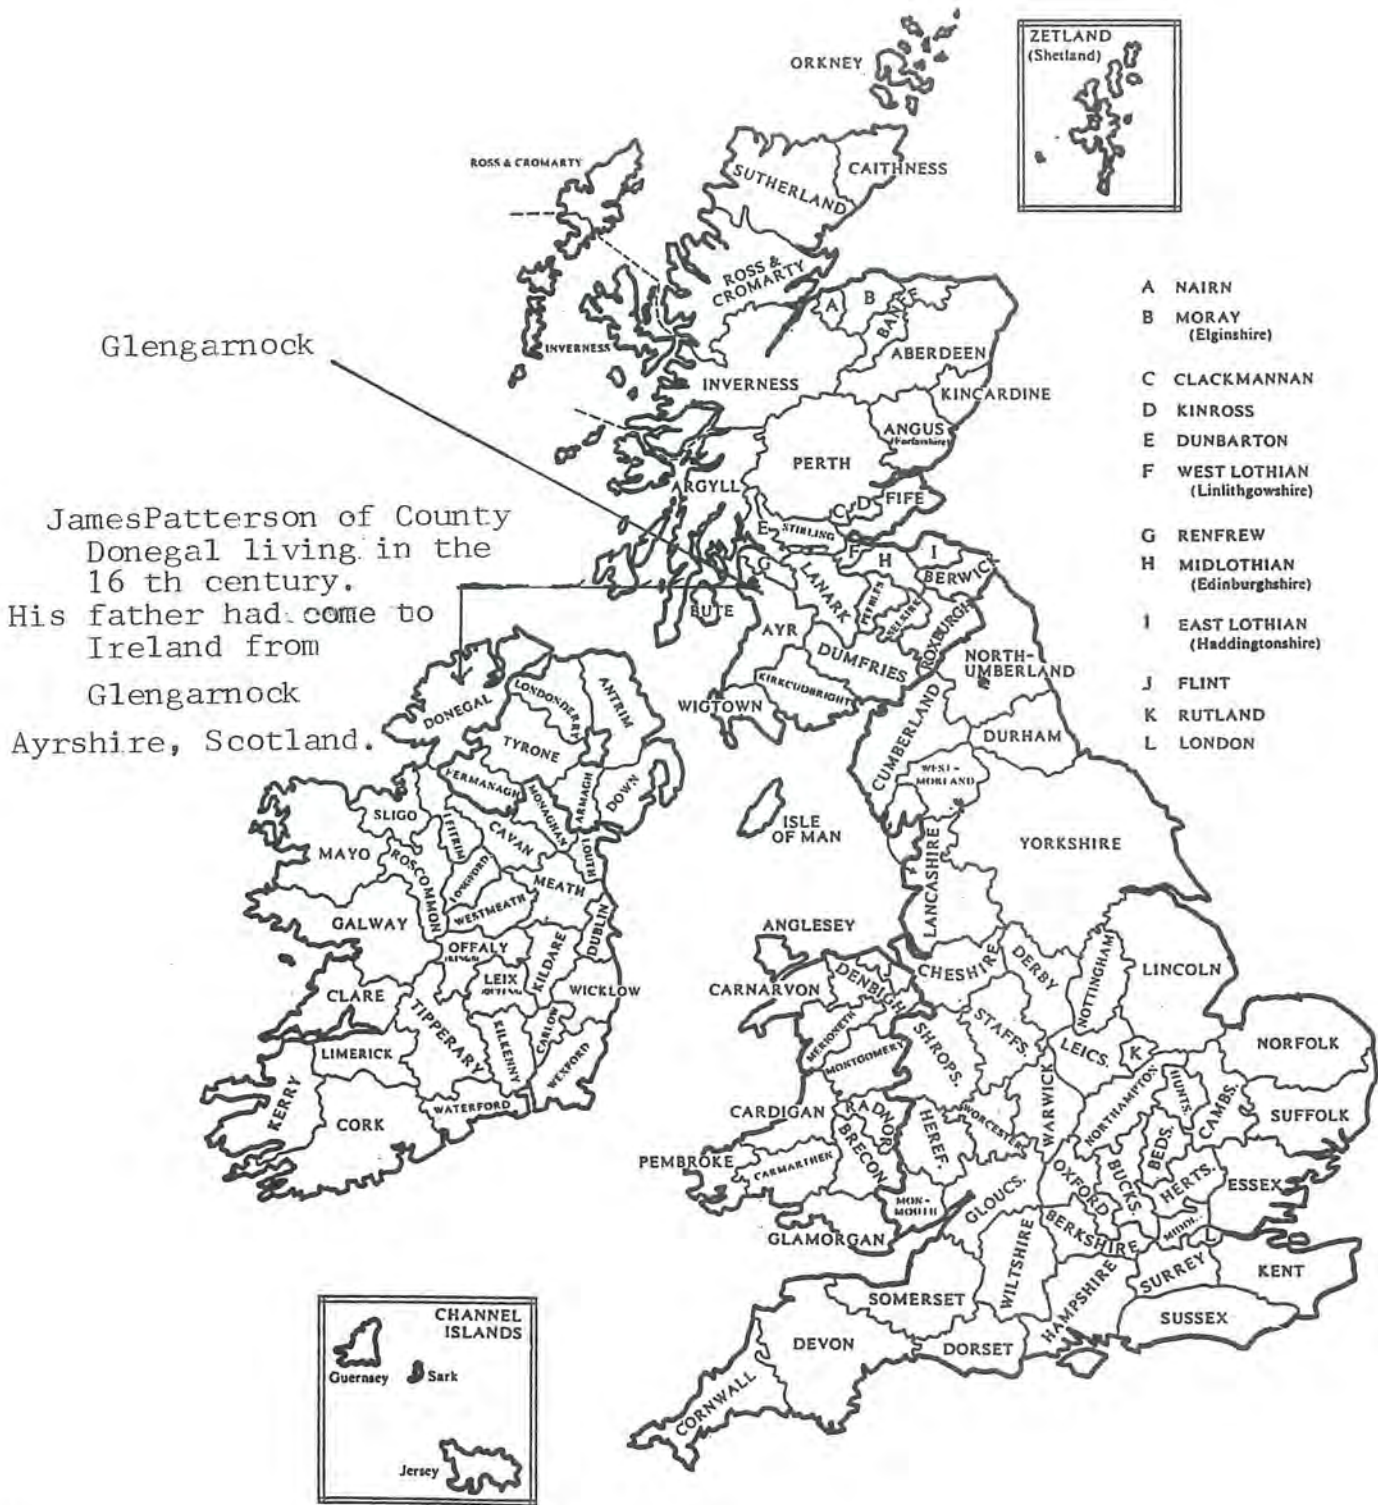

Mr. N. I. Bowditch in his "Suffolk Surnames," states the name PATTERSON derived from "Pater" or "Father." We find a James Patterson, Gentleman, of County Donegal, Ireland, living in the latter part of the Sixteenth Century. His father had come to Ireland from Glengarnock, Ayrshire, Scotland. There are records going back to the Fifteenth Century of Pattersons in Scotland in the following locations: Seafield, Aberdeen, Bannockburn, Dalkeith, and Ayrshire. A great number of the family moved and settled in Counties, Donegal and Down, Ireland.

Geneological authorities state that most people of the name Patterson in America today may be traced to this line of history.

Authentic records, found in the Bible of the William Patterson family, indicate that James Patterson was born in County Down, Ireland in 1777. He immigrated with his father and family to Hopewell Township, Washington, Co., Pennsylvania in 1791. A copy of this record is included herein. All members of "our" Patterson family are direct descendants of the above James Patterson, and his wife, Elizabeth. To them were born eleven children, the youngest of whom was John. John and his wife, Jane McClelland, became the parents of four sons; James Taggart, Thomas McClelland, William Hutchinson, and John Leman Patterson. A detailed record of the four succeeding generations is recorded in this account of the family clan.

Notes on Heraldry

Heraldry is of very ancient origin. We can trace it back to the Jewish tribes; and subsequently we find it in a more elaborate form in the leading families of Greece and Rome, who bore distinguishing symbols, illustrative of, or pertaining to, deeds of valor or merit performed by their ancestors.

In its modern sense, however, the heraldic art dates from the time of the Crusaders, and was reduced to its present perfect system by the French.

An erroneous idea is entertained by some, that heraldic symbols denote an aristocratic or exclusive class, and is undemocratic in its origin and permanency. On the contrary — these badges of distinction were the reward of personal merit, and could be secured by the humblest as well as the highest. They are today the testimonials and warrants of bravery, heroism, and meritorious deeds of our ancestors; and they appeal to the pride of the intelligent and enlightened descendants of these distinguished families today, as the valiant deeds and self-sacrificing acts of contemporary persons would to their posterity.

The PATTERSON Arms are as follows:

Arms — Argent, three pelicans, proper, in their nests, vert, vulning themselves, proper

Crest — A pelican in the nest, as of the arms

Motto — "SE PROPTER SUOS"

The following is from A. C. Fox-Davies, "Complete Guide to Heraldry." "The Pelican with its curious heraldic representation and its strange terms, may almost be considered an instance of the application of the existing name of a bird to an entirely fanciful creation. Heraldically, it has been practically always depicted with the head and body of an eagle, with wings elevated and with the neck embowed, pecking with its beak at its breast. The term for this is 'vulning itself,' and although it appears to be necessary always to describe it in the blazon as 'vulning itself,' and it will never be met with save in this position. It is supposed to be pecking at its breast to provide drops of blood as nourishment for its young, and it is termed 'in its piety' when depicted standing in its nest and with its brood of young.

"It is difficult to imagine how the pelican came to be considered as always existing in this position, because there is nothing in the nature of a natural habit from which this could be derived. There are, however, other birds which, during the brooding season, lose their feathers upon the breast and some which grow red feathers there, and it is doubtless from this that the idea originated. In heraldic and ecclesiastical symbolism the pelican has acquired a somewhat sacred character as typical of maternal solicitude. It will never be found in any other positions than with the wings endorsed and either elevated or inverted. When blazoned 'proper' it is always given the colour and plumage of the eagle, and not its natural colour of white.'

This symbol is found on the altars of many of the temples of the Egyptians, and was emblematical of the duties of a parent.

James Patterson
 James Patterson

Died, Jan. 4th, 1869, in the 92d year of his age, JAMES PATTERSON, a ruling elder in the U. P. congregation of North Buffalo, and the oldest ruling elder in Chartiers Presbytery, and may be in the Church.

Father Patterson was born in County Down, Ireland, in 1777. He emigrated with his father and family to this county in 1791. In 1810 he married and settled in Hopewell tp., Washington co., Pa., on the farm upon which he died. He early united with the congregation of N. B., of which he was in 1811 chosen a ruling elder, the duties of which he discharged with ability and acceptance until within a few years of the termination of a long and well spent life. As a member of civil society he was active, useful and a correct business man. As a member of church and church courts he was ever attentive and faithful, warmly attached to her principles and order, as set forth in her standards, and was ever willing and creditably able to defend them when assailed. As an office-bearer in the house of his God he was able and zealous, and as a counsellor wise and judicious. As a father and husbandman "he looked well to the ways of his household, eating not the bread of idleness; hence his children rise up to call him blessed." He was the father of eleven children, nine of whom survive him; and all members of the U. P. Church. His grandchildren number sixty-five, fifty-one of whom are living, and his great-grandchildren forty-one, thirty-five yet living. "Blessed is the man that feareth the Lord, that delighteth greatly in his commandments. His seed shall be mighty upon the earth, the generation of the upright shall be blessed."

The following action was taken by the Session of N. B.:

WHEREAS, The Master has called to his reward the last of the pioneer members of this Session; therefore,

Resolved, That in looking back through the years of our acquaintance with our deceased, venerated father Patterson, we see and remember only a life largely dedicated to the cause of his Master, energies devoted to the church's peace and prosperity, and a kindly interest in the welfare of all the brethren.

Resolved, That in this dispensation we are again admonished to work while the merciful day of our visitation lasts—admonished to greater diligence, earnestness and faithfulness in the work to which we are called, that we too, "when we shall have put off mortality, may put on immortality, eternal life."

Resolved, That a minute of the foregoing be made upon our church record and published in the United Presbyterian.

By order of Session. CLERK

Armstrong—Jan. 15, 1885, in Harshaville, Beaver co., Pa., Mrs. Jane Armstrong, aged 76 years.

Her maiden name was Patterson. She was born near West Middletown, Washington co., Pa. About sixty years ago she united with the Associate Reformed Church. She was at the time of her death a consistent member of the United Presbyterian congregation of Hanover.

She was united in marriage with Mr. James Armstrong Dec. 23, 1828. The fruit of this union was six sons and three daughters. Her six sons were present at her funeral, and acted as pall-bearers. Her two living daughters, Mrs. Legget and Mrs. Dever, were also present.

She was a widow about twenty years, and during that time made her home with her son, M. L. Armstrong, who resides in Hanover. She was a woman of unmistakable piety. Her life was one of activity and thrift. But for some months she was confined to her "upper chamber," and during that time her Bible and other good books were her daily study. In her lips was the law of kindness, speaking harshly of no one. She enjoyed religious conversation, and seemed to live in communion with God. She was a most excellent woman, an affectionate mother, a kind neighbor, and a devoted Christian.

Her funeral exercises were conducted in the church on the Saturday preceding, the communion. Rev. W. H. Miller preached an impressive discourse from the words of the Apostle, "I am now to be offered," etc., after which the pastor made a short address and offered prayer.

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord."

Patterson—On Monday, Oct. 16, at Alliance, O., Miss Mary M. Patterson, second daughter of David Patterson, of Alliance, O.

The deceased was born April 7, 1851, in Washington co., Pa. At the age of fifteen she made a profession of religion in the church at Scio, in connection with the U. P. Church. In 1878 the family came to Alliance and connected themselves with the Presbyterian church under the pastoral care of Rev. Dr. Grimes. During her sojourn here she has been faithful and devoted to the cause of Christ—blameless in her life and every way consistent in her walk and conversation. Six months ago she was taken down with an acute pulmonary disease which has ended her life. She knew from the first attack that it was only a question of time, and told her pastor that she had no fears in the matter, for she had settled her peace with God. Though she suffered intensely during her long sickness, she endured it with great patience without a murmur. A month before she died she said to her pastor on one occasion, "I am going to-day of the communion, an earthly moment of communion, precious, what must it be, nothing can interrupt it, nor regret that I must meet all my friends in each other there. I know he died for me, he lived so she can be saved."

Patterson – At his residence near West Middletown, Washington Co., Pa., on the 16th day of May, 1881, Mr. John Patterson, in the 59th year of his age.

Mr. Patterson was the youngest son of James Patterson, once ruling elder of North Buffalo U.P. congregation. For about 40 years the deceased was identified with the congregation to which his father belonged and having been an earnest and devout student of Scripture he was no doubt rooted and grounded in the faith, although for the last few years of his life, on account of feeble health, he was not able to attend public worship regularly nor take an active part in the work of the church, yet he did what he could. On his dying bed he expressed his resignation to the will of God, and departed "looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of his faith." While a pilgrim here he was much afflicted, but now, we trust, he has reached his long, long home, where there is no sickness, pain, nor death; where the wicked cease from troubling and the weary are at rest." May God who comforteth those that are cast down comfort those who mourn his absence.

This letter was received from a friend of the Patterson family. It was hand written during the Civil War. The blank spaces are for words that cannot be deciphered.

Camp Warrinton VA, Jan. 28, 1864

Dear friends. Not having received a letter from you since I last wrote I will again write you another. I want to hear from now and then. I have not much news of interest to write at present. We have had no battles lately except a little brush with guerrillas once in a while. Our camp is at Warrinton. The citizens are all secesh but they can't help the Yankees staying with them. We are encamped right beside the rail road depot so we have everything handy. Guerrillas are very troublesome here. Even while I write the boys on the picket line are firing away at them. A darkie came in this evening and reported that there could be a chance of a house just outside our lines and many of the murderers might be there. A party was sentenced to catch them. I hope they will be successful. Since yesterday these same rebs killed one and wounded two of our men while on picket. First they crept up secretly to within gun shot of them. Before the sentinel saw them he was shot by the sneaking

_____ . An order has been issued to hang all caught with out/our uniform on. Yesterday we caught two. Their necks will stretch tomorrow. On New Year's day our division started on a big _____. The weather was bitter cold. We crossed the Blue Ridge mountains on the second day and reached Front Royal at dark. The roads were rough and icy. We slid most of the way and returned through Manassas gap. I reached camp on the fourth day, the snow falling very fast. This was a _____ that tried a fellows _____. One night while in this _____ I woke up one foot getting hot. I had it stuck right into the fire. The result was one boot burnt badly. I thought of riding 60 miles before I could reach camp with one boot as good as gone. Then I thought how much better the boot than the foot and started off merry hearted and reached camp the next day. Bringing with us fifteen or twenty of Mosby's guerrillas and any quantity of turkeys and chickens. The boys could not want a better chance than a grab at your nice flock of chickens or turkeys if you were a secesh and lived in Virginia. They could all be gone so quick and easy you would think they had gone to roost. I am in camp _____ tonight. It is now after 11 o'clock. I should close and go to bed and sleep to 4 in the morning. We have just had a high time to night. Pat McNutly (?) and William Chester Murray and myself have had a grand feast eating a large jelly cake. A gift from a young lady who lives near West Alexander. _____ the lady we love her as well as we did the cake. I have not had so much fun in one night since I came to the army. Dave is away on top of _____ mountain on picket. He will be down tomorrow. I will close and take a new day to finish this letter.

4 o'clock Friday morning and getting up. Isn't this a strange time to be writing but I may as well write for it will serve to keep me awake. I must be awake for 2 hours now and then I must have the men on post relieved. We had some very cold weather this winter. A good snow lay on the ground for near two weeks but now the weather is very warm. Tonight it is so warm I am comfortable writing without a fire in the tent. Dave was home on furlough. You did not see him _____ the reason his time was too short. You will hardly get off that easy when I get home. I will have a long furlough. _____ says that we will be sent back and discharged in May. This is sooner than I expect but hope it may prove true as I am thinking long to see home. The jelly cake does me as much good as a furlough or a letter from the girl I left behind me. Just think of me working my old gums in a nice cake that I have been using for to grind hardtack with for so long. Sam has sent us another box that I expect to get tomorrow. I will now tell you what kind of duty we have today. Our regiment sends on picket everyday an average about 90 men and we can only raise a little over 200 for duty. Then we have plenty of _____ to do. It is but seldom we get more than one night's sleep at a time. Besides all this our officers have men detailed from the brigade to cut and hand wood for the citizens of Warrinton. This I think is a shame and an abuse of men. I would rather tear down their old town and burn it for wood myself than cut any for them. Our regiment and the 1st Jersey are too old soldiers for this and refused to work for these secesh citizens. On this account we have to do mere picket duty while the wood choppers are taken from other regiments of the brigade. We had letters lately from Goodintent, Taylorstown and Hookstown. All seems to be quiet at these places and no signs of battle seen. What do you think of Abe for the presidency again? I think he is the man we want if he is _____ he will be elected. I was looking for Sam to come _____. I fear he has gone up to the _____. I am getting very sleepy and will close soon. Remember me to the ladies. Have one selected so that I can have the knot tied right away as soon as I go home. I will not say what kind I want for you know more about that than I do. I received a letter some time ago from Jimmy McLelland and your Jimmy. I will try to answer it sometime. I am well at present. Dave and I have had good health this winter. I hope this may find you and family well. I will look for a letter from you before long.

Yours truly,

Thomas Richmond

THOMAS McCLELLAND PATTERSON, of Washington, is a son of John and Jane (McClelland) Patterson. He was born in Hopewell township, Washington county, Pa., April, 1853, and was educated in the public schools of that region. January 3, 1878, Mr. Patterson was married to Lizzie, daughter of William and Catharine Proudfit, of the same county. He pursued the vocation of farming and stock raising until 1866 when he removed to Burgettstown, where he has since resided. He is a firm believer in the principles of the Republican party and was elected to the Legislature for the first time in 1891. He took an active part in the proceedings of that session and served on the Committees of Agriculture, Labor and Industry, Iron and Coal, Constitutional Reform and Geological Survey.

Recognizing his faithfulness to his trust and his fitness to represent them in the halls of the Legislature Mr. Patterson was returned to the House in 1892 by the electors of his district. He is a member of the Committees on Appropriations, Corporations, Elections, Public Printing and Compare Bills, being chairman of the last-named committee. He is a forcible and logical talker, but is rarely heard on the floor of the House except when the interests of his constituents are at stake. In committees he is a tireless worker, always on the side of the people. He is a quiet and unassuming gentleman with hosts of friends who admire him for his straight forward, manly course.

THOMAS McCLELLAND PATTERSON was elected to the legislature of Pennsylvania for the first time in 1891. This above record is from the Pennsylvania Manual--an official publication of the state of Pennsylvania.
