INTERESTING PATRIOTIC MEETING

LADIES' AUXILIARY TO BE FORMED---SOME DATA CONCERNING THE G. A. R. AND VETERANS OF OUR COMMUNITY

The meeting arranged by W. S. Bradley Camp, No. 96, Sons of Veterans and held in their rooms in the Washington National bank building last Friday evening, was a very enjoyable event.

The primary object of the meeting was to enthuse the ladies into organizing a Sons of Veterans Auxiliary. About eighty persons were present, including veterans, sons of veterans and ladies eligible to membership in the auxiliary. The meeting opened with the singing of "America," followed with prayer by Rev. R. H. McCartney, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. Rev. W. M. Hays, D. D., of the First Presbyterian church, then introduced the speaker of the evening—John E. Sauters, Commander-in-Chief of the Sons of Veterans. Mr. Sauters made an excellent address, paying tribute to the veterans and showing the importance of such organizations as the Sons of Veterans and the Auxiliary. H. B. McMurray, commander of Captain Samuel Campbell Post, No. 286, G. A. R., one of the few veterans able to be present, played a few notes on "the instrument with which Samson slew the Phillistines." Commander McMurray's extemporaneous speech was well received, and all were sorry that there were not a few more stanzas. Refreshments were served, consisting of sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake, and the remainder of the evening was passed in a social way.

We believe that every one of the more than forty ladies present signified a desire to unite with the Auxiliary, and this number will be considerably increased by those who could not be present Friday night. No further action was taken in the matter of organization, but a meeting will be announced later for this purpose. In this connection it may again be stated that all wives, daughters, granddaughters and nieces of veterans and wives of Sons of Veterans are eligible and invited to become members.

As showing how rapidly the veterans are falling from the ranks, we present a little data concerning the local G. A. R. post. Of the ninety persons who have been members of this organization only twenty are now living. Nine of the survivors live in Burgettstown, but of this number only four were able to attend the meeting Friday night, the others being kept at home by sickness or disability. The complete membership follows:

The survivors are H. B. McMurray, J. W. Pry, James Carnahan, S. B. Lyon, W. W. Lathen, Richard Hill, Carson Malone, D. M. Pry and Harvey J. Thorpe, all of Burgettstown; Robt. W. Criswell and O. K. Simpson, of Florence; John McCalmont, of Bulger; James Worstell, of Canonsburg; J. P. Donnan, of Steubenville; S. T. McFarland, of Berwyn, Ill.; W. M. Rea, of Hickory; George Kimberly, of McDonald; Chas. R. Briceland, of Oardale; W. Sinclair, of Florida, and Isaac Green, of Frankfort.

Aside from those mentioned there are three veterans living in Burgettstown who have never been members of the local post. They are Robert J. Culley, of the 22d Pa. Cav. (Ringgold); B. F. McClore, of the 100th, and Alexander Bowser, of the 154th Pennsylvania Volunteers.

Attorney Bishop Crumrine, aged 73, a brother of Attorney Boyd Crumrine, nestor of the Washington county bar, is dead at Topeka, Kan. He was born and reared in this county, and was a student in old Jefferson College, in Canonsburg, at the outbreak of the Civil war. He enlisted with the Sixth Battalion, Pennsylvania Heavy Artillery, and served throughout the war. Then he was admitted to the Washington county bar. Later he removed to Kansas. Two daughters survive.

DEATH ROLL

EVELYN RICHEY

Evelyn Rovine Richey, three-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Richey, died Wednesday morning, March 4, 1914. Funeral services were held Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by Rev. R. H. McCartney, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church.

JOHN T. LEWIS

McDonald, March 8.—John T. Lewis, aged 20 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lewis, died at the home of the parents one-half mile south of McDonald yesterday morning after an illness of a few days due to an attack of pneumonia. He was employed at the Crescent bottle works.

JOSEPH FIELDING

McDonald, March 8.—Joseph Fielding, aged 81 years, one of the oldest and best known miners in this section, died last night at the home of his son, Edward Fielding, in John's avenue. He was first mine boss in the Midway Block Coal company workings, opened about 40 years ago and for 25 years held a similar position in the Briar Hill mine here.

JOSEPH G. CHARLTON

Joseph G. Charlton was found dead in bed at his home in Canonsburg on Saturday morning, March 7th. Mr. Charlton had not been in good health, but was going about as usual and had served as a jurymen at the present term of court. He was 67 years of age, and was one of the best-known newspaper men in the county, having been editor of the Canonsburg Herald for a number of years.

MRS. GEORGE J. GRAHAM

The death of Mrs. Lovenia Graham wife of George J. Graham and a native and former resident of Washington county occurred Friday evening at 7:20 at her home in Smithfield, O., following an illness of some duration of Bright's disease. She was aged 64 years. Mrs. Graham, who was a daughter of the late John F. Christie, was born in West Middletown, where she spent her early life. She was united in marriage with Mr. Graham many years ago. No children were born to them. Mrs. Graham was one of the nine children, only one of whom survives, James Christie of Washington.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES GLASS

Mr. and Mrs. James Glass, of Burgettstown, quietly celebrated the fifty-third anniversary of their marriage at their home on Center avenue on Saturday, March 7th. Mr. and Mrs. Glass, nee Nancy Williamson, were united in marriage at the home of the bride in Brooke county, W. Va., March 7, 1861, by Rev. J. C. Campbell, who was then the pastor of the United Presbyterian church at Paris. They have lived in this community ever since their marriage and have been residents of Burgettstown for the past seventeen years. Ten children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Glass, eight of whom are living.

ROBERT CAMPBELL

Paris, March 9.—The sudden death of Robert Campbell which occurred at his home a week ago came as a shock to all the friends and neighbors as his illness was not considered serious. He had been very poorly since the holidays, but was able to be around in his room the greater part of the time on Thursday. Mr. Campbell had seemed better than usual and talked cheerfully to a number of neighbors. At 3 o'clock Friday morning he complained of being short of breath and got up. His death occurred the minute he sat down on the chair. Death was due to uremic poisoning. A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Campbell, Robert Campbell was born and reared on the Campbell farm two miles west of this village in West Virginia and until he retired from active life, 13 years ago, and moved to this village. He followed farming. Eighteen years ago he was united in marriage with Miss Ella Hunter, of this place. Mr. Campbell was a lifelong member of the Presbyterian church and was an active member. At the time of his death he was an elder. In politics he was a Republican. Had he lived until March 1 Mr. Campbell would have been 69 years of age. Besides his wife he is survived by the following brothers: Frank Campbell, an attorney of Washington, D. C. Dr. Oscar Campbell, of Cleveland, O.; Rev. Howard Campbell, of New Philadelphia, O.; Willard Campbell, a professor in a government college for Indians in California, and one sister, Mrs. John Hindman, of Philadelphia. Funeral services were held on Monday conducted by the pastor, Rev. C. G. Allen. Interment in Three Springs cemetery near Hollidays Cove, W. Va.

MRS. RACHEL WESTLAKE

Independence, March 9.—The death of Mrs. Rachel Westlake, a native and former resident of this place occurred at the home of her daughter in Wellsburg last night following a stroke of paralysis. She was aged about 58 years. The body will be brought to Independence Tuesday and funeral services will be held from the M. E. church of this place at 1 o'clock. The interment will be at Independence. Mrs. Westlake was the widow of Cree Westlake, who died suddenly August 30, 1907. She was born in this section being a daughter of the late Robert and Elizabeth Lee Baker. Early in life she was united in marriage to Mr. Westlake. After his death Mrs. Westlake left here and had since resided with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Cheek, of Wellsburg. Two children survive her. They are: Mrs. Cheek and Mrs. Bert Brierly, both of Wellsburg. Thomas A. Baker, of this place, is the only surviving brother.

Facts on the Bond Issue

To build or not to build—that's the question for the people to decide at the March 21st election.

Much has been said in regard to the increase of taxes that the proposed new school building will bring upon the taxpayers of Burgettstown. Now we would like to present a few facts for our taxpayers to consider. First, our school board is placed in a very hard position. We are now receiving from outside tuition approximately $1750.00, which means about three mills on our valuation. Should we be compelled to use the old building as we now have it, it will necessitate our keeping all outside pupils out so we will be able to make room for our own scholars, thus compelling us to increase our millage to 13 mills, for our expense of running the school will be the same as if we admit the outside pupils. For your consideration we submit the following facts; they are not "hot air," but solid facts as they stand before us:

PRESENT SYSTEM

Tax available at 10 mills.....	$6370 00
State appropriation.....	1700 00

EXPENDITURES

Teachers and Janitors for nine months.....	$6490 00
Current expenses as shown by last audit.....	1770 00
One bond to pay.....	1000 00
Interest on bonds.....	270 00
	$9530 00

WITH NEW BUILDING, ON A BOND ISSUE OF $35,000.00

Tax available.....	$6370 00
State appropriation.....	1700 00
Outside tuition.....	3000 00

EXPENDITURES

Teachers and Janitors.....	7007 00
Current expenses.....	1700 00
One bond to pay.....	1000 00
Int. on all bonds.....	1845 00

Deficit with new building $482.

You will readily see that we will have a nice balance of $978.00 in favor of the new building. Besides we are paying for the new building, while if we continue as we are for the next twenty-five years we will have nothing but our old building while our taxes will be more than enough to have the new building.
School Director

He Favors the Bond Issue

I favor the bond issue in general terms.

1st—Because we need more room and a better equipment to take care of our own borough children.

2nd—Because the State law compels us to do this, and specifies the manner of construction and equipment.

3rd—Because it is the only method of obtaining a sum sufficient to finance our growing needs, and very properly places this burden upon the coming generation.

4th—Because Burgettstown "is on the map" to stay. It is no longer a hamlet, a mere place to die; it is a place to live, a factor in the industrial world. Its future growth is beyond question. Greatness has been thrust upon us. That we will rise to the demands of this new and better life is equally certain.

5th—Because the Board of Education asks it after having made a careful survey of the subject for a period exceeding twelve months, and are unanimous in their conclusions. A directorate better qualified to deal with such matters would be difficult to find. A canvass of its members convinced me of their honesty of purpose and ability to spend the sum asked wisely.

6th—Because it won't pay to build a mere temporary makeshift. $20,000 is not enough to erect and equip a school building in the manner required by the school law. The code requires fire-proof materials, fire escapes, etc. A prison sentence awaits the directors if they fail to meet these requirements. Such is law and justice if disaster overtakes us.

Parents shudder with sympathetic grief at even the mention of the fire in the Collingwood school where three hundred children and several teachers perished because the directors failed to obey the law or even the common instincts of humanity. It is the principal item cost in the construction work in the proposed new building and nothing can be too good for such worthy purpose.

Citizens and parents, shall we endorse a miserly policy when safeguarding a child's life is an issue? The directors should be commended and sustained in their efforts to provide a commodious and fire-proof structure.

If YOU think so, GET BUSY; the bond issue is in grave danger of defeat.

Bill Dit

"Believe Me"

If the panacea that Judge Irwin prescribed as a remedy for the afflictions which have prevailed among the celebrated "blind man's brigade" is not bringing better results in other districts than it is in and about Burgettstown, it is up to Mr. Irwin to change his dope. Booze joints are flourishing like a green bay tree, and pandemonium reigns supreme; shooting and cutting a specialty, with a written guarantee. How does this reputation sound for a community which claims to be law abiding. We are living in an age in which it would seem unwise to think anything impossible, but if there is such a thing as an impossibility it is a remedy for the restoration of vision for our dear blind brigade. What seems so strange about this malady is that it has become epidemic among the brigade and doesn't exist elsewhere. Perhaps this is the reason they make the kind of returns they do every three months at the county seat. They seem to think since they lost their eyesight that when the scriptures were revised it changed the conditions regarding Ananias and Sapphira. Dear blind brigade, have some one read a few verses of the 6th chapter of the Acts to you, and then meditate, and weep and howl for the misery that shall come upon you for your false returns. L.

Mr. Vance has bought a small farm of twenty-five or thirty acres one and one-half miles out from Mercer and will engage in the gardening business. He recently sold his property here to his brother, T. W. Vance, of Steubenville.

A Live Corpse

One day last week a section gang picked up the body of a man who had been struck by a train near Dinsmore, and after notifying the company of their find and receiving instructions to send it to the corner at McDonald, they loaded it on train No. 52. After the body was in the car the baggagemaster proceeded to some other work, and on looking around a little later discovered the "corpse" raised up on one of his elbows taking in his surroundings with evident interest. The baggagemaster told him to lie down—that he was dead, but the fellow insisted that he wasn't and put up such a strong argument that the agent was forced to believe him, and instead of turning him over to the coroner he notified Dr. Russell, of Midway, who gave him attention and then had him placed in a hospital, where it is said he will recover.

He was a foreigner, about seventeen years of age, and was struck by one train while attempting to board another for the purpose of stealing a ride.

New England Supper

The Ladies' Aid society of Westminster Presbyterian church will give a New England Supper in the church Friday evening, March 27th:

We received to-day a shipment of one Baldwin piano, style 306, mahogany, and one Baldwin player-piano, style 441, mahogany. In the past 15 years we have placed a number of these Baldwin pianos in the best homes of Burgettstown and vicinity. Fifteen years ago we sold one each to William Creighton and David McBride. Doesn't this look well for a piano? These pianos are as fine as money can buy. Sold, not on account of moving, or bluff, or some peculiar circumstance, but sold on merit and honest pianos. The price, too, is in keeping with the quality. We invite you to call and inspect these goods before buying.

Very truly,

Sparing the Rod

Principal George R. Norris, of the Burgettstown schools, recently made an address at a township institute near the county seat, and awoke next morning to find himself famous. Mr. Norris spoke against corporal punishment in the schools. Since then most of the county papers have commended him for the stand he has taken, and on Friday the Gazette-Times came out with his picture and the following remarks:

George R. Norris, principal of the Burgettstown public schools, has created a sensation among the teachers of Washington county by his public statement denouncing corporal punishment. This is the first time that any local teacher has had the temerity to come out openly to oppose the use of the rod.

Norris not only denounces the corporal punishment method of control but he goes farther and shows by concrete examples from his own school how much can be gained by moral suasion. At the beginning of the present school year he and his teachers decided to do away with corporal punishments as an experiment. Now Principal Norris declares the teachers find they are having better order than ever before. Principal Norris cited definite cases of supposedly bad boys in whom a great change for the better has been wrought by the new system.

Some of the articles would lead one to infer that Principal Norris has entirely done away with corporal punishment. This is not quite true. What Mr. Norris said was that at the beginning of the term it was agreed that the teachers were not to inflict corporal punishment, and this agreement has been rigidly carried out. The professor is opposed to it, but he feels yet that there are extreme cases when no other remedy will quite bring the answer. He holds that those cases are very, very rare and that such punishment might well be prohibited by law. From reports which we have received we believe our schools are better disciplined than ever before, and during the seven months of the present term he has applied the paddle to not more than a half-dozen pupils. In our school days no one thought the teacher was earning his salary if he didn't go the rounds two or three times a week. In our neighboring schools of McDonald twenty cases of corporal punishment were reported for last month. We know the Burgettstown schools are better disciplined than those which we attended, and we have an idea that they would not suffer any in comparison with those of McDonald.

CRIBBED WITTICISMS

It may be better to be right than to be president, but the salary is smaller.

Generally speaking, the gentleman who has just accepted a position is not a bit happier about it than the man who has just got a job.

There are few disappointments in life equal to that experienced by a man who thinks he is going to sneeze and suddenly discovers that he can't.

A New Yorker shot at his wife, but the bullet hit nothing but her store hair. It is very hard to get at the exact boundaries of a woman nowadays.

The most successful dentist must expect to run against a snag occasionally.

When a woman promenades the street leading a dog it looks as though she couldn't get anything else on the string.

A Kansas newspaper man wrote a communication to a rival editor calling him an ass, and then signed it "yours fraternally."

A widow is like a baby, because it cries for the first six months, begins to notice in the next six months, and it is hard work for it to get through the second summer.

There isn't anything we know that someone didn't have to burn his fingers to find out.

An Ohio man claims to have a wife who doesn't ask him for money. He neglects to say whether the old lady has been speechless from birth or whether she simply holds him down and goes through his wallet without wasting breath.

Don't judge by appearances. A shabby old coat may contain an editor while the man wearing a high plug hat and supporting a cane may be a delinquent subscriber.

Sunday in New York

Rev. William A. Sunday made his first public appearance in New York one day last week. He spoke in Carnegie Hall under the auspices of the evangelistic committee. The hall was crowded to almost double its capacity and Fifty seventh street was jammed from curb to curb. Clothing was torn, hats lost, and there was such jostling and crushing that the reserves had to be called out to preserve some sort of order. Sunday said:

"When I started to preach, friends, I got a dictionary and strung together a lot of big words that'd keep a Greek professor's jaw a-squeaking for a week—and my sermon didn't get over the plate. I fanned.

"I thought it over for awhile and then I said: 'Oh, Lord, I've had it doped out all wrong. The devil's the guy I'm after, and I can't get him with big words.' So I loaded the old oratorical gun with rock salt, red pepper, ipecac, acconia, salt-petre, tacks, dynamite and barbed wire, and I let fly. And when I let fly the devil took it on the run; and every time I shoot that charge now he's looking for a hole."

Again he said: "The whole world is going to hell so fast that it is breaking all speed limits. If you would only stand up and profess Christ, and say, 'Thy will, not my will be done,' the demons would bank their fires, hell would be for rent, and the devil would be in the hospital by the Fourth of July."

Agriculture in Public Schools

The committee appointed by the school directors association to formulate plans towards having agriculture taught in the public schools of Washington county will meet in the Board of Trade rooms Saturday morning at 10 o'clock to discuss further plans than have already been proposed. The committee sometime ago held a meeting and proposed plans and this meeting next Saturday will be to get further expression on the work.

S. V. Kimberland, of Burgettstown, is a member of the committee.

The school board meeting Monday night, to which the citizens were invited to talk over the proposed bond issue, was not a howling success from the viewpoint of the directors. Only about fifteen persons responded to the invitation, and no arguments were presented either for or against the question. Guess the board will have to wait till the 21st to know what the citizens really do think of it.

Among the Churches

[This page is open to the Burgettstown churches. Under this head we will print any announcement that the pastor or congregation wishes to bring before the people. We hope to make it one of the most interesting departments of The Call, where each member of the different congregations can learn what is going on in their church. Announcements may be handed to your pastor or directly to The Call. Announcements of festivals, entertainments, or anything for pay, will not be received in this column, but will be welcomed at the usual rates for such advertising.—EDITOR.]

Editor Call.

I see by last week's Call that our old friend, Earl Caldwell, of Hanover township, has a flock of 38 rose comb Rhode Island red pullets that laid 558 eggs from January 1st to March 1st, 1914. Now we have a flock of 23 White Rock pullets that laid 606 eggs from January 1st to March 1st, 1914.

We are not boasting that White Rocks are better layers than Rhode Island reds, nor that we gave them better attention, but conclude it is the high cost of feed in Emsworth compared with Hanover township, that makes them lay better.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION

For Increase of Indebtedness of the School District of the Borough of Burgettstown, Washington County, Pennsylvania

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN to the electors of the Borough of Burgettstown, in the County of Washington and State of Pennsylvania, that in pursuance of a resolution of the Board of School Directors in and for the School District of the said Borough of Burgettstown, entitled:

"A resolution signifying the desire of the Board of School Directors in the School District of the Borough of Burgettstown to increase the indebtedness thereof in the sum of $35,000.00, for the purpose of raising a fund to pay the cost and expense of erecting, constructing and properly furnishing and equipping a school building and purchasing or acquiring proper sites or grounds therefor, at a total cost not to exceed the sum of $35,000.00 and authorizing and directing that a public election be held in said Borough for the purpose of obtaining the assent of the electors thereto to such increase of indebtedness in the sum and for the purposes set forth; and any and all matters relating thereto."

Approved by the Board of School Directors in and for the School District of said Borough on the ninth day of February, A. D. 1914.

A Special and Public Election will be held on Saturday, the 21st Day of March, A. D. 1914, between the hours of 7:00 A. M. and 7:00 P. M., by the regularly qualified election officers of said Borough of Burgettstown, at the usual place for holding municipal elections in said Borough of Burgettstown, for the purpose of obtaining the assent of the electors of said Borough to an increase of its indebtedness for the purpose and in the amount hereinafter set forth.

In compliance with the Acts of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania regulating such matters, the following statement is made: The amount of the last assessed valuation of the Borough of Burgettstown is Six Hundred and Thirty Seven Thousand, Two Hundred and Ten ($637,210.00) Dollars. The total amount of the bonded debt of the School District of said Borough is Six Thousand ($6,000.00) Dollars. The total floating indebtedness of said Borough is One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars. The amount and percentage of the proposed increase and the purpose for which the indebtedness is to be increased are as follows:

FOR THE PURPOSE OF RAISING A FUND TO PAY THE COST AND EXPENSE OF ERECTING, CONSTRUCTING, EQUIPPING AND FURNISHING A SCHOOL BUILDING AND PURCHASING OR ACQUIRING PROPER SITES OR GROUNDS THEREFOR.....$35,000 00

WHICH IS AN INCREASE OF.....5.49% plus

The above matters will be submitted to the electors at the time and place heretofore stated, in such a manner that each and every qualified elector of said School District of the Borough of Burgettstown, in the County of Washington, State of Pennsylvania, shall have the opportunity to vote for or against the proposed increase in the indebtedness of said School District.

BY ORDER OF THE SCHOOL BOARD.
R. H. MCCARTNEY,
President.
R. C. CASSIDY,
Secretary.

Farwell for Candor Couple

Candor, March 4.—On last Thursday evening the citizens of the entire community surrounding his home swarmed in upon J. C. McCalmont. They came early and stayed late and all thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The surprise was not one of the usual brand in which everybody concerned knows all about it days ahead but was in reality a surprise. Mr. and Mrs. McCalmont are moving to Houston where they will make their future home and this assembly was a spontaneous expression of the universal esteem and high regard in which the community holds this worthy couple.

John McCalmont is 74 years of age and was born and reared on the farm adjoining that which he now leaves. He has been a lifelong member of the Center United Presbyterian congregation. He served his country in Company K, 140th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry. More than half a century a Republican he now votes the Washington party ticket. He has more than a local reputation as a successful breeder of of high class Holstein cattle.

Mrs. McCalmont was Minnie Henderson, of Houston, and they have been married 27 years. Mrs. McCalmont has been presiding officer of the Woman's Missionary society for eight years and a much loved teacher in the Sunday school for a much longer period.

The Untamable Tongue

REV. R. H. McCARTNEY

James 3:8.

Sermon preached at the union services in the First Presbyterian church Sabbath evening, March 15, 1914.

A particular place was assigned to the Apostle James in the development of Christian truth. It was the office of the Apostle Paul to proclaim Faith as the most active principle in the heart of man. It was the office of the Apostle John to declare to the world that "God is Love." It was the office of the Apostle James to assert the necessity of moral rectitude; he protested against jangling amongst the different religious sects, saying, "If any man among you seem to be religious, and bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain." He protested against showing deference to the rich and despising the poor, saying, "If you have respect of persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors." He protested against that sentimental fatalism which induced men to blame their sins on God, saying, "Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God, for God cannot be tempted, neither tempteth he any man." He protested against that system of automatic absorption which consists in abstaining from works connected with the progress of the Kingdom, saying, "Be ye doers of the Word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves." In short, James pleads for reality in religion, not sentiment and theory.

What is the position of the Apostle with reference to the tongue? It is this: There is no power so destructive; it is small like the bit in the horse's mouth like the rudder of a ship, and like these it is capable of doing great things. It defiles the whole body of its possessor and then casts destruction far and wide. It is untamable. It combines the ferocity of the tiger, the mockery of the ape, and the subtlety of the serpent and cannot be trusted. This is the Apostles position, and this he guards with two reasons—it is evil and it is poison, and these reasons he seconds; an UNRULY evil and a DEADLY poison.

Now what is the office of the tongue? It is the most majestic member of the body. It carries imperial speech. It is one of God's best gifts to man. It gives him pre-eminence over the other animals. It was to man's tongue that the Lord gave license to call all other animals before him and to give them names, and from then until now it has been a powerful factor to beget in other animal natures admiration and respect for man. Man alone speaks. A parrot may be taught to imitate sounds with a measure of genius, spirits sometimes assume aerial voices, as the serpent did in the garden, but man alone has the power of habitual speech. Language is his alone, all other animals are tongue-tied.

It is the instrument wherewith we disclose ourselves to others. With the tongue we converse with men, conveying to them the knowledge, practical, experimental and theoretical which otherwise must live and die pent up in ourselves and finally impoverish the world. With it we communicate our joys, which would be less happy suppressed than expressed. With it we unburden our griefs, pouring our sorrows into the bosoms of others. How many hearts would have broken, how many souls would have fallen crushed beneath the burdens of life but for the calling of help. With the tongue we celebrate the glory of God, infinite, eternal and unchangeable in being and attribute.

The tongue is a singular member. For the most part the other organs of the body are duplicated. We have two eyes, one to see our way, another with which to pity the distressed; we have two ears, one with which to hear instruction, another with which to harken; two hands, one with which to work for our own living, another with which to help others; two feet, one with which to go forth to our labor in the morning, another with which to frequent the congregation of the saints—but only one tongue, from which we conclude we are to hear and see twice as much as we tell and work twice as much as we talk.

But some are double tongued, as they are double hearted. They seem to think God made a mistake in creating them and instead of giving them two eyes, two ears, two hands and two feet he should have given them two tongues and two hearts. At any rate they use only one of these dual members and duplicate the singular. They have one eye to see the faults of others, not another to see their own; they have one ear to hear the plaintiff, not another to hear the defendant; they have one hand to smite and extort, not another to bind up and to give; they have one foot swift to enter forbidden paths, not another to enter the church. And so, like misshapen stigmatics, they go up and down through the world with one eye, one ear, one hand, one foot, and with two tongues and two hearts. I call your attention to some of the paradoxical uses of the tongue.

THE TONGUE OF THE LIAR

The devil is the father of liars. Whether you are a big liar or a little liar, a black liar or a white liar, an ecclesiastical liar or a political liar, a social liar or a commercial liar, you are a child of the devil. There are people to whom misrepresentation and prevarication are as natural as the infantile diseases. They have not learned that a straight story is the shortest distance between two points. The widespread sin of the commercial world is misrepresentation; it has become a part of the stock in trade. The old proverb, "Honesty is the best policy," has been outdistanced. Go to the sales stables and the proprietor will take an old spavined, wind-broken, ring-boned bunch of heaves, file down his teeth and polish them up, fill his hide with dope and pass him off as a three-year-old; he just dropped the cipher You can find illustrations in the philanthropic world. Some years ago John D. Rockefeller—and that name looks as if it might come from the same root as "rob a fellow"—gave to the University of Chicago a million dollars. We sing "Praise God from Whom all blessings flow," but the boys out there formed a chorus and sang, "Praise John from whose oil blessings flow." The papers announced the gift in glaring headlines, and in six weeks oil went up two cents on the gallon. Rockefeller only acted as agent; we refunded with interest.

Go into the religious world and you will find the apostles talking about false teachers who crept in unawares, denying Christ, denying the necessity of the atonement, denying every vital doctrine of the Christian faith. The same obtains even now. Men are not done denying Christ; they are not done preaching Unitarianism, supporting their claim by saying that such great men as Emerson, Longfellow, Hale and Taft embraced Unitarianism as their faith; and I want to add to this list the devil, for he is the founder. I don't care who a man is, nor what his name is, if he tramples the name of the Son of God under his unhalloved feet, making him an imposter and an illegitimate son of a Jewish peasant, and dies in impenitence, he will sink five hundred fathoms deep in hell. The world has one Saviour—the Eternal Son of God, and to teach any other is prevarication.

GOSSIPERS AND TALE-BEARERS

There is a class of poor, ignorant people in the world whose sole interest in life has narrowed down to gossiping and tale-bearing. They attain a marvelous proficiency; they could draw a Cum Laude diploma in the art any time. They know for facts things that never did exist and never will. There are gossipers in every community who are the sewerage system of the town; whatever is poured into their ears comes immediately out at their mouths with added stench. One went into a printing office once and while she was talking she unconsciously leaned against some wrapping paper which had mucilage on it. It stuck to her back. The printer noticed it but thought it so appropriate that he wouldn't say anything. The folks along the street noticed it, but they, too, thought it appropriate that they wouldn't say anything. When she came home she backed up to her husband and said, "The folks on the streets seemed to be laughing at me as I came along; is there anything on my back that oughtn't to be there?" And when he saw the wrapping paper on which was printed in large black letters the words, "Daily News," he said, "No, there is nothing there that ought not to be there."

They admit everybody's business into their brain but their own, and then like Jehu they hurry up and down to give their precious information to the world. No man ever had a worse neighbor, no church ever had a worse member, no town ever had a worse citizen. God never had a worse servant, the Devil never had a better agent. The Apostle says this class is characterized by littleness of mind.

BUSY BODIES AND SLANDERERS

Their tongues are set on fire of hell. They carry the fangs of the serpent, the spear of the murderer, and the blighting sirocco of the devil. They are cloven-footed traducers, who like the loathsome worm leaves their path marked with the filth of malice and the skum of falsehood. He was a philosopher who said that "The slanderer sinks so deep in the murky waters of infamy that if an angel were to take an Archimedian lever with heaven as a fulcrum, could not in a thousand years lift the slanderer to the level of a convict felon." Let me point out some of the contemptible features of the slanderer.

The first is his skulking cowardice.

He is always a coward. He is not man enough to stand out in the open. The meanest man in the New Testament is Judas; traitor that he was he went out into the daak to do his cowardly deed. The meanest man in the Old Testament is Shemi. David had befriended him and helped him. Then there came a day and a circumstance when David was in sorrow and trouble and when he went down into the valley of Kedron heavy hearted, bare footed and casting ashes upon his head the contemptible coward Shemi hid behind the bushes and threw mud at him. Be he Jew or Greek, he was a contemptible coward. No matter about his denominational affiliation, no matter whether he was a man or a woman he was a contemptible coward. It is to the honor of the apostle Paul that he withstood Peter face to face. The slanderer has a cowardly, subtle process of evasion. You can't get him, the police can't get him, the judge can't get him, the penitentiary can't get him.

The second contemptible feature of the slanderer is his utter disregard for the harm he does. A woman came to the priest, and her first confession was that she had slandered her neighbors. The priest filled her hands with thistle seeds and told her to go out and scatter them over the fields. She did so and came back. "Now," said the priest, "go out and gather up all those seeds." She said, "I can't," "I know you can't," said the priest, "neither can you gather up the evil words you spoke about your neighbors." Words are living things and once spoken can never be recalled. They will live long after you have perished from off the earth.

The third contemptible feature lies in the fact that slander is a sort of a "stop thief," to divert attention from the slanderer himself. It is a sort of a cuttle fish process of hiding self. Some time ago a thief broke a window to get some diamonds which the jeweler had on exhibition. As soon as the proprietor noticed it he ran out in the street crying "Stop the thief." The thief as he ran down the street took up the cry, "stop the thief," and eluded attention by taking up this cry. Nine times out of ten the slanderer is seeking to cover himself by slandering others, that his own hoofs and horns may not be seen. If the imps of hell ever assume tangible form it is that of the slanderer. Paul lays hold upon them and sets them down among the scoundrels and murderers. They soon run out. Very soon folks of a community come to know them, to hate and distrust them and they are tabooed.

DIFFICULTY OF TAMING THE TONGUE

Man with all this members needs taming, and all take to taming except the tongue. The eye is an unruly member. The roving eye of Eve spied the luscious fruit and we lost our all. But the eye can be tamed. Job made a covenant with his eyes that he would not look upon that which was evil. The ear is an unruly member; it is an instrument that the devil delights to play upon. But the ear can be tamed. Did not Mary sit at the feet of Jesus and hear him teach; Zacchius heard his voice and came down. The hand is an unruly member; it takes bread it never sweat for. There is the hand of extortion as was that of Ahab; there is the hand of bribery as that of Judas. But the hand can be tamed. Not by washing it in Pilate's basin, but in innocence, as David did—first in his own tears, then lest there was still stains there, he washed them in the fountain filled with blood, drawn from Immanuel's veins. The foot is an unruly member, it flees to Tarish when it is bound for Nineveh. But the foot can be tamed. Says the Psalmist, "I considered my ways and turned my foot unto thy testimonies."

Other creatures can be tamed. The shepherds' enemy, the sheep-devouring wolf, has been tamed. The lion, with its voice of thunder, has been tamed. The serpent, with its poison hidden beneath its fangs, has been tamed. Every kind of beasts and birds can and has been tamed of man; but the tongue can no man tame. It is an unruly evil and full of deadly poison. Out of the fullness of the heart the mouth speaketh. Man cannot tame the tongue, God can. He alone can change the heart and whatever the heart is, so is the tongue.

"Thy speech betrayeth thee." Are you a German? Your tongue will tell. Are you a Scotchman? Your tongue will tell. The countryman is known by the language he speaks. So is the heart known by the tongue. There are three kinds of languages spoken by men—celestial, spoken by men who are good; terrestrial, spoken by men of the world; infernal, spoken by men who are wicked. "Thy speech betrayeth thee." A bad heart, a bad tongue. A heart changed by the grace of God will give evidence of the fact in a tamed tongue.

Lincoln Bank Sues Marianna Borough

The Lincoln National bank of Avella, has filed a suit against the borough of Marianna to recover $2,5000, alleged due on a promissory note, dated at Marianna on October 2, 1913, and signed by J. R. Wilson, clerk, and T. N. Hough, burgess. It is averred that said note was duly presented for payment and payment duly demanded of the defendant, but payment thereof was refused and that the borough has continued to refuse to pay the note or any part thereof. In addition to the sum of $2,500, interest on the sum is claimed from October 2, 1913, and also $2.10 protest fees.

LANGELOTH'S NEW POSTMASTER

We believe it will be news to most of our readers that R. C. Cassidy, of Burgettstown, has been appointed postmaster for the new town of Langeloth. Mr. Cassidy received notice last Thursday of his appointment, but his innate modesty has kept him from noising it around. The Call got next to it just a little too late for mention in the last issue, and having one of his old daguerreotypes lying around the office deems it fitting and proper to make special mention in this issue, since no extra expense will be involved. A close observer will note that the picture is an old one, having been snapped before Mr. Cassidy had attained his second crop of luxuriant tresses; it is also larger than we would have preferred, but we guess it will answer the purpose.

Robert C. Cassidy (we have no idea what the "C." is for) is one of the very biggest men in Burgettstown—from the avoirdupois standpoint. He was born at a very early age at Patterson's Mills, and is said to have been a pretty child; but he soon outgrew it. He stayed on the farm until he had attained his growth, and then immigrated to Burgettstown. That was more than a quarter of a century ago. For ten years he was engaged in the grocery business here, and we have heard his friends boast that he had more sand than any man in town. Then his passion for handling big money got away with him, and he spent the next ten years behind the bars—of the Burgettstown National bank. To this day Mr. Cassidy holds that the present flourishing condition of that institution is due to his untiring efforts while there. At the expiration of the second ten years Mr. Cassidy conceived the notion of putting the Pittsburg Life Insurance company on an even more substantial footing, and enlisted as a supervisor of agents. To hear Robert tell about it he has been wonderfully successful; so far as we know the company neither denies or affirms the statement.

Oh, yes, we almost forgot to say that Mr. Cassidy has held quite a number of offices from time to time, and is still hanging on to some of them. For about ten years (that mystic ten again) he has been a member of our board of education (we understand he went in with a great deal of opposition and will probably go out without any.) He is also secretary of Richard Vaux Lodge, No. 454, F. & A. M., which office he has held for many years, and is treasurer of Burgettstown Lodge, No. 1145, I. O. O. F. He is a member of the Burgettstown grange, has attained the mysteries of the Grand Orient, and holds an appointment as notary public. In his youth he was baptized in the Presbyterian faith, but, as the little kid said, "it didn't seem to take."

On the whole, Cassidy isn't a bad sort of a fellow, and it's surprising how many friends he has. Every one of them, while congratulating him and commending the judgment of those who made the appointment, are wondering how he broke into a Democratic administration on a Republican and Bull Moose record.

Extract from a Personal Letter

I have wanted to write you about the paper you are getting out. I'm proud of it. A country paper, to be a success, must be a COUNTRY paper. In this day of the cable, wireless telegraph, etc., the up-to-date man gets his daily morning paper to keep abreast of the times, and then once a week the paper comes that he looks forward to—not for the world's events, but for the things that are happening in the home place of his boyhood. He looks at every paragraph for names of his old friends—even the ads are inspected, and the repair of the fence of "Uncle" Linn or a mention of the groundhog caught by "Chook" Bavington, which would seem funny in the Bingville Bugle, does not seem so in your home paper, for it's what you want. The paper that aspires to be a NEWS paper should not be a home paper. Keep it up, my boy, and knowing the class of people in Burgettstown and vicinity, I know you will succeed. The town will honor and respect the man who leaves the temptation to take on city airs as regards news, but who gives them the makeup, mechanical excellence, typographical perfection, fearless, helpful editorials and suggestions for civic improvement that are not excelled in the city, and then records the birth of the babes, the death of the old, and shares the joys and sorrows of the town. He is nearer the hearts of those who read his paper than any city editor living.

Affectionately,
Bert (R. H.) Cramer

BOND ISSUE WINS OUT

At the special election held Saturday to determine whether the indebtedness of the School district of the Borough of Burgettstown should be increased in the sum of $35,000 "for the purpose of raising a fund to erect, construct, furnish and equip a school building and purchase or acquire a site or grounds therefor," 154 persons voted in favor of the increase of indebtedness and 90 against it.

While the election passed off without disorder of any kind, the day was chock full of excitement. The question of the bond issue had been the chief topic of conversation by our citizens since it was first announced, and as the important day approached each faction became more active, and apparently more confident. The vote was one of the very heaviest ever polled in Burgettstown at any election, 247 electors entering the booth. Three of the ballots were spoiled in marking.

The school children and the Boy Scout organization were particularly active throughout the day, boosting for the new school house. All during the day they had banners floating and home-made posters tacked to buildings and telegraph poles asking votes for the bond issue. In the afternoon the boys paraded all over town, some with drums, others bearing banners inscribed "Vote for Education," "We Bear the Burden in the End," etc., and all shouting for the bond issue.

In the evening, after the results had been announced, the boys and girls were wildly joyful, and after another short parade they broke ranks and congregated 'neath "the old elm tree," shooting sky rockets, firing crackers, and sending up three big balloons.

Life and its Opportunities

Life is a gift of inestimable value, and fraught with interest which in their effect are as lasting as eternity. Life is given us for a grand purpose, the improvement of ourselves and helping to better the condition of our fellowmen. How important it is that we make proper use of our time and talents. Work and progress are the order of creation. Among the busy toilers in life's harvest fields there is no place for idlers; neither should we spend all our time digging in the earth after perishable riches. Man was formed for a nobler purpose. He lives for eternity, where silver will not be needed, where gold will be of no value. Yes, life is far too short and uncertain, the future too near and real, for us to risk all on the pursuit of earthly treasure. Opportunities for usefulness are many. Along every pathway in life are weary, toilworn pilgrims longing for a word of cheer, for a helping hand. Shall our lives be one of passiveness when the present calls so loud for action? Can we fold our hands in idleness, murmuring that there is nothing for us to do? Can we deny light and help to those who are adrift on life's stormy sea? They who have the brightest light

One Was Too Many

Opposition to the bond issue came from unexpected sources. Saturday an eight-year-old boy went to call upon his aunt.

"Well, Ed," said the aunt, "Have you voted yet?"

"I ain't going to vote," said the boy.

"Why, I thought you wanted a new school house," continued the aunt.

"Don't even want the one we've got," was the reply.

The Call is in receipt of a dandy nice little bouquet of orange blossoms from Miss Willa Cooke, of Riverside, California. They look good to us, and certainly they made a very agreeable change in the aroma of our office.

School Tax Figures

We have at hand statistics showing the tax levy of the different districts in Washington county having six rooms or over, which we publish merely as a matter of news. The first column gives the tax levy, the second the number of rooms in the school and the third the grade of the school:

Bentleyville.....	10.....	10.....	2
Burgettstown.....	8.....	10.....	1
California.....	12.....	11.....	*

Those in the third column marked (0) have no high school, those with (*) are not classified.

Elco and Stockdale, four rooms each and no high school, have levies of 7 and 14 mills respectively.

All the above figures are for tax for school purposes only.

To Form Ladies' Auxiliary

There will be a meeting of ladies in the Washington National bank building, second floor, Friday evening, March 27, to form a Sons of Veterans Auxiliary. As before announced, all wives, daughters, granddaughters and nieces of veterans are eligible to membership in this organization, and every eligible lady is invited and urged to be present. The membership fee is one dollar. If any one desiring to join cannot be present at the meeting Friday night they can leave their name and membership fee at Culley Bros. and still be enrolled as charter members.

Among the Churches

[This page is open to the Burgettstown churches. Under this head we will print any announcement that the pastor or congregation wishes to bring before the people. We hope to make it one of the most interesting departments of The Call, where each member of the different congregations can learn what is going on in their church. Announcements may be handed to your pastor or directly to The Call. Announcements of festivals, entertainments, or anything for pay, will not be received in this column, but will be welcomed at the usual rates for such advertising.—EDITOR.]

Miss Jeannette Denny was the guest of Mrs. Vena Cain on Saturday.

Clifford Work, of Pittsburg, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. James Work.

David Tucker, of Crosscreek, visited the first of the week with his grandfather, D. S. Tucker.

Charles Hanlin, of Canonsburg, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Hanlin.

Mrs. W. F. Nash, of Midway, returned to her home on Saturday after visiting her daughter, Mrs. H. A. Cook.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jackson were guests of Mrs. Nettie Arnold, of Kings Creek, on Sunday.

Mrs. Percy Littlecott and sons, Harry and Hanlin, of Toronto, O., returned to their home on Sunday after visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Hanlin.

Miss Winna Culley, of Burgettstown, R. D. 2, visited her grandmother, Mrs. Isabelle Ferguson, the latter part of the week.

Fire on the roof of the Presbyterian church on Sunday morning caused quite an excitement, but by the aid of the bucket brigade the blaze was soon extinguished and little damage was done.

Rev. C. E. Will preached an excellent sermon in the M. E. church on Sunday evening, which was the close of a two weeks revival.

Charles Lyons is on the sick list.

William M. Jackson, who is sick at the home of his brother, S. M. Jackson, does not improve very fast.

W. F. Reed was at Beaver on business last week.

Quite a crowd of young men, most of them from the country, and whose names are known, raised a row on the street at 11:30 on Saturday night by throwing of stones and shooting, which might have caused some serious accidents. Carrying concealed weapons is a very common thing here. It is scarcely safe to be on the streets at night any more. Is there no law to stop this kind of work? Think we need the state police.

Want Road Improved

A delegation of taxpayers waited on the county commissioners last Thursday in the interest of an improved road from near Crosscreek Village to Avella. This road was approved by the grand jury about two years ago. It connects with a piece of brick highway which was constructed from Atlasburg through Crosscreek Village with its terminus at the John S. Lee farm and a brick highway at Avella which was constructed by Independence township. The length of this road is four miles and the estimated cost $90,000.

The commissioners stated that the board had done nothing towards issuing bonds to build roads this year, and that they did not have money with which to build any except short pieces which could be built with the tax money at hand. They stated that they could issue bonds to the amount of $100,000 or more, but gave the delegation no other encouragement than that this road would be given due consideration along with others that are waiting to be improved.

The delegation included A. G. Leonard, J. R. Brown, John Lee, C. C. Cheesbrough, Louis McCreary, Frank Drake, F. J. Scouvert, Louis Rees, L. M. Irwin, Harry Lee, W. W. Weigmann, J. W. Gillespie, A. H. Shaff, S. C. Cunningham, William Pettit, Charles Saceola, G. W. Boles, W. A. Barnes, Joseph Ranft, W. C. McWilliams.

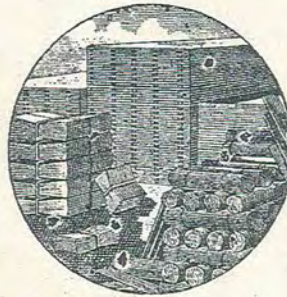

John Plaza, of Atlasburg, was given the usual sentence for violating the liquor laws. He was directed to pay the costs, a fine of $500 and to undergo imprisonment in the county jail for three months. His excuse was that he had been sick, unable to work, and taken this means to make money. Plaza's case was set for the last term of court, but he failed to appear. His recognizance was forfeited, and a motion is now pending to lift said forfeiture.

The eighth annual convention of the Washington County Supervisors association will be held in the public meeting room of the court house Wednesday, April 8th. The state has also arranged for a road meeting for Washington county for the same day, and the two meetings will be held jointly.

Walks Lengthen Life

McDonald, Dec. 16.—Walking—long walks and short walks winter and summer—just plain walking as a means of increasing long life and as the only health tonic that is effective, made it possible for Mrs. Ann (Campbell) Close, she declares, to celebrate her ninetieth birthday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. L. M. Deahl, in McDonald, several days ago.

Mrs. Close walks everywhere, she asserted today. She walks to church, and to visit friends. When she was living on a farm in Beaver county several years ago, she says it was her custom to walk many miles over the hills to town.

Last July Mrs. Close fell and injured her ankle. This disabled her to some extent, but still, she asserts, she will persist in walking.

Minister Breaks Leg

Rev. C. G. Allen, of Hollidays Cove, is suffering from a broken leg, which he sustained early Monday morning. Mr. Allen was to officiate at the funeral of A. E. McCabe, of Paris, Monday. After his preaching service Sabbath evening he retired to his study to prepare the funeral sermon and worked until two o'clock next morning. He then went to the stable to attend to his horse before going to rest, and in leaving the house received the fall which resulted so disastrously. The left leg was broken about midway between the ankle and knee. Rev. Mr. Allen has been pastor of the Presbyterian church at Paris for twenty-five or thirty years.

New Game Law

A new game law that should be passed by all States would contain the following:

Book agents may be shot between October 1 and September 1; Spring Poets from March 1 to June 1; Automobile Speed Demons from January 1 to January 1; Road Hogs from April 15 to April 15; Amateur Hunters from September 1 to February 1; War Talkers—no closed season; Any man who accepts a paper for two years and then, when the bill is presented, says 'I never ordered it,' may be killed on sight and shall be buried face downward in quicklime so as to destroy the germs and prevent the spread of the infection."

Indiana Man Named Clerk U. S. Court

Pittsburg, Dec. 20.—J. Wood Clark, a well known attorney of Indiana, Pa., was appointed clerk of the United States District Court. The appointment was made by Federal Judge Charles P. Orr and W. H. S. Thomson. Mr. Clark takes the place made vacant by the death of Col. William T. Lindsey, who died October 8, after having been connected with the office for over 30 years.

NOTICE

The Sons of Veterans Auxiliary will meet in the lodge room, Washington national bank building, Monday evening, December 28. Every member is requested to be present. Officers for the year are to be elected that night. Please do not forget the date, December 28. Mrs. O. G. Bryte, President.

The Magic of Christmas

It is a wonderful thing—the period of Christmas! I wonder how many hundreds of thousands of parents have discovered at Christmas time under the magic of the season—through some little thing done by son or daughter—that those they thought estranged from them by those things which come between still loved them with a memory more tender than they had dreamed of. I wonder how many sons and daughters have under the magic influence of Christmas had their hearts softened so as to be moved by some little manifestation of love by father or mother, which they would have thought little of, perhaps despised at any other season.—Charles Dickens.

For the Christmas Season

To live content with small means; to seek elegance rather than luxury and refinement rather than fashion; to think quietly, talk gently, act frankly; to bear all cheerfully, do all bravely, await occasion, hurry never—in a word, to let the spiritual, unbidden and unconscious grow up through the common—this is to be my symphony—Channing.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE DEPARTMENT

Edited by COUNTY PRESS COMMITTEE

Women Suffrage in California

California has now had woman suffrage for three years, and according to George Creel, writing in Everybody's Magazine, it has now taken its place with such accepted facts as meals, climate and babies. A journey from border to border failed utterly to disclose any male person who would admit that his home had been "broken up," while a search through the records proved that the women have not plunged into office-seeking. There can be no question however of women's political activity in this time, for it is generally agreed that a large number of laws are due to woman's vote and woman's insistence. These laws all emphasize the moral and humane. Gambling which has long been particularly vicious in California, has been dealt a death blow. One great victory, the "red-light" law, places the responsibility of disorderly houses upon the property owners instead of the wretched inmates.

This bill had been introduced before women's enfranchisement in 1911, and had been killed with "ease and dispatch." But after women got the vote that procedure was out of the question. The women's organizations, particularly the Federated Clubs, fought relentlessly for it, and in point of argument, facts, authorities and statistics made such a showing against the horror of the "necessary evil" theory, that, when Governor Johnson announced a public hearing, commercialized vice could not master one speaker.

It must not be overlooked that women are not in the majority in California, hence their position must have been backed up by male sentiment. Their minority also goes far to explain the failure at the recent election to carry the prohibition amendment, although there had been previous large gains in local option territory. California is a great wine producing state, consequently any such proposed enactment would meet with especially active and powerful opposition from the business interests concerned.

The charges of waste and extravagance have been absolutely disproved; even the most vicious of the reactionary papers have dropped that plaint.

In short Mr. Creel maintains that outside of the liquor and vice trades there isn't a man who will come out in the open with the declaration that woman suffrage ought to be repealed, but there are any number that do not like it. It is an antagonism without mental processes or expression springing from somewhere in the region of the pit of the stomach; and just as it is the result of years, so will years be required for its removal.

Celebrate Golden Wedding

Buffalo Village, Dec. 16.—Surrounded by their four sons, two grandchildren and many friends, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Hunter of this place today celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. A turkey dinner was served at noon to about 50 guests. During the afternoon many other persons called at the Hunter home to extend congratulation. During the evening the Bible Class of the Presbyterian church of which Mr. Hunter has been teacher for many years was entertained. The class presented Mr. Hunter with a handsome Bible.

Two persons were present who witnessed the ceremony a half century ago. They were J. Luther Davis, of this place and Mrs. R. S. Stewart of Washington. The Rev. John Eagleson, for many years pastor of the Buffalo Presbyterian church here performed the ceremony that united the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Hunter.

Mr. Hunter was born in Hopewell township March 4, 1837, son of William and Maria J. Chambers Hunter. On December 15, 1864, he was married to Elizabeth T. Smiley, daughter of Caldwell and Nancy Tweed Smiley.

Dead From Burns

Surviving his injuries but 12 hours Dr. Josiah Wesley Gain, assistant professor of mathematics at Washington and Jefferson college, died Friday evening at 6 o'clock at the Washington hospital. Death was directly due to shock sustained when about 6 o'clock that morning Mr. Gain was terribly burned, his bathrobe igniting at the open grate fire in his room.

Father and Sons in Court

A father and two sons were arrayed against each other in a suit on trial before Judge McIlvaine. Emanuel Cujus was the plaintiff and his sons, Oliver and Josie, defendants. The action was a dispute over the ownership of certain dairy stock and dairy equipment, etc., used jointly by the parties while living on the Conn farm in Hanover township and the Sterling farm in Smith township. The father caused an action a writ of replevin to be used on the cattle and other stuff and the sons came in and disputed the father's ownership to the goods claimed. A settlement was reached, and a verdict taken in which the value of goods in dispute was fixed at $3,150. If the sons pay this amount to their father the title to goods in dispute will remain in them.

Sues County for $8,000

Washington, Dec. 19.—Joseph Perrine, of Canonsburg today filed a suit against the county of Washington, in which he asks $8,000 damages for injuries he alleges he received when he stepped or fell into a hole in the road between Canonsburg and Houston, just west of Canonsburg, on June 22, 1913. He claims that his shoulder was injured and his arm and ankle sprained, which incapacitated him for work for quite a while. He claims the county was negligent and did not properly care for the road.

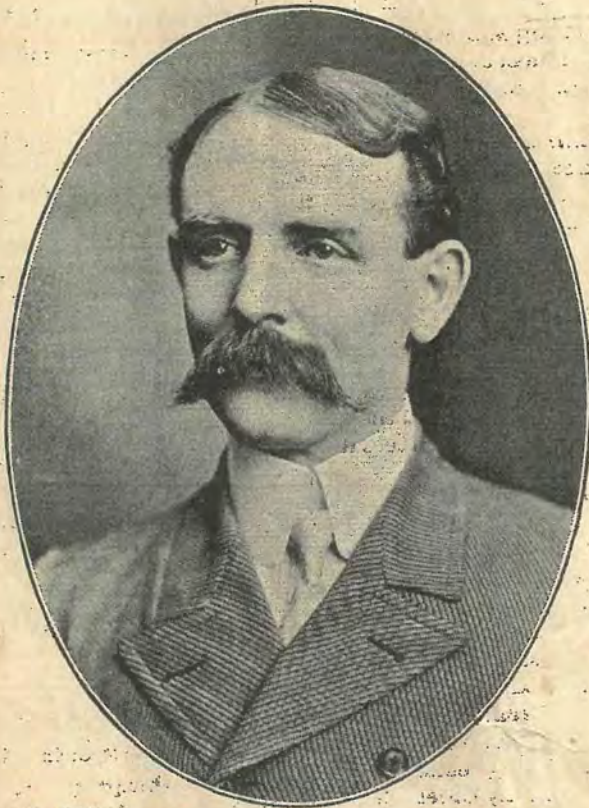

Assailant of Dr. Cramblet is Held

Bethany, W. Va., Dec. 16.—Harry Woods, a plastering contractor, who is in the county jail in connection with the shooting of Dr. T. E. Cramblet, president of Bethany college, last Friday, has received a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace P. K. Jacobs, and has been held for court under $2,000 bail.

Dr. Cramblet is rapidly improving, and the attending physician announces he is out of danger.

Will of Asher T. Campbell

The will of Asher T. Campbell, late of Midway, has been probated and letters issued in James W. and E. L. Campbell. His property goes to his wife. It consists of a house and lot in Robinson township.

ALVIN E. MCCABE

Alvin Ezra McCabe, one of the best-known and most highly respected citizens of this part of the county, died suddenly at his home in Paris on Friday morning, December 18, 1914, at nine o'clock, aged 54 years. He had not been in good health for some time, but his condition was not regarded as serious and his death came as a sad surprise to a host of friends. On Sunday before his death he was seized with a spell of heart trouble, but a neighbor was with him at the time and applied remedies which caused him to soon rally. On Friday morning he was stricken much in the same manner and sent for the neighbor. He came and again eased Mr. McCabe's condition, and urged that the doctor be sent for. Mr. McCabe insisted that it was not necessary, saying he was feeling much better, but he had hardly made the statement when he fell back in the chair dead.

Alvin E. McCabe was the son of William and Harriet Brooks McCabe, and was one of twelve children. William McCabe was engaged in the mercantile business in Burgettstown more than seventy years ago. Leaving Burgettstown in 1843 he conducted a store in Florence for two years, then went to Paris, where he was in business until his death. Alvin McCabe was born in Paris and after his father's death took charge of the store there, which, with the exception of two years spent in Burgettstown 1909-1911, he personally conducted until his own death.

Mr. McCabe was a Republican and was rather well known in county politics. In 1906, when local option was the big issue, he was a candidate for assembly, but was defeated by a small vote. He was again an unsuccessful candidate for that office in 1908. He always was identified with the progressive movements and was a leader among the best elements of his party.

Deceased was twice married. His first wife was Anna White, of Hanover township. His second wife was Katherine Shipley, of near Paris, who survives with one daughter. He is also survived by two brothers and one sister—James E. McCabe, of Washington, D. C.; Charles B. McCabe, of Washington state, and Mrs. Nellie Magill, of Des Moines, Iowa. John D. McCabe, a brother, died in Burgettstown on September 7, 1909, and two sisters—Mrs. Hannah Hartford and Mrs. Jane Baty—are deceased since that time.

Mr. McCabe was a member of the Paris Presbyterian church and was active in all church work. He had been made a member of the publicity committee of the Peacock evangelistic campaign. The funeral was held from the Paris Presbyterian church Monday at 11 a. m. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Allen, having fallen that morning and broken a leg, was unable to officiate and Rev. Mr. Deeds, the M. E. minister of Hollidays Cove, had charge. The interment was in Paris cemetery.

THOMAS PYLE

Thomas Pyle, a well-known resident of Smith township, died at his home near Raccoon on Saturday morning, December 19, 1914, aged 45 years. The cause of death was apoplexy. He had been in poor health for about six months and six weeks ago was compelled to give up his work as section foreman on the Panhandle railroad. However, he had not been confined to bed and until a few hours before his death there was nothing alarming in his condition.

Deceased was a son of the late George Pyle and Ackleson Pyle, and was born in Smith township, where he always lived. His wife, who was Miss Allie Hemphill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hemphill, of Burgettstown, survives him with eight children, the oldest of whom is twelve years and the youngest about eight months. He is also survived by his mother, who lives at Amsterdam, Ohio, and the following sisters: Annie, wife of David Carlisle, of New Brighton, Pa.; Laura, wife of Edward Stewart, of Toronto, Ohio, and Miss Georgie, of Amsterdam, Ohio. Deceased was a grandson of Mrs. Louise Pyle, and a nephew of Thomas H. Ackleson, W. A. Pyle and J. G. Pyle, all of Burgettstown.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Burgettstown and the pastor, Rev. W. M. Hays, D. D., conducted the funeral from his late residence on Friday afternoon at 1:30.

Robert G. McDonough, aged 72 years, died at his home in East Washington last Thursday morning. He had spent partially all his life in the mercantile business in Washington and at the time of his death was with the A. B. Caldwell company.

No Short Measure

Someone has circulated the report, maliciously or otherwise, that the inspector of weights and measures found the scales in my feed store wrong and that I was fined $100. I wish to deny this most emphatically. The inspector has never been in my store, and when he does come he will find with the many who deal here that I am not only giving FULL measure but the highest grade of goods to be had anywhere.

James Stiers

The After Effects of Our Dollar

Money is power. It not merely brings the comforts and pleasures of life, but it is influence and patronage. It builds up, and it tears down, according as its support is given or withheld.

It is the short sighted person who considers only the immediate results of his purchase on himself. He should consider also whether the after effects of his purchase are going to help him, or going to hurt him.

When a man buys an article in a home store, he gets two results. One is immediate and very tangible. He gets the satisfaction of the food he buys, and the comfort of the clothing he purchases. But is that all?

The purchase being made at home, a direct stimulus is given to his home interests. He is thereby helped to make a business friendship with the man of whom he bought the goods. If such purchases are continued, a dealer looks at him as a friend worth cultivating will take special pains to meet his needs, and guarantee him satisfaction.

The home dealer is made more prosperous by the home purchase. He can in turn help out some other home dealer. The dollar circulating at home increases home business, means more taxable property, more money in one's own town available for all public causes, more funds to employ labor here, general prosperity, and advance in the value of all property.

On the contrary, the dollar spent in some other town never comes back. It goes to build up some other and rival town, or often some great far away city. There are no after effects favorable to the buyer.

It would seem as if a spirit of self-interest, if not of local patriotism, and community spirit, should lead any intelligent person to spend money in such a way as to receive the additional benefit that comes from keeping money at home. H. M.

CAN YOU THINK of a gift that would be more appreciated by your son or daughter, brother or sister, who is away from home, or some friend who has gone to distant parts, than a subscription to THE BURGETTSTOWN CALL. It would go to them 52 times in the year, serving as a letter from you and telling them the many things about the home town that they want to know. For 75 cents you can make this gift and have the recipient's blessing each week during the year.

We have a beautiful gift card, printed in colors, which we will furnish you to mail direct, or we will mail it for you. The insert here merely shows you the message it bears and does not begin to do justice to the finished product, which is a four-page folder, a blank after the message for your name. Come in and see the card.

You can include our Big Magazine Offer or have the Magazines sent to YOUR address at 25c additional.

Generosity Pays

The Christmas season is always the occasion of a great deal of personal generosity. The amount of money given to needy people at the holiday season is much greater than is generally realized.

The willingness to help in this personal way, in such cases of destitution as are met in one's daily life, where the contribution will appear in no printed list of givers, is an acid test of character. It is a test that has been met with unusual frequency this winter, when the war and other causes have led to an unusual amount of unemployment and poverty.

The man who fails to do what may be considered his fair share in helping to care for the misfortune about him, is not always unsympathetic. He is too fearful of his own future. The darker portent of misfortune looms too large in his own mind. He would like to give, but he timidly looks over his own shoulder for the possible specter of destitution or disease. He feels that every dollar possible must be saved for his own bank deposit, which may be handsome already.

Another man's bank balance may be negligible or non-existent. He may even owe the grocer, and give the money that in justice should pay his tradesmen's accounts. But in any event, he is an optimist. The generous impulses of the heart are not blurred nor dulled by the cold paralysis of fear.

The second type of man rarely attains wealth. But his warm heart rarely lacks friends. Too many of us coldly calculate all the existing possibilities of evil when we hear of some case of need. Providing a few dollars for fuel or flour makes little differences in a man's income and savings, and this gift is forgotten when the year's account is made up. But it is not forgotten by the recipient. It may keep some discouraged life from absolute despair. The highest happiness of the Christmas season comes only with giving.

Everybody Celebrates It

There is a charm in Christmas. We have all read of the old miser Scrooge who was carried by three spirits on Christmas Day, as on the wings of the wind, and in all the strange transit the influence of the day was seen and heard. Not only on the streets of pome and pride but in the narrow huts on bleak moors, up and down in the mean, cold tenement houses, there was a glow and a heart of song. Among men digging and delving in the pit to force from old mother earth her riches, men transformed into the active pick, axe and spade, was a new breathing a day as the days of other men.

On shipboard, as the bark sped on the black and heaving sea, a Christmas tune was hummed, and every man on board, good or bad, had a kinder word and a kinder look for his fellows. And even in a solitary lighthouse, "built upon a dismal reef of sunken rocks, some leagues or so from shore, on which the waters chafed and dashed the wild year through," the solitary watchers, joining their horny hands over the rough table, wished each other a merry Christmas.

The way to make some people happy is not to send them any Christmas gifts, as that lets them out another year.

Better look to see if your insurance policies have run out before letting the five year olds light the candles on the Christmas tree.

The feeling prevails among the older generations that a tin trumpet that won't blow is just what the little darlings ought to have for Christmas.

For those who mean to include The Call in their list of Christmas presents we have a beautiful greeting and announcement card to go with it. Let us show it to you.

How We Get the News

Day before yesterday a perfectly nice lady called us up and with tears in her voice reproved us for not mentioning the fact that she had had a friend visiting her last week. We told her that she had not let us know anything about it and that therefore, we did not know she had a visitor. Then she said, "Well you should have known. I thought you were running a newspaper." Wouldn't that rattle your slats? Some people think that an editor ought to be a cross between Argus and Anna Eva Fay. They seem to think that our five senses are augmented by a sixth that lets us know everything that happens, even if we see, hear, feel, taste or smell it not. Dear lady, editors are only human or at least, almost human. If you have a friend visiting you, if you are going away, or have returned from a visit out of town, if Johnnie falls and breaks his arm, if your husband chops his toe instead of a stick of wood, if anything happens that makes you glad, or sad, happy or mad, call us up. Tell us about it. That's the way to get it in the paper.

A White Christmas

There is one way to make a white Christmas even though there may be not a flake of snow in sight. Let the whiteness be in the heart. Put aside all thoughts of guile. Forget all the big or little bitterness you may be entertaining against some other person. Cast out all envy, all covetousness, all unkindness. Endeavor to harbor in your heart only such thoughts and feelings as the Nazarene knew when he dwelt by Galilee. Cultivate human brotherhood. Practice Christian charity. Look beyond and above your workaday's horizon. Get out of yourself. Get into the heart of others.

The Coming Revival

Much progress has been made on the tabernacle the past week. On Tuesday about forty men and boys were on the job, and the ladies prepared and served refreshments for them in the First Presbyterian church. There was an abundance of eatables, and after the workman had been fed several baskets were filled and sent to needy families in the vicinity.

The tabernacle is nearing completion and within a very short time will be ready for the meetings, which open January third. To-day a number of men are putting on the finishing touches, building seat, etc.

Interest in the praymeetings is increasing. On account of Christmas falling on Friday there will be no prayermeeting that night, and we are unable at this time to give the meeting places for the following Tuesday night, but they will no doubt be announced from the different pulpits on Sabbath.

Since putting the above in type President Mrs. Cora Sutherland reports that the meeting her district will be at C. R. Cook's, she to be leader, and Mrs. W. R. Malone, president, announces the meeting for her district at Mrs. Otto's, with Charles Hamilton leader.

SUBJECTS

Dec. 29—"What May God Expect from Me in this Campaign." (Consecration Service). "Prayer." James 5: 16. "Personal Service;" John 1: 40-42. "Consecration; Attendance" Heb. 10: 25.

Jan. 1st, 1915—"What May I Expect from God." Acts 2: 4; Mal. 3: 10; Acts 3: 26.

Don't forget that the song books are on sale at W. E. McCurdy's and W. M. McMurray's and can be had for 25 cents, or 30 cents if sent by mail. Everyone will want one of these books and it will be well to secure it now and become familiar with the songs used in the meetings.

A Story With a Moral

On leaving for one of the cottage prayermeetings the other night one of our good citizens gathered up what he supposed was the new song book, stuck it under his arm and marched piously forth. Another member of the family seemed to think the book didn't look just right and making an investigation, discovered that it was his little granddaughter's "Mother Goose" rhymes. "Bub" was pretty hard to convince that he didn't have the real thing, but he finally yielded the point and accepted the revised version.

Another lady was even less fortunate. She did not discover that she had her grandson's second reader until she opened it for the first song.

Moral—Be sure you have one of the new song books, which are on sale at McCurdy's and McMurray's and then be sure you don't have something else when you start for the meetings.

TOWN PRAYERMEETING

Tabernacle to be Dedicated Sabbath Evening With Big Prayermeeting

As we go to press we learn that arrangements have been made to dedicate the tabernacle with a big town prayermeeting on Sabbath evening. The building will be completed by that time and in good shape, and the different churches will give up their evening service for this meeting. It is hoped to make it a memorable event, and everyone is urged to attend.

Send The Call to some friend for a Christmas present.

Listen, Daughter

Dad knows that Christmas is coming and so does your mother and your brothers and sisters. And we know just what will please you most. So, from present appearances, you are not to be disappointed. But you seem to have the wrong point of view about Christmas, honey, and I want to set you right. Christmas is the season for giving. Get that? The real happiness lies in planning what you are going to do for others and then doing it. The real Christmas spirit fills only those whose thoughts are upon the happiness they hope to bestow upon their friends and upon the unfortunates who think they have no friends. It's not so much what you give as to whom you give. There's a poor woman living around the corner. No one is thinking of what she would like for Christmas. She'd be the second happiest woman in town if you were to walk in on her early Christmas morning with a gift of something warm for her to wear. The happiest woman would be my little girl who brings it. There is old Black Jim, who shovels the snow and carries out the ashes. Never thought of him? Well think of him to the extent of a pair of warm mittens. Knit them yourself. Don't know how? Your mother will start you. It will be twice as much fun for you and old Jim's look of gratitude when you give them to him will repay you more than all the fine phrases of all the young squirts to whom you send neckties they wont wear and pincushions they wont use. Try Dad's prescription, Daughter, and you'll be the happiest girl in town Christmas day. You will find that it isn't getting what you want for Christmas that makes for real joy. You'll discover something. That's right. Start now.—Selected.

Christmas Candy and Children

Along with Santa Claus's other provisions is usually a generous store of sweets. No matter how many dolls and drums and other things may have been requested by the younger members of the family they take it for granted that there will be candy.

Much of the indigestion and consequent distress which follows the holiday feasting is due to the excessive use of candy by both young and old, says Samuel G. Dixon, commissioner of health. Of course the principal constituent of candy is sugar. Sugar is a food and one that is necessary to the human body. It produces heat and energy but when taken in excess it undergoes fermentation in the digestive tract and gives rise to various disturbances in the stomach and intestines. Not only this but it overburdens the liver with evil results.

If the children and grownups are to have candy it should be eaten with or immediately after the meals. The usual custom is to have sweets within everybody's reach and to stuff them between meals.

To properly carry on their functions the stomach and intestinal tract require a certain degree of rest. This is the reason that it is much better to eat at regular hours. When candy is eaten between meals it means that the digestive organs must be continually at work. As a result instead of exercising their functions during the usual portion of the twenty-four hours they are overworked and it is not surprising when they rebel from exhaustion, particularly on these feast days when the consumption of food is apt to be excessive.

Pure candies are not harmful if they are taken in reasonable quantities. Unfortunately there is an enormous amount of cheap candy sold throughout the country, which is grossly adulterated. Much of this is colored with coal tar dye to make it attractive to the eye of youth.

Following the holiday season there is always a notable increase in illness which are traceable to disturbances of the digestive system and there is likewise a perceptible increase in the mortality from these causes. There is little doubt but that the overfeeding and the excessive use of sweets which does not permit the rational rest of the digestive organs and so reduces the general resistance of the entire system, is the cause.

EVANGELIST PEACOCK

MUSICAL DIRECTOR WARTH

PIANIST DAVIDSON

THURSDAY NIGHT WAS LIVELY

One of the liveliest and most largely attended meetings of the campaign was that of Thursday evening, when the local W. C. T. U., the Burgettstown High school and a large delegation of Midway people were present. The tabernacle was completely filled.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union was out almost to a member. They carried two large banners with the inscriptions, "Working for Righteousness and Temperance Now" and "The W. C. T. U. for God, Home and Every Land." They presented Evangelist Peacock with a large bouquet of white carnations. In response to a request from Director Warth they sang "Pure White Ribbons."

The Midway delegation consisted of sixty or seventy-five men and women. They were given a chance to sing their favorite song, "God Will Take Care of You," and they did it splendidly. It sounded as though everyone of them were professional singers, and they made the tabernacle ring with the melody of this beautiful hymn. The one regrettable feature of the evening was that the Midway folks had to leave before the sermon to catch the train home.

One hundred and one students, three teachers, the music supervisor, Principal G. R. Norris and Janitor

Richard Hill made up the High School delegation. They carried two pennants—one with the letters, "W. C. T. U.," in honor of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the other with the letters "B. H. S."—and a large banner with the inscription, "Turkey for the Faculty, Goose for the Directors, but Peacock for the B. H. S." They had a splendid collection of cheers, which they let loose whenever an opportunity offered. Watson Farrar was cheer leader, and he was right on the job. The appearance and conduct of the High school students were remarked by both Director Warth and the evangelist, and was most pleasing to the large number of patrons there assembled. Director Warth said, "It's the liveliest High school that has ever visited us, and they have the tallest principal I ever saw." When called upon to sing they sang, "Crown Him King of Kings," with an earnestness and ability that was liberally applauded by the audience and highly praised by the director.

After an especially touching song by Mr. Warth, "My Mother's Prayers Have Followed Me," Evangelist Peacock stepped to the platform. The ladies of the W. C. T. U. gave the chautauqua salute and the students, to the tune of "What's the Matter With Father?" sang:

"What's the matter with Peacock?
He's all right.

What's the matter with Peacock?
He'll win the fight.

Though some folks knock and tell their jokes.

Don't you worry—he'll get the folks.

What's the matter with Peacock?
He's all right."

Evangelist Peacock welcomed the different delegations and expressed sorrow that the Midway people could not spend the entire evening with them. He also paid tribute to the W. C. T. U., saying he always felt that he had their prayers and sympathy in his fight against booze and for purity. Through your efforts and by your influence the men are awakened as never before, but old Pennsylvania will never go dry until you women get a chance to vote." He praised the High school for their large attendance, their good conduct and their excellent singing and said that the whole evangelistic part appreciated their visit to the tabernacle. The evangelist then preached one of the strongest sermons, taking as his text: "Seest thou a man diligent in his business? He shall stand before kings; he shall not stand before mean men."—Prov. 22: 29. He said that it is just as necessary to be diligent in the work of Christ as it is in business? God doesn't use a loafer either in the pulpit or the pew, and it is just as necessary for the man in the pew to be diligent as for the preacher in the pulpit. He criticised severely the lack of diligence in the church, saying that there were a lot of people in the church who were not worth the room they took up. When people say they haven't the ability to take up God's work, it means that they are too lazy. If some of you were as busy for Christ as you are for the devil you would be regular whirlwinds in God's kingdom. You women know that there is more in the W. C. T. U. than wearing a white ribbon, paying your dues and wearing a pious look; you have to get out and work and show your colors. He urged the High school students to be diligent not only in their studies, but in the work of the great Teacher—Christ.

FRIDAY NIGHT

Rev. J. B. Miller, of Amity, and Rev. Frank S. Brenneman, of Van Buren, were present at the Friday evening service. These two men were actively interested in the campaign held at Prosperity. Rev. Mr. Miller made the opening prayer, and Rev. Mr. Brenneman told of the great work accomplished by Evangelist Peacock in the Prosperity community and urged the church people here to rally to his support. He referred to Mr. Peacock as the best football tackle who ever played on a Westminster team and added that he knew of no one who was more able to buck the lines of the devil in Burgettstown.

Evangelist Peacock's text was, "Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted." Gal. 6: 1. He said this was a good test of Christianity. The Christian should be willing to help a fallen brother instead of pushing him further down. Christ's sympathy was always with the weaker brother. The nearer a man lives to God the greater sympathy he has for the mistakes of others. He closed with a strong plea for those who had grudges to make them up; to throw away their hammer and line up for God.

SATURDAY NIGHT

Saturday night was children's night, as far as music was concerned. The regular choir vacated their chairs for a children's choir of more than a hundred voices, and a delightful program was rendered. The meeting opened with two choruses, "When He Cometh to Make Up His Jewels" and "Praises to Our Lord and King." Then followed other numbers as follows: "I should Like to Have Been With Him Then," Verda Fleming; chorus, "The School Bell;" "In Our Childhood's Early Morning," Catherine Scott; "Bring Them In," Alice Bridgeman and Myrtle Pate; "Jesus Bids Me Shine," Velma Stewart; "Jesus Loves Me," Olive Batch; "The Church in the Wildwood,"

James Webster and Lester Norris; "Jesus Wants Me for a Sunbeam," Hilda Stewart. One of the most pleasing features was a duet, "Yes, Jesus Loves Me," by the two small children of William A. Otto—Rachel and Albert, aged three and four years. They brought down the tabernacle, and responded bravely to an encore.

After the audience had sung, "Brighten the Corner Where You Are," Rev. J. T. Young, who was present from Washington, led in prayer and Evangelist Peacock preached from the text:

"He that winneth souls is wise."—Prov. 11:30.

This sermon was a strong call to personal work. Without the aid of the Holy Spirit our greatest efforts will fail; with the Holy Spirit our weakest efforts will succeed. We have been preaching in the pulpit or teaching in the Sabbath school; let us go now and take them by the hand and lead them to Christ.

SUNDAY MORNING

Text, "He that dwelleth in the secret places of the most high shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty," Psalm 91: 1.

The theme of this discourse was that God takes care of those who dwell in the "secret places"—those who live close to Christ. God's spirit can keep you up in the mountain top every hour in the day and every day in the year, and if we permitted His spirit to take possession of us there wouldn't be a saloon or brewery in Washington county. The reason people fail in the Christian life—the reason they cannot pray and work for God, is because they have not dwelt in the secret places. There is a great deal more in the Christian life than being saved; the great thing is winning others.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Enthusiasm in the tabernacle meetings reached the high-water mark on Sunday afternoon. After the evangelist had preached a powerful sermon from Matt. 16:24, "If any man will come after me, let him take up his cross and follow me," he gave the first invitation, and as a result 194 persons hit the trail. Among the number were many church members who under the influence of Mr. Peacock's preaching had been convinced that they needed to reconsecrate themselves to God; some who had professed Christ in their youth, but had drifted away from the church, and a large number who for the first time lined up for Christ.

SUNDAY EVENING

In the evening the sermon was from Zech. 9:12, "Turn you to the stronghold, ye prisoners of hope," and at its close the second plea for trail hitters was made. At this service 146 persons responded, making a total of 340 persons for the day. Evangelist Peacock had worked hard all week, and at the close of the evening service he was almost exhausted, but he was extremely happy over the results.

This was the third Sunday of Mr. Peacock's work here, and the beginning of the third week. The attendance and interest has gone beyond the hopes of the most optimistic. At almost every service since the meetings opened the tabernacle has been comfortably filled, and on many occasions some have been compelled to stand. The collections as well as the attendance broke all records on Sunday, the offerings amounting to $245.61.

TUESDAY EVENING

Rev. G. W. Snodgrass announced from the pulpit that there were many cases of actual need in the community; that a couple of our business men had donated large quantities of shoes, and others some clothing, but that the supply was insufficient to reach all, and he made a special plea for clothing. He asked that persons having women's clothing to donate would leave it at Mrs. W. A. Purdy's, while men's clothing could be left at Rev. R. H. McCartney's. Evangelist Peacock followed with some remarks, expressing genuine sympathy for those who did not have enough to eat, or wear, and announced that a special offering—"not collection"—would be taken Friday evening for the benefit of the needy. He said, "Show me the man who actually needs them, and can wear them, and he can have all the clothes I've got, even to the suit I have on—and that's my best."

Mr. Peacock then announced that the expenses of the campaign had been met all but a little over one hundred dollars, and this would be realized hereafter through Sunday collections. No collections will be taken during the week, except an offering or two for the poor.

"I Am Ready," was the subject of the sermon. He said Paul was ready to serve, to suffer and die for Christ, though he used to be the worst enemy to His cause that ever lived; and the reason that Paul was an enemy to Christ was because Christ had been misrepresented to him. It was through the ear that Adam and Eve fell, and the reason we fall is because we listen to the voice of the devil instead of the voice of God. God has to punish some people before they can be brought to a realization of their danger and need. When Paul's spiritual sight was restored he surrendered everything to God, and that is why he was so wonderfully blessed.

In response to the invitation, 143 persons hit the trail.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT

"And as he (Paul) reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come, Felix trembled, and answered, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season I will call for thee."—Acts 24:25

It was a strong evangelistic sermon. No matter how low down a man or woman may get, he said, they never entirely lose the desire to be saved. The trouble is that we have some pet sin that we cling to, and that makes us wait for a "more convenient time" to hit the trail. No matter what you do you must know that you cannot get away from the judgment bar of God, and by using the same horse-sense that you would use in your business you would know that the thing to do is to prepare for it before it is too late.

At the conclusion of the sermon he extended the usual invitation, and 89 persons hit the trail, shook hands with Evangelist Peacock and declared that they accepted Christ as their personal Savior. This is in the four services in which an invitation has been extended.

It will take something over $100 more to meet the expenses of the campaign, but this will be realized from Sunday collections and no collections will be taken during the week unless for some special purpose. On Friday evening an offering will be taken for the poor of the community.

The tabernacle lumber was sold to D. J. Coulter for $400, which goes toward paying the expenses.

The Boy Scouts will have Friday night at the tabernacle.

SUNDAY ON PEACOCK

From a letter recently written by Evangelist William A. Sunday, we extract the following tribute to our evangelist, Rev. Luther K. Peacock:

"I cannot speak too highly of the work of Mr. Peacock during the three years he was associated with our party. You will find him a man's man, fearless in his attack against sin—a man who knows the Lord, and whom the Lord has blessed both in the pastorate and evangelistic work. It gives me great pleasure to send this word of appreciation after a close association with him for three years."

PEACOCK DARTS

God is no respecter of persons, and I'm glad of that. If he were he would have some of you blue-bloods who trotted around with George Washington conducting this campaign instead of a plain old Irishman like me.

If dollars could sing they would no doubt tune up, "I'm going home no more to roam," as they slide into some of your pockets.

It's time for you people to wake up on this booze business. If you don't care for yourself and others, then for God's sake have a care for your children and future generations.

A man doesn't buy booze, food, clothing and shoes at the same time.

Whiskey is no good even as a medicine. The only thing it will do is to send people to hell.

I don't put whiskey and tobacco on the same level, but you would be a better man without either.

If I were your wife and had to clean your spittoons I'd rub your nose in them.

If the Lord had meant for you to smoke he would have put a chimney in your head.

I pity with all my heart the man who can't see beyond the almighty dollar.

Too many people follow Christ for the loaves and fishes.

Some times you girls dance with a hellhound who would make a dark spot on a piece of tar paper.

No man on God's earth was ever so much lied about as W.A. Sunday; and the whiskey bunch is back of most lies circulated against him.

The thing for a man or woman to do is to try and see themselves as others see them, and as God sees them.

I was never in a campaign where money was raised more easily than in this one. You Burgettstown people are all right.

You are one day nearer the cemetery than you were yesterday—one day nearer heaven or one day nearer hell.

You will have to decide what you are going to do with Jesus Christ before you get to the cemetery.

I could never understand why some women pay $25 for a hat and then drop a penny in the collection basket Sunday.

All dead ones are not in the cemetery. Some of the spiritually dead are walking around with breeches on.

Politicians work harder to get votes than church members work to save souls.

The Gospel of Jesus Christ can lift a man up from the lowest depths of hell.

Neither Christ nor the disciples were afraid to denounce sin. Why should I be afraid to tell you that you'll go to hell if you don't turn from it.

Old Felix is an example of a good many people in Burgettstown, who have some pet sin that keeps them from hitting the trail.

I've noticed that no man makes goo-goo eyes at a girl unless there is some encouragement.

You can throw all the stones you please at your neighbors; that's not going to save your soul from hell.

Those kids down there understand what I'm talking about if you old Billy-goats don't.

God's not going to ask you whether some one else drank whiskey or water; you will answer for yourself only.

Public Installation of Officers

The officers of Silver Cliff Lodge, No. 300, Knight of Pythias, were installed Monday evening before one of the largest crowds of members of the order and their friends that ever assembled in the hall. The installing officer was L. L. Coombs, of Hickory. The Burgettstown orchestra furnished the music, and addresses were made by Benjamin Moore, of Bellevue, grand chancellor of the state; William Silvester, of Pittsburg, grand inner guard; Rev. W. M. Hays and Rev. R. H. McCartney, of Burgettstown. The hall and fixtures were handsomely decorated in red, white and blue. A very elaborated fried-chicken lunch was served, with ice cream, cake, etc. The following officers were installed: C. C., George Martin; V. C., George Algeo; M. of A., Oscar McGowan; prelate, Lawrence Cole; O. G., Lawrence Boyd; I. G., Frank Malone; M. of W., Fred Leopold.

Twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary

Surrounded by their family, friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Isiminger, of Hanover township, celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on Thursday evening, January 14. Supper was served. Music and games were the diversions of the evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Harry McMillan and daughter Evaline, Mrs. Rosie Market and daughter Romaine, Burns and Walton Isiminger, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Antil and children Minnie, John and Laura May, John Hall, C. F. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Fulton and children, Claire and Elizabeth, Mrs. Fleming McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fulton, Clara Long, Evaline and Nellie McDonald, Edna Strain, James Rankin, Lillie Fulton, Samuel Strain, Harry Crawford, Howard Fulton, Albert McDonald, Ollie Anchors.

DEATH ROLL

THOMAS LINDSEY

Thomas Lindsey, a well-known citizen of Burgettstown, died Sunday morning, January 17, 1915, at 10:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Mary Miller. Mr. Lindsey had been in poor health for the past two years but had been confined to bed less than two weeks. He was in the 81st year of his age.

Deceased was a son of James and Elizabeth Hunter Lindsey and was born in Noblestown on June 4, 1834. He had been a resident of Burgettstown for about fifty years, and during most of that time was engaged as a teamster. Mr. Lindsey was twice married. His first wife was Jane Clemenson, and the second Barbara Anderson, who died about 13 years ago.

Mr. Lindsey is survived by three children—Mrs. Mary Caldwell, of East Liverpool, Ohio; James B. Lindsey, of Hollidays Cove, W. Va., and Mrs. Raymond Hess, of Northside, Pittsburg. Two children are dead—William, who was killed on the railroad, and Mrs. Margaret Caldwell.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 from the Miller residence, and the interment was made in the Presbyterian cemetery. Rev. R. Harlan McCartney, of the First United Presbyterian church, conducted the services.

DAVID G. JONES

Following an operation at the Mercy hospital in Pittsburg, David G. Jones, resident of Canonsburg, died Saturday afternoon. Mr. Jones at the time of his death was one of the largest coal producers in the country. He was 43 years of age and has for some time been general manager and secretary-treasurer of the Pittsburgh-Buffalo Coal company, besides being a large holder in many of the largest coal companies in the Eastern part of the country. He was a director in several banks and trust companies in the Pittsburgh district.

Mr. Jones was married to Miss Mary Ann Feehan, of Monongahela, who survives. He is also survived by the following brothers and sisters: John H. Jones, of Pittsburg, Thomas P. Jones, of Toleda, Mrs. W. J. Holsing, of Canonsburg, Mrs. J. H. Vitchestein and Miss Rachel Jones, of Pittsburg. Two sons also remain, James and Francis Jones, at home.

MRS. ESTELLE G. PHILLIPS

Mrs. Estelle G. Phillips, aged 42, died Friday at her home, 710 Swissvale avenue, Wilkensburg. She was the wife of M. J. Phillips, a teacher in the Peabody High school. She was born in Meyersdale and for the past nine years had resided in Wilkensburg. Besides her husband, she leaves two children, Howard and Emily Phillips, also her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Shipley, of Meyersdale; four sisters, Mrs. E. R. Floto of Connellsville, Mrs. C. H. Tilt of Kittanning, Mrs. Fanny Mercer of Burgettstown and Miss Belle Shipley of Meyersdale and two brothers, Barton and Fulton Shipley of Meyersdale.—Gazette Times.

JAMES D. SAXTON

James D. Saxton, one of the oldest and best-known residents of Hanover township, died Saturday morning, January 16, 1915, aged 80 years. Mr. Saxton had been in feeble health for a year or more. Funeral services were held from his late home on Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, conducted by his former pastor, Rev. A. F. Alexander of Mt. Prospect. The interment was made in the Florence cemetery.

James D. Saxton was born January 21, 1835, in Hanover township, on a farm adjoining the one on which he died. He was a son of Samuel and Jane Dougherty Saxton. He attended the common schools of the neighborhood and passed his youth working on his father's farm.

On August 22, 1861, he married Mary Applegate, daughter of Isaac and Margaret (Proudfit) Applegate. Mrs. Proudfit was a daughter of James Proudfit, who was justice of the peace 30 years and a ruling elder in the Florence Presbyterian church for nearly fifty years. Mrs. Saxton died about seven years ago. The following children survive: Miss Florence P., Miss Ada M. and Samuel J., at home, and George M., living in Hanover township.

We will publish the lucky number in The Call next Thursday, allowing one week for the lucky coupon to be delivered to us. If we do not receive the proper coupon in that time we will give the china dinner set to the nearest number that was present at time of drawing. Save and bring your coupons.

James Stiers has sold an interest in his feed store to Robert V. McCalmont, of Paris, and hereafter the firm will be known as the Jas. Stiers Feed Co. Mr. Stiers started the business only a short time ago and it has grown to such proportions that made a partner advisable. We congratulate him on the man selected. Mr. McCalmont is a son of Mrs. Catherine McCalmont, of Burgettstown. His father, the late James P. McCalmont, was known by most of our readers. Robert V. is a young man of ability and sterling integrity, with a wide acquaintance throughout this part of the county. We predict and hope for the new company increased success.

Christmas Savings Club

The Washington National Bank Has Opened a Christmas Savings Club for the Year 1915
ANSWERS TO SOME QUESTIONS WE HAVE BEEN ASKED ABOUT IT

What is the Purpose of the Christmas Savings Club?

The purpose is to help you and others accumulate a fund for Christmas.

In What Manner Does the Christmas Savings Club Accomplish This Purpose?

By each member paying in a small sum each week for 50 weeks. Two weeks before Christmas each member will receive the total amount paid in with 3 per cent. interest.

Does Everybody Pay in the Same Amount?

No. There are five classes and numbered respectively 1, 2, 3, 25, and 50. The payments are different in each class.

What Are the Payments in Class 1?

The payments are 1c the first week, 2c the second week, 3c the third week, and so on for 50 weeks, making the payment for the last week 50 cents.

Is There a Membership Fee, or is there Any Cost to Join?

No.

What Do I Do to Become a Member?

All that is necessary is to go to THE WASHINGTON NATIONAL BANK, ask to be enrolled as a member and make the first week's payment or more.

What Will the First Payment Be?

It will be 1c, 2c or 5c, or according to the class you join.

Begin NOW to Accumulate a Fund for Next Christmas.

How Are the Payments to be Made?

Weekly or in advance for as many weeks as you desire.

What will Happen if I Cannot Keep Up with My Payments, or Discontinue?

You may discontinue for any reason at any time, and at the period when the club closes, you will get a check for all you have paid in, but in such a case no interest will be allowed.

When and How Can I Withdraw?

Under no circumstances will any withdrawals, either in whole or in part be allowed. What you deposit will be held for you until two weeks before Christmas.

What Form of Receipt Do I Get when I Make Payments?

For every week paid the amount is punched on the card, which you will keep in the envelope we give you when the account is opened.

What would happen if My Card were Lost, Stolen or Destroyed?

As we have a complete record of the payments of every member we will pay your share to you whether you have the card or not. The card is of value to you only for the purpose of verifying our record.

Can I Become a Member of More Than One Class?

Yes; you can join one or all of the classes.

When Can I Join?

You can join any day of the week beginning to-day, until February 1st, 1915.

Will You Join? Will You Invite your Friends to Join?

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION

The terms of this paper are 75 Cents per year and must be strictly in advance. All subscriptions will be stopped at the end of the period to which it is paid, according to a late ruling of the postoffice department.

Entered as second-class matter Nov. 27, 1913, at the postoffice at Burgettstown, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

You pin-headed, low-brow, anemic, paddle-brained yap, why don't you come across with one of those rusty simoleans and renew your winked-out subscription to The Call? That's about the way Evangelist Peacock would say it, and as his style seems wonderfully successful we thought we would try it.

The office supply of Calls for January 7th has been exhausted. If you have no further use for your Call of that date and will send it with your little boy or girl—or even the old man, we will pay 5 cents a copy for a reasonable number. Of course, they are worth more than that, but the nickle will possibly pay the transportation charges.

As showing how hard it is to separate the secular from the spiritual, it is told on the principal of our schools that, wanting to hear the song, "It's a Glad Way Home," he called for, "It's a Long Way Home." Luckily the evangelistic meetings were uppermost in the minds of the children or the professor would likely have been treated to a few bars of "Tipperary."

Truly, the path of the bald-headed man in Burgettstown is rough and exceedingly rocky. A certain overgrown nature-fakir who cannot boast of any natural hirsute adornment, after enduring the bombardment of Evangelist Peacock, is now being fired upon by irate Midway citizens, it being alleged that he was in a manner responsible for the mix-up Friday night, when the Midway folks were cheated out of a sermon on account of poor railroad facilities. Oh, well! Cheer up, R. C.; we'll soon be dead."

Good-bye, devil. Peacock's got your number.

The way the men, women and children are singing and whistling, "Brighten Your Corner," would indicate that the spiritual Sapolio dispensed at the tabernacle is having its effect and that there's going to be a big cleaning-up in Burgettstown.

A Y. M. C. A. for Burgettstown is again being agitated. It seems to us that this is a good time to bring it before the people. No one will deny that it would be a great thing for our boys and girls, and we believe it could be floated without any particular trouble. Think it over, men.

In discussing the question of giving one-tenth to the Lord, we heard a Burgettstown man remark not long ago that he didn't see how he could do it; there were just ten members of his family, and each needed his or her tenth. He wondered whether the boss would raise his salary so he could divide it into eleven-tenths.

One of our well-known citizens came to us the other day and asked us to suppress that remark of Evangelist Peacock on Thursday evening, when he said, "Some women thought they were getting a man when they married, but found out later that they had nothing but a pair of trousers." Citizen seemed to think it was too rough on certain husbands. We thought it was a pretty Bryte remark, and intended to give it publicity, but after listening to the arguments against it we promised O. G. we wouldn't; and that is why it does not appear among the "Darts."

Shot From Another Quarter

Samuel D. Major, a well-known resident of Avella, and proprietor of "The Busy Store," in concluding a business communication to The Call office, says:

"Please send bill also for The Call. It is one of the few beams of sunshine that comes to our office. The madam and I often draw lots to see who will get it first.

"Hope you and Brother R. C. Cassidy have time to visit the tabernacle, as you both need it."

The troubles of the average man are no more formidable than the walls of Jericho, yet those walls crumbled and fell without the stroke of a hammer;—Joshua's men blew their horns. Moral: Sell your hammer and buy a horn.

The other night a weary mother, the wife of one of our well-known business men, was sleeping soundly alongside her two-year-old son with whom she had been attending the tabernacle meetings. About midnight the young lad binged his mother in the ribs with one of his little feet and shouted, "Mamma, sing, 'It's a Glad Way Home.'" Whether the lad forgot where he was and mistook the lady's gentle snoring for the pleasing notes of Pianist Davidson's accompaniment or whether he was just simply carried away by his desire to hear the song which had made such an impression upon his young mind, deponent sayeth not. Neither did we learn whether the boy's request was granted, but we will wager that the mother wouldn't stand for an encore.

If Ye Editor Had Peacock's Nerve

Last week we received an invitation to buy a bale of cotton. Say, Willibald, the way things are going we'll be lucky if we can buy a spool of cotton. Gee! If we only had the nerve! What we couldn't do! Had we been born with the rind of some people we know, here's what you would find on these pages from week to week:

"On account of the European war the subscription price of this paper has been raised to $5 a year, cash in advance.

"On account of the loss from import duties, advertising-rates will be increased to 50 cents an inch. Effective at once.

"We are pained to announce that, owing to the almost complete suspension of the importation of chemicals, obituary poems will cost you 10 cents a line hereafter.

"It being impossible to export prunes to Przemysl, notices of church suppers will be charged for at the rate of $2 each, and two tickets to the supper.

"Resulting from the suspension of regular shipping facilities between this town and Gulf of Obigosh all pumpkins, apples, potatoes, corn grapes, etc., brought to this office under the pretext of exhibition to the editor will be seized as contraband of war.

"All persons found owing this paper more than a year's subscription will be shot as spies."—Axtell (Kan) Standard.

Tabernacle Sidelights

Those Midway people can sing some, can't they?

An offering for the poor will be taken Friday night.

"Get your summer underwear on." A warm wave is predicted.

The morning prayermeetings are continuing, and the interest and attendance is keeping up.

The K. of P's. and Odd Fellows will attend the tabernacle in a body Saturday night.

Don't fail to attend the Bible Class meeting in the tabernacle Friday afternoon at 2:30.

Evangelist Peacock and Director Warth are great favorites with Burgettstown boys and girls.

Rev. Hite, of the Midway, Baptist church, made the opening prayer at the Sabbath afternoon service.

Warth's solos are always good, but his "Shadows" and "He Will Hold Me Fast" were exceptionally fine.

Everybody should attend the Bible Study meetings conducted by Mr. Warth on Tuesday and Friday afternoons.

Notwithstanding the early hour at which the different Sabbath schools have to meet, the attendance at all of them is good.

The first sermon to men only will be preached next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The subject is, "Chickens Come Home to Roost."

Midway was especially well represented at the services on Sunday. Many were present from Steubenville, Hollidays Cove, Colliers and Hanlin also.

If Davidson and Warth could hear all the nice things that we hear about them they would probably have to depend on some person else to scratch their heads when they got itchy.

Director Warth spent probably an hour training the children for the special musical program on Saturday evening. We have heard the comment time and again that any person else could have spent a month at it and not got as good results.

The singing of the children on Saturday night was great.

The service on Saturday afternoon will be especially for the children, although the older ones will be welcome.

Evangelist Peacock doesn't call those who hit the trail converts; he calls them "trail-hitters," leaving the question of conversion with them and their God.

Burgettstown people would like to adopt Davidson and Warth. Of course if Peacock wants to stay, all right; but we'll probably have evangelists to burn after these meetings close.

Prayermeetings in the Northern district as follows: Friday morning at 10 o'clock at T. V. Lee's, Mrs. Rachel Elder leader; Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at J. M. Hogue's, Mrs. T. V. Lee leader.

A prayermeeting for men only was held in Charles Hindman's harness shop on Monday evening. There was a good attendance and so much interest manifested that it was decided to hold another meeting of the same kind there next Monday evening. A meeting for both men and women was held at W. A. Purdy's on the same evening. It was well attended also, and very interesting.

Yes! Who is This Man Sunday?

While cities all over the United States are clamoring to get William A. Sunday for a campaign, a letter from Sheboygan, Wis., put a smile on the face of the member of the party who opened it yesterday.

"We are thinking of getting Mr. Sunday here," the letter said.

"Please send references."—Philadelphia North American.

The Wages of Sinn

'Twas down in Oil City, that place of renown,

A pumper named Archybald Sinn hung aroun'

An' Sinn had a habit of lickin' his wife

An' runnin' her offen the lease with a knife.

She sued for divorce an' she got the decree,

An' Sinn had to pay her, an alley-monee,

A half of his wages, the pesky ole sneak—

An' the wages of Sinn was twelve dollars a week.

PEACOCK DARTS

You know as well as I do that the diligent people are the ones who get along well in this world; the same thing is true in the spiritual world.

To be successful you must do like the W. C. T. U.—line up for God and never rest until the saloon and kindred evils are knocked into hell.

Get your summer underwear on; we are going to have a warm time from now on.

I used to swear and drink, but by the power of God I saw where I was a fool and cut it out.

I have been in Burgettstown long enough to size up the situation; and I say now that unless some of you church members hit the trail these meetings will not be a success.

Too many of you fellows are like jelly fishes. When called upon to take a stand for Christ you collapse and quiver like a big wad of gellatine.

Your main springs are run down, but if I can get hold of the key I'll wind you up.

When a man gets the swelled head he's all in.

A lot of people go to hell because they are slothful in God's business.

In nine cases out of ten the dirty low-down devils who run around trying to assassinate the character of others are a thousand times worse than those they defame.

The devil is a dude in this day and generation. He doesn't show his cloven hoof and long tail or try to frighten you with his pitchfork; he is getting too smooth for that.

I don't intend to apologize to any of you mushrooms for what I say in this tabernacle. Some of you just come to criticize and find fault.

The church is weak spiritually because there are some men in it who should be in the penitentiary.

If you can't win a man for Christ one way try another. Do anything that is lawful. If it takes a brass band, get a brass band.

Nobody wants to go to hell. Many are just waiting for you to lead them into the kingdom of God.

Some of you church members in Burgettstown haven't got as much of the spirit of God in you as a mosquito.

We are all only grown-up kids, but the little kids put us to shame many times.

I'd fight for a kid quicker than for anything else in this world.

Great Trotter Dead

T. A. Miller, owner of the Bancroft Stock Farms in Jefferson township, near Avella, announces the recent death of Lamartine, 2:27½, one of the best known trotters of the past quarter of a century. The great trotting stallion was found dead in his stall one morning recently by A. C. Alfred, a colored trainer, who had been caring for him. His death was due to old age.

Lamartine was 28 years old on July 9 last, he having been foaled at Lexington, Ky., in 1886. Mr. Miller bought him when he was three months old from Col. Richard West, of Lexington, paying $700 for him. He was not brought here until the spring following his purchase. He was placed in training on Mr. Miller's Jefferson township farm immediately after his arrival and for several years was known as the 'old war horse' of the local racing game.

He was sired by Egbert, whose sire was Hamiltonian 10. His dam was Anna by Hayes Cotterel Morgan, owned by S. B. Hayes, of Washington. When 11 years old Lamartine became blind, some enemy of his owner having placed acid in his eyes.

A Nursery Convert

Little Bessie's father was speaking to the next-door neighbor about the trouble he had in keeping the chickens away from the garden.

"Why don't you educate them?" said the neighbor jokingly. "You want to put them wise as to where they should go and where they shouldn't go."

"Educate them!" exclaimed father. "You can't teach a hen anything. You can teach a dog or a cat or a pig, but never a hen!"

"Say father," indignantly put in little Bessie, who was standing by, "I think that a hen knows just as much as a rooster.—Boston Record.

Mrs. Ida Gilbert enters suit for herself and nine minor children against the railroad company, seeking a total of $31,000 for the death of John Gilbert, husband and father, who was killed by a passenger train at Primrose, March 1, 1914.

Joseph W. Martin, present Democratic county chairman, has been recommended by Congressman A. M. Palmer for the postmastership at Washington. It is said that strong opposition will be put up when Mr. Martin's recommendation is submitted to the senate.

Cruel Method of Tattooing.

The natives of New Zealand have always attached great importance to the art of the tattooer, which they call moko. Instead of needles the New Zealander uses the bones of fish and birds and the hard thorns of plants.
We have it on the authority of travelers that the Polynesian tattooers, who employ the incision mode, had often to hold their patients down by force until the cruel operation was finished.

Don't Forget Our Magazine Offer

Lost Husband by Stories

Alleged to have circulated reports reflecting on her character, which stories are claimed to have resulted in the breaking of her engagement to a young man, Teresina Pascuzzi, of Cross Creek, a minor by her father and next friend, Pietro Pascuzzi, has filed a suit for $10,000 damages against Filomena Ruggiero and her husband.

It is set forth that Teresina Pascuzzi is 15 years of age, and prior to the circulation of these alleged statements was engaged to a young man, Gabriel Berrardi, of the Cross Creek neighborhood. As a result of these alleged false statements concerning said young lady is set out that the engagement has been broken and the young man refuses to carry out his marriage contract.

It is averred that Filomena Ruggiero circulated scandalous reports attacking the chastity of Teresina Pascuzzi and alleging that she had been guilty of crimes against morality. It is set out that these allegations were false and that they brought the good name of the young lady into disrepute and hurt her standing among her friends. Also that the young man, to whom she was engaged, refused to marry her.

Woman's Suffrage

Famous Detective For It

Speaking recently in New York, William J. Burns, the famous detective, stated:

"In my twenty-five years work in the cities of this country, work which has taken me into the thick of affairs, I have seen that the suffragists, while working for the ballot, are also promoting good citizenship. My experience in detecting criminals has convinced me that universal suffrage is necessary to bring about many needed reforms.

"When suffrage comes you will select from among your number the women best qualified for public work, and they will make the cities fit places for the children to grow up in. I wish I could put the 'white slave' problem into the hands of a selected group of women in this city whom I could name and give them the power that men have. They would soon clean it up."—Woman's Journal.

Woman's Service

For more than a hundred years women even under the stigma of being unwomanly have worked hard to change social conditions. They have worked in the care of the sick and prisoners, in combating alcoholism and prostitution, in improving labor conditions, housing and sanitation, for the protection of motherhood and childhood, for education and healthy recreation; they have cared for the poor and the aged, they are a power for peace.

This work proves that they have a right to citizenship which is not founded on theory alone. It has developed their sense of social responsibilities and through them that of men, who have never cared so much for these things as women. It is partly through women's participation in such affairs that we have the awakening of the social conscience, which has been greater in the last century than before in a thousand years. This social motherliness has added beauty to women's struggle for liberty. As they have become eager to follow the commands of Christian love into society they freed themselves from the authority of the early ecclesiastical church; and women's native common sense has prevented them from carrying their love of humanity to such an extreme that it is incompatible with real life, as did Tolstoi. They have demonstrated that sympathy, love and pity become, when used, not only a matter of conscience but a source of happiness.

But even these women had their hands tied in many ways. If ever a right has been demanded for unselfish reasons, it is a woman's right to suffrage and a married woman's right to herself and her property.—Ellen Key.

U. A. A. DIRECTORS MEET

Fix Date of Next Fair, Elect Officers and Plan Corn-Growing Contest

The directors of the Union Agricultural Association met at the Smith hotel on Saturday afternoon to elect a secretary, assistant secretary and treasurer and transact other business. Twenty of the twenty-two directors were present.

S. V. Kimberland, who held the office of secretary last year, and Miss Mae Nicholls, who has been assistant secretary for several years, were re-elected without opposition.

LEE R. MCKINNEY, Treasurer-Elect

J. McCorkle Pyle, who has been treasurer of the association for a number of years, was not a candidate for re-election. There were two candidates for this office—Lee R. McKinney and T. P. Weaver. Mr. McKinney was elected.

At this meeting the directors decided to hold a corn-growing contest for boys under the age of 16 years. The rules for this contest will be announced soon and substantial prizes will be offered, the prizes to be fixed at the May meeting. The results of the contest will be on exhibition at the next fair.

The dates of the sixtieth annual exhibition were fixed for September 28, 29 and 30.

President L. E. Foster, who is serving his second term, having been re-elected at the December meeting, announced his standing committees on Saturday. They are as follows:

Horses—J. L. McGough, S. D. Rankin, J. C. Rogers, J. H. Murchland, John Hunter.

Cattle—J. M. Paxton, S. C. Cunningham, J. L. Phillis.

Sheep—Homer G. Vance, W. A. Carlisle, J. C. Campbell.

Swine—W. C. Culley, Mose Glass, Robert Johnson.

Poultry—William Lescallete, N. H. Hindman.

Farm Implements—J. P. Bailey, W. H. Linn.

Agricultural Hall—W. W. Stewart, J. G. Hanra, Harry Kelso.

Floral Hall—J. E. Perrin, A. C. Proudfit, R. M. Donaldson.

By-laws—Chairman of Standing Committees.

Gates—S. C. Cunningham, W. A. Carlisle, J. P. Bailey, Harry Kelso.

Grounds—W. G. Shillito, J. L. McGough, Homer C. Vance, J. E. Perrin, A. C. Proudfit.

Police—J. H. Murchland, W. C. Culley, N. H. Hindman.

Printing—President, Secretary, Treasurer.

Music—R. M. Donaldson, W. G. Shillito, A. O. Hindman.

Railroads—J. C. Rogers, W. B. Culley.

Hay and Straw—S. D. Rankin, J. L. Phillis.

Stalls—John Hunter, J. H. Murchland.

Bonds—A. O. Hindman, Mose Glass.

Finance—A. C. Proudfit, W. W. Stewart, J. M. Paxton.

Auditors—Wm. Lescallete, J. C. Campbell, Robert Johnson.

Marshalls—A. M. Carlisle, W. S. Reed, J. N. Smiley.

J. McCorkle Pyle has served as treasurer of the association since 1906, when he was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of W. A. Cosgrove. His re-election from year to year testified to his ability and faithfulness, and it was with much reluctance that the board accepted his resignation. Lee R. McKinney, treasurer-elect, is regarded as a worthy successor to Mr. Pyle. Through his position as assistant cashier of the Washington National bank he has gained the acquaintance and respect of the people of this entire community, and his ability is unquestioned.

J. McC. PYLE, Retiring Treasurer

Independence Revival Service

Independence, Feb. 15.—Contrary to plans, the revival services which are in progress at the Methodist church here did not come to an end on Sunday. In fact the meetings have had a revival themselves and will be continued for some time.

Many conversions have been made and still more reaffirmations have been made at the meetings. The past few services have been partially devoted to hearing the testimony of the converts who are eager and anxious to tell of the great things that God has done for them. The converts are also being drilled and prepared for the new life that they are to lead.

Among the converts and reaffirmations are men and women boys and girls of all ages. The results thus far are much better than had been hoped for when the services began and promise to improve until the close of the meetings, the date of which has not yet been set.

Two Letters

Youngstown, Ohio, Jan. 18, 1915.
Editor Burgettstown Call.

Dear Friend Cramer—Having noticed that my subscription to your paper is about to expire, I herein enclose two dollars for two years. Your paper very much resembles a paper called The Public, published in Chicago, edited for so many years by Louis F. Post and Alice Thatcher Post. The Public and The Call are much alike in that they give all the news in a very condensed form, both printed for the busy man. It takes very little time to read them, but when you read them you have the news. It is just what the busy man wishes. You could make your paper look more like a newspaper if you would copy columns out of other papers, but that is not what we want, so do not do it. Your idea is right in just giving the news and quitting when done.
Dr. S. R. Proudfit.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 5, 1915.

Dear Cramer—We have been so busy enjoying the beautiful sunshine that we neglected to send you the truant dollar.

I see you have been having a set-to with the Russellites. I am sending you a copy of the Los Angeles Times so that you can see how they pulled one over the people of the newest and finest churches in the city.

The revival seems to be a success in Burgettstown. More power to Peacock.

The sunshine I speak of has been a minus quantity for the last week. We have had heavy rains, but I guess Brother Scott is still enjoying his strawberries.

We still enjoy The Call and look for its coming with pleasure. Please send club No. 34.

With kindest regards to you and yours, we are

Yours truly,

S. S. Morgan and Family.

Young Men's Bible Class

The young men met in Charles Hindman's harness shop Thursday evening, February 11, and organized a Bible Class. O. B. Stevenson was elected president and J. L. Woodrow secretary. L. M. Davies is teacher and Charles Hindman assistant teacher. The name of the class will be the Young Men's Union Bible Class. Eighteen members were present at the meeting Thursday evening. Another meeting will be held Friday evening, February 19, at 7:30 o'clock, in Hindman's harness shop. A committee was appointed to secure a permanent place of meeting. Meetings will be held once a week.

Y. M. C. A. for Burgettstown

The men's organization, which was recently organized with R. C. Cassidy president, T. H. Huber and J. M. Pyle vice-presidents and C. A. Hamilton and L. M. Davies secretaries, held their first meeting in the First United Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. A short song service was held, with H. M. Roy leader and H. K. Brumbaugh organist, after which prayers were offered by Rev. G. R. Steele, T. H. Huber and C. A. Hamilton. President Cassidy then called upon Rev. R. H. McCartney to outline the purposes and work of the organization. Mr. McCartney stated that the work, as he saw it, was to converse the energy gathered in the recent evangelistic campaign. He pointed to the attendance at all the morning preaching services, and to the lack of profanity on our streets, as some of the great results of the meetings. The thing for the men to do was to try to maintain this high order of things. It will be so easy for some to slip back into their old ways; the men should stand as a body against the devil and his wiles and help the weak brother. Mr. McCartney then suggested that one of the best things the men could do was to organize a Y. M. C. A., where the young people could go for reading and recreation instead of loafing on the streets. The suggestion was heartily received and everyone called upon expressed himself as being heartily in favor of the movement. Dr. S. L. McCullough, of Crafton, was present and spoke of the great change he had noted in Burgettstown as a result of the meetings. He said that he knew of no better way to conserve these results than by establishing a Y. M. C. A., and stated that if the project was taken up and the men showed that they meant business he would contribute $300 to the fund. He also stated that there was no reason why Burgettstown should not have a Carnegie free library, and he believed they could get it. Revs. G. R. Steele and G. W. Snodgrass and Prof. G. R. Norris expressed themselves as heartily in favor of the Y. M. C. A., as did practically every business man present.

On motion a committee, consisting of Rev. R. H. McCartney, J. P. Linn and W. G. Cramer, was named to confer with the state authorities in regard to an organization. This committee has arranged to have a well-known Y. M. C. A. worker address the men of Burgettstown in a meeting to be held in Westminster Presbyterian church' next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Put the Owls to Flight

Burgess C. A. Bingham got a tip that an Owl organization was being organized among some of the foreigners for the purpose of dispensing booze. After more inquiry he located the meeting place at Benny Rapole's, and in company with Officers Gordon and Conn he visited the place on Sunday after quite a number of the feathery tribe had assembled. Burgess Bingham read the riot act and told them it was up to them to try their wings, which they did very successfully. Before their flight they promised there would be nothing more doing in the Owl business.

The burgess and officers then proceeded to the poolroom of Paul, the Greek, where it seems to be the custom of he and his countrymen to gather on Sundays for a card game. The game was broken up and Burgess Bingham warned them against future offenses.

Driver of Tea Wagon Injured

A. I. Simmons, who covers the territory in this vicinity for the Jewell Tea company, was badly injured Saturday when the king bolt in the wagon he was driving broke and pitched him forward. Simmons suffered a cut on the head which it required five stitches to close. After receiving medical attention he was taken to his home in Canonsburg. A brother was with him at the time of the accident, but he escaped with few bruises.

Mr. Simmons returned to Burgettstown yesterday and took up his work here.

Before leaving for Delhi, N. Y., last Thursday, Evangelist L. K. Peacock performed the ceremony which united his nephew, Walter Peacock, in marriage to Miss Laura Patterson, both of Houston.

TWO BIG FIRES

BULGER STATION BURNED

The Panhandle station building at Bulger was destroyed by fire early last Friday evening. The fire started about 4 o'clock from some unknown cause, and as the town has no fire protection, the building was soon destroyed. A large stretch of boardwalk between the station and the tracks was burned, with various consignments of freight which were in or near the building. C. C. Gist, the regular agent, had been doing special work for the company, and the station was in charge of Leonard Cornell, of Bulger, and Mr. Plants, of McDonald. They had just left the building a few minutes before the fire started. Cornell was summoned and he arrived in time to get some of the contents out of the burning building.

MIDWAY HALL BURNED

The I. O. O. F. hall in Midway was completely destroyed by fire last Friday evening. The hall was a three-story frame structure. The first floor was occupied by the family of George Ferris as a residence, the second floor was used as a lodge room by the Odd Fellows and K. of P's. The cause of the fire is not known, but it is thought to have been a defective flue. It started about 9 o'clock on the third floor near the roof and within an hour the building was in ruins. The local fire department was soon at work. Their equipment was inadequate, but by heroic work they kept the fire confined to the one building. One residence property not more than twelve feet away was saved, although it was naturally somewhat damaged. The Ferris family lost all their goods.

The loss on the building is estimated at $4500, on which there was insurance of $2300. The lodges had about $700 insurance on their paraphernalia.

J. B. Carney was at Philadelphia last week attending the funeral of his grandmother, Mrs. Rose Carney, who died at the age of 103 years, 6 months and 20 days. Mrs. Carney was born in Ireland and came to this country about 50 years ago. Until her last illness she had never been sick a day.

Spanish War Veteran Fatally Hurt

Paris, Feb. 11.—As the result of a fall of 27 feet through a trap door Hiram Morrison, a native of this place, is dead at his home in Columbus, Ohio. Mrs. George Hendricks, a sister, of this place, has been at Columbus, attending the funeral services.

Two weeks ago Mr. Morrison while in a building in Columbus fell through a trap door that had been left open. Two vertebrae in the backbone were dislocated and the spinal cord was injured in such a way that it caused paralysis from the shoulders down. Physicians upon the first examination gave Mr. Morrison no encouragement. He never lost consciousness and was able to talk with his family and friends until the last.

Mr. Morrison was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Morrison, former residents of this village. He was born here and spent his early life in this community. When the Spanish American war broke out young Morrison enlisted and served two years. His parents now reside at Rochester.

Constable Made Defendant

Maria Volsi Calderelli, of Avella, has filed a suit for $1,000 damages against Samuel Adamson, of that place. She claims this sum by reason of the alleged unlawful seizure by the defendant of a certain horse and the sale of it. It was taken as the property of Pasquale Calderelli, at the suit of W. M. Scott & Co., on a judgment entered against Pasquale Calderelli, before C. P. Buchanan, a justice of the peace of Avella. The defendant is constable in that township. The plaintiff sets forth that she conducts a bakery and had purchased the horse to be used in making deliveries. It is further set forth that after the horse was taken by Constable Adamson the plaintiff secured a writ of replevin from the court, which was placed in the hands of the sheriff. It is averred Constable Adamson accepted service of said writ by telephone, the sheriff being unable to reach him personally until the next day. It is averred the defendant promised to hold the horse until the next day, but notwithstanding this it is claimed, the defendant turned the horse over to W. M. Scott & Co., who took it out of the jurisdiction of the court.

Peddler Found Guilty

John Srhla, said to be from Pittsburgh, was found guilty Saturday afternoon of a charge of indecent assault. The prosecutrix was Mrs. George Holod, of Atlasburg. The defendant was sentenced to pay the costs, fine of $1 and to undergo imprisonment in the workhouse for six months. Srhla is a peddler. He denied that he had acted toward the prosecutrix as she alleged. Srhla has a bad reputation. Two or three years ago he was arrested in West Virginia on a charge of gagging and robbing an aged woman in the Avella section in this county. There appeared to be no doubt that Srhla was the man, but he put up an alibi and was acquitted. Since that time, from information received by the district attorney, Srhla had been guilty of improper conduct at other places he visited.

Meets With a Serious Accident

James Leeper, Jr., son of Rev. J. L. Leeper, D. D., met with an accident on Saturday evening, January 30, which at first was thought to be fatal. He and his father had been out through New Jersey in an automobile during the week, and arriving in New York City that evening, drove their machine to 1700 Broadway. Dr. Leeper got out the car to push the button and call freight elevator down to take the car up to second floor, where it was kept, and young Mr. Leeper ran the car slowly forward into the building to get off the sidewalk, but he failed to stop the car when he reached the gate into elevator, and crashed through the gate. He and the car plunged down the elevator shaft, a distance of 30 feet. When they reached him he was wedged under the car, and when he was extricated he was unconscious. He was rushed to the Presbyterian hospital, where the X-ray was put on him and it was found that his skull was uninjured, though his right leg was broken in two places, the knee-pan broken in seven pieces and the thigh bone broken. Latest word states that he is doing as well as could be expected and the doctors believe he will recover. He is a nephew of Joseph Leeper and Mrs. Agnes Shillito, of Burgettstown, and J. H. McLarn, of Emsworth. The father, Rev. Dr. J. L. Leeper, spent his boyhood days at Frankfort Springs.

BETHEL

Among the friends in attendance at Creighton Pettibon's funeral on Sabbath were Mr. and Mrs. Harry McConnell, of Steubenville; David Pettibon and Miss Anna Hensler, of Burgettstown; Mr. and Mrs. David Pettibon, Jr., of Mingo, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. John Mechling, of St. John.

Elza Scott has been spending the past two weeks in Steubenville.

Dave Wirt is slowly improving in his illness, but is still confined to his room.

Miss Ray Lloyd, of Steubenville, visited two days last week with her home folks.

Mrs. Florence Johnston, of Colliers, visited last week at the Wilbert Scott and William Steen homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jackson entertained about forty of their friends last Thursday evening. The features of the evening were music and games. Lunch was served.

William Knox, of Hollidays Cove, visited his brother-in-law, Early Campbell, recently.

Miss Nan Gardner, of Hollidays Cove, was a recent visitor at the homes of Mrs. Patterson and Dave Wirt.

William Wyant, of Wheeling, visited his brother, W. S. Garvin, the past week.

Mrs. James Phillips moved last week to a farm near Steubenville. The rest of the family will move in a few weeks.

Hanlin Station

Hanlin Station, Feb. 11—Mrs. Arch Dornan and little daughter Katharyn, are visiting Mrs. Dornan's mother, Mrs. Jesse Platenburg, of New Cumberland, W. Va.

Mrs. Hiram McMurray is spending a short time with her daughter, Mrs. Eva Herron, of Scioto, Ohio.

The sale of the personal effects of the late A. E. McCabe of Paris, was well attended and brought reasonable prices. The stock of merchandise was also offered, only one bid being given and it was not accepted.

Miss Margaret Curry is taking a short vacation and is spending the time with her mother, Mrs. Letitia Carry.

Mrs. Florence Johnson, of Colliers, W. Va., visited with relatives here for a few days last week.

Mrs. McMillen, of McKees Rocks, is a guest of her sister, Mrs. A. Case of the Sankey farm.

Lawrence Corbin, of Eldersville, has moved into the Swearingen property.

The question of organizing a telephone company by the farmers in the vicinity of Steubenville pike has been finally settled. The line will go by way of Burgettstown, having Burgettstown as central, with Midway, McDonald, Florence and Hanlin free service.

Edward Abrams and sister, Miss Jennie, who left here in 1911 for Illinois, have bought the King Cassidy farm. They returned about three weeks ago and have taken possession. While Mr. Abrams likes the west he thinks the advantages and disadvantages are about equal there.

FLORENCE

Twenty-eight new members were taken in at the Presbyterian church here last Sunday, due to the Peacock meetings. A congregational meeting was held after the services and a committee, consisting of H. W. Scott, D. M. McConnell, E. O. Fullerton and Ernest Munger, was appointed to confer with a committee from Frankfort Presbyterian church in regard to uniting the two congregations. Another meeting will be held next Sunday after services, at which the committee will report.

Mrs. George Jackson was pleasantly surprised Monday evening by a number of her friends, it being her birthday. There being some musicians in the party, some pleasing music was rendered and a very pleasant social hour was enjoyed. All departed at a reasonable hour, wishing Mrs. Jackson many more happy birthdays.

Rev. E. Fields has commenced a two-weeks revival at the Tucker church. A personal worker and singer are coming to help Mr. Fields.

Miss Nellie Lash, of Coventry district, spent Saturday and Sunday with her friend, Mrs. Samuel Morrow.

Mr. Baldwin, of Midway, is visiting his uncle, John Virtue.

Mrs. Albert Ager, of Jewett, O., is visiting her cousin, Miss Mary E. Martin.

Repair work is being done on the M. E. church.

Samuel Morrow spent Sunday in New Cumberland with his mother, who is seriously ill with heart trouble.

Marion Reed is visiting his brother, W. F. Reed.

There will be a play given in the school house Friday evening, Feb. 19.

D. M. and John McConnell have received word of the serious illness of their brother, William McConnell, who lives in Iowa, formerly of Florence.

Pastor Called to Independence

Independence, Feb. 16—The Lower Buffalo Presbyterian congregation of this place which has been without a pastor for the past two or three years has extended a call to the Rev. Mr. Rexrode, of Curllaville, Clarion county, to become pastor. Mr. Rexrode has accepted the call and will be here next Sunday to take up his work. He has preached here several times during the past few months and has spent a week or more among the members of the congregation.

This pulpit has been vacant since Rev. B. F. Heany resigned.

Institute at Florence

The teachers of Hanover township held an institute in the upper room of the Florence school building Friday and Saturday, February 12th and 13th. In spite of muddy roads and a dark, foggy night the seats of the school were filled and a few were standing. Seven of the township teachers were in attendance. They were Misses Nellie Boyce, Anna Palmer, Janet Denny and Bertha Burns and Messrs. W. C. McDonnell, Lawrence Bable and Louis Dussere.

The Friday evening session began about 8 p. m. Louis Dussere, the teacher of the Florence school was chosen chairman of the meeting. The program began with a song, "Old Black Joe" by five girls of the primary room at Florence. A selection entitled "Pigs is Pigs" was read by Louis Dussere. Recitations were given by the following: Frank Savage, who recited "The Wayward Son;" Leonard Savage, who recited "Jane Jones," both of whom were compelled to respond to encores, and Bertha Burns, who recited "Mrs. Tommy Atkins." A dialogue entitled "The First Shave" was acted by Charles Lyons, Waid Reed, Lora Fuller and Bertha Burns.

There were four talks by teachers—"Teaching of English" by Janet Denny; "Teaching Morals in the Schoolroom," by Anna M. Palmer; "The Advanced Pupil" by Louis Dussere, and a talk by W. C. McDonnell. Mr. McDonnell urged the teachers to hold more such meetings. He advanced the statement that the Hanover township schools were inferior to those in adjoining townships and stated that it was his belief that the teachers and the parents were largely to blame. He urged upon the parents to interest themselves more in the schools and to be sure of their ground before condemning a teacher.

The subjects, "Teaching of Reading" and "Ventilation in the Schoolroom," were then opened for general discussion. W. C. McDonnell, Bertha Burns, Blanche Fullerton, Leonard Savage, Dr. J. B. Irwin, E. O. Fullerton and Lawrence Bable responded. Mr. McDonnell stated that parents should read to pupils in their homes. The question was raised, "What if the parents are poor readers?" George Creighton promptly said: "Do the best you can." Mr. McDonnell assented to this, saving the occasions were numerous in the schoolroom in which the teachers must "do the best you can." Dr. Irwin asked the question, "What is a good reader?" Two answers were given. Mr. McDonnell said that a good reader was one who could get and give the thought from the printed page and Dr. Irwin added that his idea of a good reader was one that could render a selection just as the original speaker or writer would have done.

The Friday session adjourned about 10:30 to meet again at 9 o'clock the following morning.

At about 9:30 Saturday morning Miss Burns opened the second session of the institute by reading the 13th chapter of first Corinthians. The song "America" was then sung. Miss Burns, Miss Boyce and Miss Denny sang "The Keystone State" and received a generous round of applause.

The first talk was "Tardiness and Regular Attendance" by Nellie Boyce. Miss Boyce named the following causes for tardiness and irregular attendance: (1) Bad roads, which prevent children's reaching school on time or getting there at all. (2) Carelessness among the pupils. (3) Poor circumstances of the parents. The morning exercises should be made so interesting that the pupils will prefer going to school to staying at home.

The next talk "The Primary Child" was by Bertha Burns. She spoke of the need of keeping primary pupils busy. This busy work should not always be work for small children tire of work easily and they require a large amount of play. Teach the child to be obedient, she said, for it is easier to teach a primary child to obey than to teach an advanced pupil obedience. She spoke of the bad manners of some pupils, some of whom address old people by the first name; never think of saying "Thank you" for a favor; and rudely interrupt each other.

Lawrence Bable spoke next on the subject "Partiality in the Schoolroom." Partiality, said he, means an unreasonable favor or dislike. There are many favors shown children which are not unreasonable but necessary. If any favors are shown, it ought to be to the dullest pupils who have the most trouble to "get" a lesson and consequently need favors the most. Prizes are a great way to stir up disturbances in schoolrooms.

The subjects "The Dull Pupil" and "Whispering" were opened for general discussion and responded to by Bertha Burns, Lawrence Bable, Mrs. E. O. Fullerton and Louis Dussere. The watchword for a dull pupil should be patience, everlasting patience, said Mr. Bable. Of whispering, it was said that it should be forbidden in some cases but not always, but if forbidden the rule should be strictly adhered to.

A question box was then opened and two questions were offered. They were "How can I keep primary pupils together and give justice to each of them?" and "How can I persuade parents to visit the schools?" Neither question was answered with absolute satisfaction. The discussion of the first brought forth that it was practically impossible to keep a primary class together in a rural school. No specific answer was made to the second, a suggestion being made, however, that by speaking to parents personally the teachers might prevail upon some to visit. The meeting adjourned at 11:30 a. m.

Suffrage Bill Now in Senate

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 16.—The resolution providing for a suffrage amendment to the State Constitution has been referred to the Judiciary Committee in the Senate and will probably be reported out at the next meeting of that committee. Owing to the ten day vacation which the Legislature has declared in honor of Washington Birthday, it is likely that the final vote on the bill will not be taken until early in March. But meanwhile, the suffragists are not worrying—despite the eleventh hour fight that was made against their bill in the House. The lobbyists for the interests that oppose the measure have already canvassed the Senate and found little cause for encouragement there. The Republican party, which is in power, has let it be distinctly understood that the party pledge on suffrage shall be kept and the whole question put up to a referendum vote of the people at the polls this Fall. The House vote on the suffrage resolution last week was 130 ayes and 71 noes.

Mrs. Jane Jackson Dead

(Florence Correspondent)

Mrs. Jane Jackson died Wednesday, Feb. 10th, at ten minutes past ten o'clock. Infirmities of age was the cause of her death. She was born Dec. 26th, 1826, at County Tyrone, Ireland. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin. They came to the United States when Mrs. Jackson was two years old and lived in Philadelphia. She was married in 1845 to Marion Jackson. They went to housekeeping one mile south of Florence, where they lived until a few years before Mr. Jackson's death, when they moved to Florence. Mrs. Jackson was a widow for 27 years. She is greatly missed by her many friends who knew her as "Auntie" Jackson; also by a niece, Mary E. Martin, who has lived with her a number of years and has been as devoted as a daughter. Mrs. Jackson has led a Christian life and was a member of the Florence Presbyterian church. She is survived by the following brothers: James, Samuel and David Martin, of Frost, Washington county, Ohio, and Henry, of Little Hocking, Ill.

Tabernacle at Hickory

Hickory, Feb. 17.—The Hickory people are already arranging to erect the large tabernacle that is to be used in the evangelistic meetings here from May 16 to June 13. A meeting of all the committees was held last night and all the preliminary plans have been completed. It was decided to start the erection of the tabernacle at once. The building will be as large as the one used at Burgettstown. It is planned to have everything in readiness when Rev. Luther K. Peacock comes here for the meetings.

The Central Bible Class will meet in Westminster church on Monday evening at 7:45. All officers and leaders of other districts, and as many others as can come, are invited. T. H. Huber leader.

The Northern District Bible Class will meet at the home of Jas. Stiers Tuesday evening at 7:30.

Go to the First U. P. church this evening and get a good chicken and waffle supper. Supper begins at 5 o'clock.

Union Defenders' Day Program

Union Defenders Day was observed in Auditorium hall Monday evening by the Sons of Veterans and Ladies' Auxiliary, having been postponed from the 12th. The program was a most pleasing one. After singing "America," Rev. W. M. Hays, D. D., made the opening prayer. A male quartette—C. A. Bingham, J. M. Welch, T. H. Huber and A. S. Fleming—sang "Going Down the Valley;" piano duet by Misses Lucille Culley and Emma Cox; "Song to the Flag," by Mrs. W. G. Cramer and Mrs. W. D. McCabe, with the Auxiliary ladies joining in chorus; quartette, "As the Years Roll By." Then came the address by Rev. R. Harlan McCartney, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church. Mr. McCartney's subject was "Abraham Lincoln." He told of his parentage, early life and the hardships thereof and dwelt at greater length on some of the characteristics which made him the peer of all men of modern times; a man whose memory would be loved and honored as long as the world stands. It was without doubt the best address of its kind ever delivered in Burgettstown. After the address two reels of pictures were thrown on the film, showing the "Birth of the Star-Spangled Banner." The stage was beautifully decorated with flags, bunting and pictures of Lincoln.

The Sons of Veterans desire to express their sincere thanks to all who aided in the success of this meeting; to the Ladies' Auxiliary and the male quartette for their singing; to Misses Culley and Cox; to Rev. Mr. McCartney for his splendid address; to Coulter & Tope, who so generously donated the use of hall, and to others who helped in any way.

DEATH ROLL

JOHN A. SMITH

John A. Smith, a former resident of Burgettstown, died Sunday morning, February 14, 1915, at 4:30 o'clock, at his home in Xenia, Ohio. Particulars of his death were not received here, but it is understood the cause was heart trouble.

Deceased was about 50 years of age. He was a son of John M. and Sarah (Worstell) Smith, and was born at Dinsmore, this county. When a boy he was employed for some in the newspaper and printing office of J. Howard Cramer in Burgettstown. He spent his early life here, then went to McDonald, where he was employed as section foreman on the railroad for a number of years. He was promoted to electric signal work, which he followed until his death.

Mr. Smith is survived by his wife, who was a Virginia girl, and three children—two boys and a girl. One sister survives, Mrs. Henry Leopold, of South Burgettstown. Two brothers and one sister are deceased—Wesley, who died a little over a year ago; Oliver and Mrs. Mary Hawley. The funeral and interment were at Xenia on Wednesday afternoon. The parents, brother Wesley and sister are buried in the cemetery here; Oliver was buried at Noblestown.

DANIEL HAIR

West Middletown Feb. 11.—Stricken seriously ill last night, Daniel Hair, aged 57 years, one of the well-known residents of this section, died at his home this evening at 5:30 o'clock. He was not feeling well Tuesday night and did not work Wednesday but his condition did not become critical until a sudden change last night shortly after he had eaten his supper.

Mr. Hair was a lifelong resident of this section. He was a blacksmith and wagon maker and had conducted a shop of that kind here for many years. His parents were Jacob and Martha McClelland Hair. He was prominent in the affairs of the West Middletown Christian church and an elder in its congregation.

The wife, whose maiden name was Anna White, survives with four children: Osborne Hair, in the employ of the Jones & Laughlin company in Pittsburg; Mary, wife of David Hughes of Washington and Elizabeth and David Lyle Hair, at home. He leaves three brothers and one sister, Thomas and John Hair, of Cleveland, O.; W. H. Hair, in Denver, Colo., and Mrs. John Jolley, of near Taylorstown.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home and will be conducted by the Rev. Mr. Normand, who will be assisted by the Rev. E. L. Eagleson.

JAMES CREIGHTON PETTIBON

On February 11, 1915, occurred the death of James Creighton Pettibon, of Bethel, in the 36th year of his age. He was the only son of Thomas and Sarah Ellen (Stroud) Pettibon, and was born March 29, 1879. His mother died in 1880, leaving an infant daughter who died at the age of three months. Mr. Pettibon was united in marriage to Miss Edna Murchland on February 14, 1906, who survives with one daughter Thelma, in her fifth year. The cause of his death was inward goitre, his illness commencing in October and gradually growing worse until a little over a week before his death, when he was taken to the Gill hospital in Steubenville for the purpose of an operation. However, his condition was such that the operation could not be performed and he was removed to the home of his father in Wellsburg, his death occurring two days later. The body was taken to his home near Bethel and funeral services were held Sabbath. A sad coincidence was that the funeral services were held on the ninth anniversary of his marriage. In Mr. Pettibon's death Bethel community has lost one of its very best young men. The remains were laid away among his kindred in Bethel cemetery. Deceased was a nephew of David Pettibon, of Burgettstown.

Among the business callers in Washington Saturday from the Burgettstown section were J. V. Stevenson, Samuel Dunbar, Andrew Proudfit, O. C. Duncan, John Studa and W. G. White. Most of these men were here in the interest of a road that has been laid out in that section through the W. G. White farm. This road was approved more than a year ago and ordered built but there seemed to be some dispute over the line and the Smith township supervisors refused to open the road until it was fully determined whether the road was in Smith or Crosscreek township, or how much in each.—Observer.

DEATH ROLL

MRS. J. A. SMILEY

Mrs. Anna Smiley, wife of J. A. Smiley, of Rea, died about 9:45 a. m. yesterday at her home. Death was due to a complication of diseases. She has been in poor health for about two years. Mrs. Smiley was born in Canton township, January 15, 1856, and was a daughter of James and Julia Stewart. She was married to J. A. Smiley on April 25, 1878. She was a member of the Grove United Presbyterian church at West Middletown. There survive beside the husband, seven children, as follow: Mrs. J. H. Reed, J. H. Smiley and D. M. Smiley, of Conneaut, O.; R. E., C. C., W. S. and D. P. Smiley, at home. J. T. Stewart, of Woodrow, is a brother, and Mrs. Julia E. Polan, of Claysville, a sister. Mrs. Smiley had lived in the Rea section ever since her marriage, and was a well known woman in the community. The funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The interment will be in the cemetery at West Middletown.

JAMES P. SMITH

Hickory, Feb. 17. — News of the death Tuesday evening of James P. Smith, of Hickory, came as a severe shock to his many friends. He was well liked and widely known of this section of the county, having resided in these parts for 33 years.

Mr. Smith came to this country from England in 1874 and had lived here ever since. On his arrival in the United States he started to work in a coal mine in the Monongahela valley and worked there for seven years after which he moved to Hickory, where he had since lived. He had been engaged in coal mining in that section and made many friends. Three weeks ago he was taken ill with blood poisoning and on Tuesday evening, at 6:15 he died.

Mr. Smith had been married twice, his second wife being Mrs. Nellie Hill, of Washington. He is survived by his wife, one brother, Albert Smith, who lives in England, three nieces and four nephews. The funeral services will be held at the home of Mrs. E. H. Speakman, of Westland, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in the Oak Spring cemetery of Canonsburg.

The Horrors of War

Down in New York the cafe's ring with the new English comic war song "Sister Susie's Sewing Shirts for Soldiers." This journal, always to the fore-front with pertinent suggestions, offers a few refrains, around each of which our finest little song carpenters are invited, even challenged, to construct full-fledged lyrics. And, that we may not be charged with partiality, we will include all of other the warring countries (that we can remember.)

Couldn't See the Joke.

Because red-hot coins were thrown from a window among the crowd awaiting the "silver shower," which is a feature of many Irish weddings, the bridal party, in revenge, were vigorously stoned and pelted with rubbish when they left a house in Dublin, not long since.

New Idea for Suspenders.

Suspenders which are supplied with light weight metal springs instead of elastic, and thus do away with the necessity of knotting the suspenders when the rubber threads give out are being used by an English manufacturer. The metal springs are said to give as readily as the elastic bands.

The Burgettstown Fair

It's Just as Dear at Sixty as it Was at Sweet Sixteen

The sixtieth Burgettstown Fair opens with the best prospects of any ever held by the association. Entries have been coming in to the last minute, and almost every department is filled. The horse, sheep and poultry departments are probably fuller than they ever were. Last year was the banner year for speed entries, there being 87. This year is almost as good in point of number, having 80 entries, and is believed to be better in quality of horses.

PRESIDENT L. E. FOSTER

If the weather man is good there is no doubt that this one will go down as the greatest Burgettstown fair ever held—and consequently, the greatest fair ever held anywhere, for the Burgettstown Fair is acknowledged to be THE fair.

OFFICERS

President, L. E. Foster; vice presidents, A. C. Proudft, J. L. McGough, W. W. Stewart, S. C. Cunningham, H. C. Vance.

What a Newspaper Wants

Many persons feel that they are seeking a favor in asking the editor to publish small items of news, such as chronicle of visitors, trips of townspeople to distant points, and similar small matters which in themselves do not seem important. But the fact is the newspapers consider these favors received. They form the principal topics of interest in a community, and while in a larger town or city they might be considered out of place or not of public concern, they are to the small town the subject of considerable attention.

This feature of the small-town newspaper is sometimes made the subject of good-humored comment by papers in larger centers, where a broader appeal is required in the news column. But who is he, whether he pursues indefatigably the muck-raking contents of the latest magazines, or pores over the war news in the big metropolitan daily, does not have tucked away somewhere for his quiet hours a copy of the "paper from home." Here he reads the "personal items," the comings and goings of the people, the humble record of the old home town, and there is not a line, however insignificant, that does not contain to him, a special interest.

The small items in a newspaper form the story of community growth and development, and without them the publication would die a natural death. That is why this paper makes a specialty of small as well as large happenings of this section, and why it considers it a favor to have you send in items of personal mention. It is part of the process by which the community is bound together as a unit, and extends out into the wider confines of trade,

A Wise Mother

A lady received the following reply from a neighbor in answer to a question as to why she allowed her children and her husband to litter up every room in the house. The sentiment will find lodgment in the heart of every home-loving person in the land: "The marks of little muddy feet upon the floor can be more easily removed than the stains where the little feet go into the highways of sin. The prints of the little fingers upon the windowpanes cannot shut out the sunshine half so much as the shadow that darkens the mother's heart over the one who will be but a name in the coming year. And if my John finds home a refuge from care and his greatest happiness within its four walls, he can put his boots in the rocking-chair and hang his hat on the floor any day in the week. And if I can stand it and he enjoys it, I cannot see that it is anybody's business."—Nicholas.

Preaching at Langeloth, 11:15 a. m.; Cherry Valley, 7:30 p. m.

CRIBBED WITTICISMS

All cats imagine they can sing — and in that respect they are like men.

It often happens that the first time you doubt a thing is when you hear a reputable liar tell about it.

If brain fag was the only way of dying, we know a lot of people who would be classed with the immortals.

No matter how angelic a man may appear before marriage, after the wedding the wife will learn that "a man's a man for a' that."

No one likes to hear a man continually brag about what he has done, but he is way ahead of the man who brags of what he is going to do.

When you attempt to throw dust in the other fellow's eyes, be sure that the wind is in the right direction, lest it blow back and bind you instead.

A person of whom it is said that he has ability but doesn't use it, has more to be ashamed of than the person of whom it is said that he is a natural dunce.

The paving of Main street was completed Saturday and is in fine shape for the fair. Rinehart Bros., of East Liverpool, Ohio, had the paving contract, and their work has been satisfactory in every particular. H. S. Rinehart, who was here much of the time, and all the men in charge were above reproach, and we have heard many words of praise from our citizens as to their honest workmanship, and their courteous and accommodating manner.

I desire to thank my friends, the W. M. S. of First U. P. church and the W. C. T. U. of Burgettstown for the many beautiful flowers you have so kindly sent me since I have been confined to the Mercy hospital. I assure you I appreciate your kindness greatly, and the flowers bring to me many happy thoughts of my friends and former neighbors.

Mrs. Mary Malone.

Charles E. Miller, of Bentleyville, defeated candidate for the nomination of sheriff, reports expenditures of $1,945.02. Samuel Amspoker, for judge, spent $416.42.

Caught in the Act

Held for court in default of bail in the amount of $5,000, Chris Henderson, colored, and Fred Tara, white, both of Canonsburg, were brought to the county jail Sunday night. The men held in connection with the robbery of the Capazoli store at Langeloth Saturday night.

According to the story told of the affair, the two men entered the store at a late hour. One of them said he wanted to buy a pie and while it was being wrapped up for him, the other approached the clerk with a .44-caliber revolver leveled at his ear and demanded all the cash in the establishment. Fortunately, Capazoli had left the store with the greater part of the day's cash. The bandits got $1.48 and nothing more.

Henderson and Tara then left the store and walked into the arms of two members of the state constabulary stationed in the neighborhood. The police had watched the whole proceeding through a front window and lost no time in corralling the offenders. Justice of the Peace Henry Tennyson heard the case and reached the $5,000-bail-for-court decision.

The two men are believed to have been implicated in other robberies of the same kind in the vicinity of Canonsburg.—Observer.

The Golden Rule

Do as you would be done by.—Persian.

Do not that to a neighbor which you would take ill from him.—Grecian.

One should seek for others the happiness one desires for oneself.—Buddhist.

DEATH

MRS. BELINDA GARDNER NOAH

Mrs. Belinda Gardner Noah, one of the oldest women in Washington county, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John M. McCue, in Burgettstown, Thursday evening, September 23, 1915, aged 93 years, 3 months and 9 days. Mrs. Noah had been sorely afflicted for many years. For fourteen years she had suffered from a cancer on her right ear, and for the past year she had been practically blind. She had been confined to bed since last February.

Mrs. Noah was a daughter of the late William Gardner and was born on what is known as the "Half-moon farm," near Hollidays Cove. On March 12, 1841, she was united in marriage to Samuel Noah, of near Eldersville, and their whole married life was spent in or near Jefferson township. Mr. Noah died March 13, 1895, since which time Mrs. Noah had lived with her daughter Mattie, now Mrs. McCue.

Mrs. Noah is survived by five sons and three daughters, as follows: John Noah, of Pittsburg; Ed. Noah, of Wellsburg, W. Va.; Robert Noah, of Jefferson township; Samuel Noah, of Burgettstown; James Noah, of East Liverpool, O.; Mrs. Reed Curry, of Jefferson township; Mrs. Belle Mannypenny, of East Liverpool, O.; Mrs. John M. McCue, of Burgettstown. One son and a daughter are deceased.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian church of Burgettstown. Funeral services were conducted at the McCue residence on Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock by her pastor, Rev. W. M. Hays, D. D., assisted by Rev. Malcom Matheson, Ph. D., of Westminster Presbyterian church. The remains were taken to Eldersville, where a short prayer service was conducted in the M. P. church by the pastor, Rev. S. C. Benninger and interment was made in the cemetery nearby.

Fifteen negroes employed with the Barnum & Bailey circus held up and robbed Wilbur Wonsettler, aged 28, and Eugene Glenn, aged 23, as the boys were passing through the old fair grounds on their way home from the circus Friday evening and are said to have committed assaults on two Ward girls, whom the young men were escorting. Sheriff Bert Lutton, Deputy Knestrick, Detective Mitchell and Constable Simpson were at the scene of the crime within half an hour after the girls were released and attempted to search the two cars in which the negroes had quarters and after searching the first car were held at bay by over a score of armed negroes who blocked entrance to the second car. The girls are aged 16 and 18 years and say that each of the negroes attacked them while their companions held guns to their foreheads.—Record.

DEATH ROLL

SAMUEL REED

The death of Samuel Reed, a well known citizen of Washington and a native of the Venice section, occurred at his home at 437 Jefferson avenue, Washington, Saturday evening, after a short illness of complications due to his advanced age. He was aged 76 years. Mr. Reed was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, of Venice, well known citizens of that section several years ago. He spent his early life in the Venice neighborhood and in 1890 moved to McDonald, where he lived for eight years. Seventeen years ago he went to Washington and had since resided there. Many years ago he was united in marriage with Elizabeth Harper, of Mt. Pleasant township, who survives with one son, John M. Reed. One brother and three sisters also survive. They are George Reed and Misses Margaret and Mary Reed, all of whom reside at the Reed home in Washington, and Mrs. Jane P. Wilson, of Arden.

Mr. Reed was a member of the Third United Presbyterian church of Washington and when his health permitted, attended its services regularly.

Underwood Explains Cause of Defeat

Thomas J. Underwood, defeated candidate for Sheriff, says that it is an easy matter to explain why he was defeated at the primaries on Tuesday. In the first place his name, Tom J. Underwood, contains 13 letters. 113 voters signed his petition, the license number on his yellow car was 113. Besides this on Friday, August 13, while driving along the highway in his campaign car he ran over and killed a black cat, and with him in the car at the time was a candidate, who is also numbered among the "also rans." Who could expect to win with such a list of hoodoos.

Paint Now

If you ought to have painted last year and waited, how much do you think you made?

You'll buy an extra gallon this year. There's $5 or $6 for paint and labor. You think you won't, but you will; you can't stretch paint.

It is always so; the longer you wait, the more paint and wages. Besides what paint is for. What is it for?

Real Greatness

Christ has given us a measure of greatness which eliminates conflicts. When his disciples disputed among themselves as to which should be greatest in the kingdom of heaven, He rebuked them and said: "Let him who would be chiefest among you be the servant of all." Service is the measure of greatness; it always has been true, it is true today, and it always will be true, that he is greatest who does the most of good. And yet, what a revolution it will work in this old world when this standard becomes the standard of every life. Nearly all our controversies and combats arise from the fact that we are trying to get something from each other. Our enmities and animosities arise from our efforts to get as much as possible out of the world—there will be peace when our endeavor is to put as much as possible into the world. Society will have taken an immeasurable step toward peace when it estimates a citizen by his output rather than by his income and gives the crown of its approval to the one who makes the largest contribution to the welfare of all.

AUTOMOBILE RACES

Washington, Pa., Sept. 27. — The automobile and motorcycle speed classic of the year in Western Pennsylvania will be staged in Washington on the Arden track of the Washington Fair association, Saturday, October 2. The program of the day will include six events — four for automobiles and two for motorcycles. The feature race of the day will be the free-for-all of 25 miles in which the best drivers of Western Pennsylvania will participate. There is a possibility that pilots of national note will appear here, as dealers in automobiles of various makes are planning to send to the factories for experts to handle machines in the races. Among the talent already entered are the following: George Gardner, of Beaver Falls, in his famous Beaver Bullet; Guy Woodward, of Charleroi, June Bug Ford; I. P. Fetterman, Pittsburgh, Simplex; Tom Rose, Pittsburgh, Mercedes; Mike Hudeck, of Uniontown, Yellow Kid Buick; R. A. Allison, Waynesburg, Thomas; Wilbur Monahan, Uniontown, Packard Greyhound. These speed kings of Western Pennsylvania will also be eligible to take part in the other races as classified. Purses aggregating more than $1,000 have been offered.

Fresh PEANUTS Every Day

BURGETTSTOWN, PA.

The Smith-Spring-Holmes Co.

The first of the series of entertainments to be held in Burgettstown this winter will be the Smith-Spring-Holmes Orchestral Quintet on Wednesday evening, October 6th. This is a company of high-class musical interpreters who play the best in music, and who use no clap-trap methods in order to win applause. Their program includes trombone and cornet solos, duets upon the cornet and trombone, cello solos, vocal solos, saxophone selections and ensemble instrumental numbers, readings and pianologues, all of high merit.

Holmes and his exploits could fill a chapter. Holmes is so full of music it oozes out of his pores. He has toured the earth and composed music waiting for trains.

He has been pouring out music that the big publishing houses are glad to pay fancy prices for, and he is still at it. If breakfast is late, he brings out a new march, if the curtain is slow it means another waltz in the repertoire. He just can't stop composing, save when he is playing. He is great playing. His flute is wonderful, so is his soprano saxophone and his cornet. — Ralph Parlette.

Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson on Aug. 30, 1914, wrote as follows: "I have heard Miss Spring a number of times and enjoyed the work every time with increasing measure. What impresses me most is the variety of her talents and the versatility of her work. She is an accomplished reader and monologist. Her pianologues are particularly effective. She adds the finished touch to the artist in tragedy, comedy, pathos, and humor alike, and withal is very successful in children's pieces. I can bear high testimony to her worth in prelude or in full program."

Tickets for the course of five good entertainments are selling at $1.50 for adults and $1.00 for children. Messrs. H. W. Donaldson, Walter Riggle and Clyde Walker, of the High school, are making a canvass of the town and report a ready sale. Anyone desiring tickets should see one of these three gentlemen. It means a big saving to you to buy season tickets. Get them before the first entertainment on October 6th.

This would be a sad, sad world if there was no such thing as hope, but it would be a still sadder world if we stopped there. Hope should be a forerunner for energetic action.

Register with the Call at the Fair.

Pledges His Support to Dr. Alexander

To the Republican voters of Washington county:

I desire to acknowledge through The Call my sincere appreciation for the splendid support I received in the contest for county treasurer, Tuesday last, to extend my congratulations to Dr. W. H. Alexander on his victory. I pledge him my heartiest support at the fall election and will be found in my accustomed place in the ranks for the entire Republican ticket as nominated. I have a fellow sympathy for those candidates who were defeated. I shall take the result philosophically and without any feeling of bitterness or disappointment.

I am, very truly yours,
O. Evans Mikesell.

Mail Carriers Appointed

With the appointment of the mail carriers for the free delivery of mail in McDonald, the preparations are complete for the installation of the service October first. Postmaster McCartney this week received the result of the Civil Service examination, held some time ago and from some twenty applicants Robert Stevenson, Jr., and Claude E. Irwin have been chosen regular carriers to work eight hours a day; John J. Johnen, Jr., auxiliary carrier, to work five hours a day, and James Ferris, substitute. — Record.

B. H. S. Wins First Game

The B. H. S. football team opened their schedule Friday, September 24, and won from New Cumberland by the score of 37-0. Our boys showed good form, and there is reason to expect a successful season. Their schedule follows:

Oct. 1—Edgewood, abroad.
Oct. 8—Parnassus, abroad.
Oct. 15—McDonald, at home.
Oct. 22—New Cumberland, abroad.
Oct. 29—McDonald, abroad.
Nov. 5—Washington, at home.
Nov. 12—Open.
Nov. 20—Mingo Junction, at home.
Nov. 25.—Coraopolis, at home.

The boys hope to get a home game for November 12th, and if successful this will mean that five of the nine games yet to be played will be on the home grounds. Let lovers of good clean sport support these games.

Local Notes

Rossile Spindler is ill of appendicitis.

Miss Gladys McIntyre, a clerk in the postoffice, has been on the sick list this week.

Mrs. Annie Loyer, of Toronto, O., spent Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Susan Lowry.

Mrs. John Gardner, of Ingram, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. James Glass over Christmas.

Miss Bertha Rice, teacher in the Ambridge schools, is spending the holidays with her sister, Mrs. W. D. McCabe.

Mrs. Sam Glass, who has been visiting friends at Washington and Waynesburg for several weeks, has returned to the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Glass.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Smith and daughter, Miss Willa, are spending the holidays with their daughter and sister, Mrs. John Evans, of Clarksburg, W. Va.

W. H. Hill, who was burned two weeks ago by escaping steam while working on the Harmon Creek Coal company's steam shovel, is now able to sit up. Mr. Hill was seriously burned, the worst injuries being on his legs.

William O. Woodrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Woodrow, has enlisted in the aviation corps and leaves to-day to report at Columbus, Ohio. He expects to go to South San Antonio, Texas, and be in the same camp with his brother Jim, who enlisted a couple of weeks ago.

On Saturday night a freight train was derailed at the passenger station, caused by a broken axle. A newly-constructed iron fence was uprooted from its concrete foundation and other damage done. The St. Louis express, which was due, was flagged and came to a stop only four car lengths from the derailed freight, narrowly averting a serious wreck.

Darn the Kaiser!

My Tuesdays are wheatless,
My Wednesdays are meatless,
I'm growing more eatless each day;
My house it is heatless,
My bed it is sheetless—
They're sent to the Y. M. C. A.
The barrooms are treatless,
My coffee is sweetless,
Each day I grow poorer and wiser;
My stockings are feetless,
My trousers are seatless—
My God! but I do hate the Kaiser!

DEATH ROLL

DR. W. V. RIDDILE

Dr. W. V. Riddile, a practicing physician for 53 years, and for 45 years a practitioner in Burgettstown, died at his home on Sunday, March 25, 1917, at 11:50 o'clock a.m., of pneumonia, after a week's illness. He was aged 78 years.

William VanEman Riddile was a son of Samuel and Margaret Scott Riddile, and was born in Smith township, October 6, 1839. His early ancestors were natives of Roxburghshire, Scotland, one of whom emigrated to America at an early day and raised a family of children in this country. His father was born and died in Smith township.

DR. W. V. RIDDILE

The photo from which the above likeness was made was taken several years ago but is the only one available.

William VanEman Riddile received his earlier education in the common schools and at Burgettstown Academy. In 1861 he entered the office of Dr. T. W. Bradley, of Burgettstown, remaining with him for three years, during which time he entered the University of Michigan and graduated in 1864. He began the practice of medicine at Nobles-town, afterward moving to Candor, where he lived and practiced for five years. He then spent one year in Pittsburg and came to Burgettstown, where he had since resided.

He was united in marriage with Rosa, daughter of Hon. Finley Paterson, of Cross Creek township.

She died in 1875, leaving three children: Thomas, Harry B. and Fred C. The two first named are deceased. Fred C. is president of the Kennedy-Stroh Steel corporation at Oakmont. Doctor Riddile's second wife was Emma, daughter of Capt. Charles W. Bingham, who was an officer in the war of 1812. She survives with one daughter, Mary Judson, wife of Edward B. Pry, of Ingram.

Doctor Riddile was one of the oldest active physicians in the county, keeping up his practice until his last illness and responding to day and night calls regardless of the condition of the weather. He was a former president of the Washington County Medical society. He was closely identified with the religious and educational interests of the town, having been a Presbyterian elder for more than forty years and a member of the school board for several terms. The greater period of his eldership was in the First Presbyterian church of Burgettstown, where for a number of years, and at the time of his death, he was clerk of the session. He was one of the few who had attended all of the sixty-one annual exhibitions held by the Union Agricultural Association.

Funeral services were held in the First Presbyterian church on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in charge of the pastor, Dr. W. M. Hays. Dr. Hays was assisted by the Revs. G. W. Snodgrass, M. A. Matheson and J. V. Stevenson. A quartette, composed of Miss Willa Smith, Miss Grace Kerr, Audley McFarland and Joe M. Chilcote, sang, Miss Emily Glessner being accompanist. Miss Kerr and Mr. McFarland sang a duet. The pallbearers were Richard Hill and W. E. McCurdy, elders; A. H. Kerr, T. L. Woodrow, James Leith and G. S. Pate, trustees. There was a profusion of floral tributes, one notably fine one being the gift of an Italian Catholic family whom Dr. Riddile had attended as a physician. The interment was made in Fairview cemetery.

MRS. DAVID GORDON

Paris, March 25.—Mrs. David Gordon, whose maiden name was Josephine McCracken, daughter of the late James McCracken, died at her home on Friday suddenly of a stroke of paralysis, followed by a severe attack of grip. She is survived by her husband and one sister, Mrs. Dallas Smith. Interment will be in Chestnut Ridge cemetery.

MRS. L. V. DUNCAN

Mrs. Esther A. Duncan, wife of L. V. Duncan, died at her home in Smith township Sunday morning, March 25, 1917, at 9:50 o'clock, of tuberculosis, aged 61 years. Mrs. Duncan had been in ill health for more than five years.

Esther Ann Duncan was a daughter of the late Andrew and Hester Porter, and was born on the old Porter homestead near Hanlin station on March 4, 1856. Before her marriage Mrs. Duncan was a successful school teacher, teaching for several terms in Smith, Jefferson and Mt. Pleasant townships. She taught one term in Allegheny county and was assistant principal of the Burgettstown schools for three terms, from 1877 to 1880. On March 20, 1884, she was united in marriage to Logan VanEman Duncan, of Smith township, where her entire married life was spent. Mrs. Duncan is survived by her husband and two children—Olive, wife of David A. Russell, of Youngstown, Ohio, and Oscar, at home. Two sons, John and Daniel, died a number of years ago and a daughter, Nellie, died about five years ago. She is also survived by two sisters and a brother—Mrs. Charlotte McCabe and Mrs. Elizabeth Prondfi, both of Burgettstown; and Andrew Porter, of Seattle, Washington.

Mrs. Duncan was a member of the First United Presbyterian church of Burgettstown. Funeral services were conducted by her pastor, Rev. R. Harlan McCartney, assisted by Rev. J. V. Stevenson, at her late home on Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock. The interment was made in Fairview cemetery.

J. P. FRIZZELL

Many residents of Washington and of the county will find an interest in the announcement of the death of J. P. Frizzell, of Salem, Oregon, because of the fact that his wife was Miss Alicia McFadden, a daughter of the late Thomas McFadden, a former resident of the West Middletown region. She has many relatives in this county. Mr. Frizzell was taken to Oregon in 1852, from Missouri, when four years old. The trip in those days was very perilous, so much so that his father, grandfather and an aunt and uncle perished on the way. His death came after an illness of two years, following an injury sustained a few years ago.

J. W. GILLESPIE

Hanlin Station, March 27.—John Weirich Gillespie, a former well known and highly respected resident of Jefferson township and a member of one of the oldest families, died March 21 at his home in East Palestine, Ohio, of pneumonia, after a brief illness. Mr. Gillespie was the son of William and Hester Green Gillespie and was born on the Gillespie homestead near the Bethel church in 1843. The family moved in 1885 to Ohio.

Besides his wife, who was Miss Caroline St. John, one son, Maurice B., and one daughter Esther G., survive. A sister, Mrs. Martha A. Ralph, and a brother, David Gillespie, of Washington, also are living.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the Bethel Methodist Protestant church near Eldersville and interment was in the Bethel cemetery.

ARCHIE THOMAS BOLTON

Archie Thomas Bolton died at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Annie P. Scott, on Friday evening, March 23, 1917, of tubercular meningitis, aged 31 years. He was born in Oregon, Missouri, March 9, 1886, and came to Burgettstown five years ago. About two years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Sara Scott, of Burgettstown. For several months he had been employed as a barber at Toronto, Ohio, coming back to Burgettstown just a short time before he was taken ill a few weeks ago. He is survived by his wife and two small children; also by two children by a former marriage, who make their home with his mother. His first wife died. The mother, who is Mrs. Emma McBeth, formerly lived at Langeloth, but now lives at Moline, Ill. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Lawrence Dietrich, of Donora. Funeral services were held at the Scott home on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. W. M. Hays, D. D., of the First Presbyterian church. Interment in Fairview cemetery.

JENNIE IRENE MOORE

Independence, March 21.—While talking to her father at Wellsburg over the telephone last night from her home in Brooke county, W. Va., one and a half miles west of here, Miss Jennie Irene Moore, aged 19, dropped dead of heart failure. Her sister Martha took the telephone receiver from the dead girl's grasp and told her father that she believed her sister was dying and asked him to summon a physician. The physician on his arrival found that death had been instantaneous.

Miss Moore had seemingly been in her usual health and had completed some evening work about the home just before calling her father, John A. Moore, a well known former general store proprietor of this place. Her mother and sister and she were alone in the house at the time, a brother Samuel also being absent.

Miss Moore was a member of the Independence Presbyterian church and prominent in its activities and in those of the young people's societies. She was born at Fowler's Mill, northwest of Independence, August 11, 1897.

The parents and brother and sister survive.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Independence Methodist Episcopal church in charge of the Rev. Lafayette Rexrode, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and the Rev. J. C. Bland, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church. Burial will be in the Independence cemetery.

MRS. DAISY WILCOX

Mrs. Daisy Wilcox, wife of James Wilcox, of this place, died Saturday morning, March 24, in the Dixmont hospital, aged 38 years. She had been a resident of Burgettstown for the last three years, the family coming here from Chambersburg, Pa. The body was brought to her late home, where funeral services were held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the interment being in the Fairview cemetery.

Rural Mail Carrier Arrested

Pittsburg, March 27.—Deputy United States Marshal Nicholas L. Bogan today arrested Thomas B. Cooper, aged 19 years, a rural mail carrier, of McDonald, on a charge of taking articles from the United States mails. Cooper after pleading guilty before United States Commissioner Roger Knox was held for court. According to government officers, Cooper is also alleged to have embezzled money order funds.

Want Atlasburg Road Fixed

A committee composed of Henry Tennyson, justice of the peace; Tony Filipponi, Isaac Schwadron and Mike Humenik, of Eastonville, met the commissioners Friday morning in the interests of the road between Atlasburg and Burgettstown, which, it is claimed, is almost impassable. This committee was appointed at a mass meeting held at Langeloth on March 18, when resolutions were passed regarding the condition of this road. In these resolutions it was stated that the condition of the road is a menace to the traveling public and a disgrace to the county. The committee presented a petition signed by several hundred citizens.

The road is a link in the highway from Washington to Burgettstown and is part of the state route from Washington to Beaver. The distance from Atlasburg to Burgettstown is three miles. A number of years ago the county improved one mile of this, beginning at Burgettstown. Shortly afterwards the state adopted it as a route, but this improved section was always a bone of contention between the state and the county. The former claimed that the court should keep it in repair because it had been improved by the county. On the other hand, the county maintained that it was up to the state to make the repairs. As a result, the road was neglected for years. Last spring it was almost impassable. It was claimed by a number of residents in that section that several horses were drowned in the chuck holes, and that several Ford machines that disappeared mysteriously found muddy graves in the bottoms of these holes.

Last summer the county placed a quantity of "red dog" from the nearby mills on the bad section. The committee Friday morning informed the commissioners and county road engineers that the road is worse this year than it was last year, but the officials doubt this, as they do not see how such a thing is possible, as the road last year looked as if it had been shelled by 42-centimeter guns of the German army. However, the commissioners promised to investigate, and as soon as the weather will permit to make some improvements.—Washington News.

Engagement of Miss Johnstone

Pittsburg, March 25.—Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Mary B. Johnstone, of Pittsburg, formerly of West Middletown, to Noel A. Finley, of Beechview. The wedding will take place this spring. Miss Johnstone is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Johnstone.

Entertains for Bride-to-Be Midway, March 22.—Mrs. James H. Meighen was hostess at a miscellaneous shower at her home here Wednesday afternoon, March 21, in honor of Miss Gladys Estman, whose marriage to Henry T. Eaton, of Sheridan, will be an event of April.

High School Closes June 20

Principal W. H. Donaldson, of the Burgettstown schools, is in receipt of the following letter from the state superintendent of public instruction:

Harrisburg, Pa., March 24, 1917.

Dear Sir:—Frequently inquiries are made as to the length of time the high schools of different grades must be in session. Section 1602 of the School Code requires twenty days of actual teaching to constitute a school month. Section 1701 specifies that high schools of the first grade must be in session not less than nine months in each year; high schools of the second grade must be in session not less than eight months in each school year; high schools of the third grade must be in session during the minimum term of seven months.

High schools which do not comply with these requirements of the law will lose not only their rank but also the part of the appropriation which would otherwise be due them as high schools of that grade.

It is very essential that high schools should fill out the time required by law, because their graduates will otherwise have trouble with the preliminary education in case they desire to enter a normal or some other professional school.

Very truly yours,

Nathan C. Schaeffer.

In accordance with these instructions the High school will not close till Wednesday, June 20. There are no restrictions on the grades, however, and they will close May 30.

Attorney Tombaugh Ill

Attorney Byron E. Tombaugh is seriously ill at the Washington hospital of blood poisoning. Mr. Tombaugh, on last Thursday night, while working about his home, jagged his finger with a carpet tack. He thought nothing of the wound until Friday, when his arm began to pain him. Friday night he was taken ill and Saturday morning his condition being worse, he was taken to the hospital. The poison has spread into his arm, and every effort is being made to check it.

Accident Fatal to Bulger Man

McDonald, March 25.—Injuries received by Jules Dalare, aged 55 years, in the mine of the Bulger Block Coal company at Bulger, resulted in his death Friday night in the West Penn hospital, Pittsburg. Mr. Dalare came to the United States 18 years ago from France. His wife died 10 years ago. His mother survives, residing in his native land. The interment will be in the Nobles-town cemetery.

Special Meeting O. E. S.

A special meeting of the Order of Eastern Star was held on Wednesday evening, March 21. The first part of the evening was taken up by the conferring of degrees. Several of the grand officers and past grand officers were present.

Mrs. Jennie E. Werhli, P. G. M., one of the first worthy matrons in the Pittsburg district, presented the chapter with a lovely gavel. Miss Maud Weaver, of Crafton, a P. W. M., presented the chapter with four Bibles. These sisters, with the worthy matron, were the means of chapter having been organized here.

The latter half of the meeting was used for the installation of officers, which ceremony was open to members of Richard Vaux lodge and their wives. This beautiful work was conducted by Mrs. Adeline W. Barnes, P. W. M., and present grand secretary of O. E. S. in the state of Pennsylvania, as installing officer, and Mrs. Virginia Waltz, D. D. G. M., of Washington, acting as grand marshal. Their work was greatly complimented.

At the close of the ceremony, Mrs. Barnes, in behalf of the Burgettstown chapter, presented the retiring worthy matron, Mrs. Glass, with a past matron's jewel. Mrs. Waltz, in behalf of Burgettstown chapter, presented to the retiring worthy patron, W. B. Culley, a past patron's jewel charm. The worthy matron then presented Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Waltz with a lovely corsage bouquet as a token of the esteem in which they are held by the members of Burgettstown chapter.

Refreshments were then held by courtesy of Richard Vaux lodge, in their rooms, after which a cake-walk ended the program. The following officers were installed:

Worthy matron, Mrs. Bessie Roy Russell; worthy patron, George L. McKee; associate matron, Mrs. Nelle M. McKee; secretary, Mrs. Mary W. Stone; treasurer, Anne Ackelson; conductress, Jean Ackelson; associate conductress, Blanche Pyle; Adah, Pamela Scott; Ruth, Mrs. Selma McBride; Esther, Laura Wilson; Martha, Mary Conrad; Electa, Mrs. Ada Hindman; organist, Mrs. Agnes Scott; chaplain, Mrs. Sadie Conrad; warder, Mrs. Secord; sentinel, Mrs. Bilderback.

Buys Pyle Farm

Independence, March 23.—Wade Wolf, of Beaver Falls, has purchased the W. S. Pyle farm two miles west of this place in Brooke county, West Virginia. He expects to move to the farm. Mr. Pyle expects to continue farming. He is from Jefferson county, Ohio, but was formerly a resident of this county. Six or seven years ago he purchased the Robert Hunter farm near here.

To Link Follansbee with Eldersville

Wellsburg, W. Va., March 23.—In the county system of roads financed by the $800,000 bond issue which Brooke county approved some months ago, a road will be built from Follansbee to Eldersville, Washington county, Pa. The road will be along an entirely new right of way.

Trouble has been met in securing the ground for the road free of damages. A number of the farmers who will be most benefited by the highway refuse to sign releases, and as a result condemnation proceedings have been begun in the county court here. Notice has been given to the following landowners and tenants to appear in court April 5 to show why their land should not be condemned: A. L. Carter, John Brown, Robert Patterson, Patterson heirs, W. H. Boyd, W. F. Poole, Andrew Murthland and Albert Holly.

The county expects to secure possession of the required right of way, 40 feet wide, within 60 days. The road will probably be of brick.

At McClure's

I now have a full stock of Fertilizer, and this would be a good time to haul it out while the roads are good, so you had better come in and get it.

In a few days I will have a full stock of Timothy and Clover Seed, and I have on the road a carload of Kramer Wagons and also a full line of Oliver Chilled Plows and Fixtures, Spring Wagons, Gas and Coal Ranges, Heating Stoves, and a full line of all kinds of Hardware, Builder's Specialties, Team and Buggy Harness, Buggies, Paints, Oils and Varnishes, at A. C. McClure's Hardware Store, 44 Main street.

War on Licenseless Dogs

Under notice sent out by the county commissioners and as provided by law the constables of the different bailiwicks of the county Monday began war on all unlicensed dogs. Under the notice sent them they were directed to proceed Monday and continue thereafter until all unlicensed dogs were disposed of.

In some instances the constables, where they are going to kill a dog, receive the money for the tax due, but that is up to the constable. His orders were to kill all unlicensed dogs, on and after Monday.

W. M. McMurray Dead

W. M. McMurray, a resident of Burgettstown for 42 years, a storekeeper for 35 years, and a church elder for over 22 years, died at his home in Burgettstown, Wednesday afternoon, March 28, 1917, at three o'clock, of apoplexy, aged 71 years. Mr. McMurray was stricken early Tuesday morning and did not rally. He was in his usual health when he retired Monday night, being in his store that day and in the evening accompanying his wife to view the remains of Dr. Riddle, a friend and fellow church elder, who had died the day before. He awoke at about six o'clock the next morning, and arising from his bed, greeted different members of the family in his customary cheery manner. A short time later, while sitting in his chair, he complained of a pain in the back of his head, and after a few more words of conversation he lapsed into unconsciousness, in which condition he remained until his death the following afternoon.

William Martin McMurray was a son of William McMurray and was born near West Alexander, this county, April 21, 1846. He was educated in the common schools and at West Alexander academy, and lived with his father on the farm until coming to Burgettstown in 1875. After coming here he was engaged in the drug business with his brother, Henry B. McMurray. He then followed live stock buying and selling for a time, and had been in the mercantile business for the past 35 years continuously, conducting a general store in the south end of town. For the first ten years of that period W. F. Scott was associated with him as a partner. Since Mr. Scott's retirement from the firm Mr. McMurray had continued the business, being assisted of late years by his son William.

Mr. McMurray was united in marriage September 5, 1878, to Sarah Julia Moore, daughter of John and Sarah Moore, of Waynesburg. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Nellie, wife of James R. Malone, of Havre de Grace, Maryland; William M. and Mrs. Esplen Purdy, at home. Also by one brother and three sisters, as follows: Henry B. McMurray, of Burgettstown; Mrs. James Ruth, of Swissvale; Mrs. Martha Dodds, of Pittsburg, and Mrs. Bruce Meeker, of Des Moines, Iowa.

Mr. McMurray took an active interest in borough affairs and had served as a member of the school board and borough council. He had been an elder in the First Presbyterian church for 22 years or more and had been superintendent and a teacher in the Sabbath school, having a class at the time of his death. He was a past grand member of Burgettstown Lodge, No. 1145, I. O. O. F., having the distinction of being one of the oldest Odd Fellows in the county. He was also an officer in McDonald Encampment, I. O. O. F.

Funeral services will be held this (Thursday) evening at 8 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church, in charge of his pastor, Dr. W. M. Hays. The body will be taken to West Alexander on Friday for burial.

Park Fredericks Killed

William Park Fredericks, seven-year-old son of Edward B. and Mary Stievenart Fredericks, of Burgettstown, met a tragic death yesterday afternoon, March 28, at about four o'clock. The little fellow was the proud owner of a pony which he took much delight in riding and which had been running in the field while he was at school. Returning from school he went to the field to catch the pony, carrying a pan of feed and a bridle. A two year-old colt was in the field also, and seeing the feed, went up to get it. Evidently the boy had thrown the brow of the bridle over his own head and had the rein in his hand. As the colt came up to him he, thoughtlessly and boylike, snapped the rein onto the colt's halter. The colt started to run and the boy was dragged around the field. W. D. McCabe, who lives nearby, had just come in from work, and seeing the colt dragging something, went into the field to investigate. As he approached the boy was released from his entanglement and fell to the ground. Mr. McCabe ran to him, picked him up, and seeing that life was extinct, carried him into his own home. The little fellow's neck was broken and he was badly bruised. The body was kept in the McCabe home until Undertaker Lee prepared it for removal to the home of the distracted parents.

Park was the youngest of three children, two sisters, with the parents, surviving.

Funeral services will be held from the home on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, in charge of Rev. R. Harlan McCartney.

John R. Studa is seriously ill of pneumonia.

REV. R. H. McCARTNEY CALLED TO SHARON

Rev. R. Harlan McCartney, of the First United Presbyterian church of Burgettstown, has received a unanimous call to the pastorate of the United Presbyterian church of Sharon, Pa. The call carries with it a salary of $2600 a year and the services of an assistant in the pastoral work. The Sharon church is one of the five largest churches in the United Presbyterian denomination and has the largest Sabbath school in the denomination, it being as large as all the Sabbath schools of Frankfort presbytery combined and having a Men's Bible Class of 250 members.

The call was extended to Rev. Mr. McCartney after the congregation had heard seven of the strongest preachers in the church, from St. Louis, Pittsburg, Philadelphia, and other large cities. The seven were balloted on at the congregational meeting, and Mr. McCartney, with a lead of more than one hundred votes on the first ballot, made a strong gain on each succeeding ballot until his election was made unanimous.

It is a splendid tribute to a splendid man. Mr. McCartney has as yet made no announcement of his intentions, but it is only natural to suppose that Burgettstown is to lose him, and this fact will bring genuine sorrow to the hearts of a host of people in Burgettstown community. He has been wonderfully successful in his church work, and during his residence here of more than five years, he has won the love and respect of people of all denominations. All would deeply regret his departure, but at the same time would rejoice in this substantial recognition of his merits.

Farewell Reception

Cherry Valley, March 23.—Wednesday night saw a crowded house at the home of W. J. Speer, the storekeeper for the Cherry Valley Company for the past ten years. It was a surprise reception for Mr. and Mrs. Speer and children, as they intend departing April 1 for Geneva, Ohio, where Mr. Speer owns a fruit farm. After the house was crowded and a social time had been enjoyed for a brief period "Safety First" Gibbs, one of the crowd, in a neat address presented Mr. and Mrs. Speer with a fine oak rocker in leather upholstery. Mr. Speer made a fitting reply. During the informal program Miss Alda Weir, of McDonald, favored the audience with a reading, and Hulse Couch gave a vocal solo. A liberal repast was furnished. Regret was expressed by all at the departure of this splendid family. Especially is the loss felt by the Mission congregation that worship at the school. Mr. Speer is the teacher of the A. O. B. C. Mrs. Speer teaching anywhere needed. Their home has been open at all times for the use of the church and young people generally.

Smith--Morgan

Hickory, March 22.—This afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, near this place, Miss Jane M. Morgan became the bride of Vance McClelland Smith in the presence of about 50 relatives and friends. The ring ceremony was used, the Rev. Charles Stunkard, the bride's pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. C. T. Littell, pastor of the Venice United Presbyterian church. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Miss Olive Irwine, of Steubenville, a cousin of the bride, who also rendered other selections during the ceremony and afterwards. The ushers were James Smith, a brother of the bridegroom, and Robert Morgan, a brother of the bride. The ribbon bearers were Janet McCalmont, Edith Simpson, Margaret Brown, Margaret McIlvaine, Grace Shelly and Edna McConnell. The couple were unattended. Following the wedding a four-course dinner was served. Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for an Eastern wedding tour. After May 1 they will be at home on the Weaver farm near Canonsburg. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Minerva J. Morgan, of near Hickory, and the bridegroom a son of Mrs. Emma Smith, of Washington. Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith are graduates of Hickory High school in the class of 1911.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean,
sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

Antiquity of Lace.

Lace was known in Venice at an early period and was not unknown to the Greeks and the Romans.

An Old-Time Essay

As our thoughts these days so readily turn to Old Home Week and the halcyon days of long ago, I enclose an old-time essay once read by a little Cinder Hill girl, whose matronly locks are now streaked with silver threads among those ebony curls that so effusively clustered around her classic brow.—Your Guess.

THE ESSAY

After a long search through the labyrinths of my mind for a suitable subject for a composition, I have at last found one. And although it is one upon which all our members have written, yet I trust you will not disallow me the same privilege. My subject, therefore, is PAPER.

In the first place it is a very thin subject, with the advantage that it is easily seen through. Paper is made out of old rags, straw and bark; not the bark of dogs, but the bark of trees. The rags are generally bought up by an old man with a poor horse and a dilapidated wagon whose wheels play wobble-wobble all over the road. Sometimes he has a dirty white dog with him not unlike Ol. Duncan's old dog Jack. I don't know whether he's training him up for that business or not. Paper is put up in rolls or cut into sheets. Paper rolls don't make good eating; neither will old-paper sheets make good butter rags. It takes 24 sheets to make one quire; and a single choir can raise a bigger rumpus than 24 turkey gobblers and a red shawl. A boy sometimes wears paper collars and cuffs his sister because she didn't do up his one linen pair. That last was not intended as a pun. Boys and paper sometimes go on a "fly." I don't like to see boys go on a fly, but I'd rather see paper on a fly than a fly on the paper. You can rest assured there are no flies on this paper.

Enterprise League Reorganizes

It was an enthusiastic gathering that met at Burgettstown recently to reorganize the Enterprise league and to elect officers for the coming season. There were seven teams represented at the meeting and each spokesman voiced the sentiment of making the league one of the strongest amateur organizations on the diamond this year. An effort will be made to make this an eight-team league and it is expected that last year's Cherry Valley team will step in line to bring this about.

B. F. Ashe, of Langeloth, brother of W. F. Ashe, director of the bureau of recreation of Pittsburg, presided at the meeting as temporary chairman and conducted the affairs and outlined the plans until the newly elected president took the chair. W. B. Culley was elected president, J. D. Pollock vice president and J. Smith secretary and treasurer. All have had wide baseball experience and the affairs of the league will be well taken care of under their guidance.

A committee was appointed to draft the constitution and playing rules to govern the league. The members of this committee are J. Smith, G. F. Work and T. Hermes. The league will be composed of teams representing Burgettstown, Langeloth, Raccoon, Bulger, Erie, Bertha, Colliers and probably Cherry Valley.

O. C. Seikel, secretary of the Pittsburg Baseball commission, outlined the plans of the commission and explained the objects and benefits derived by holding membership in this organization. This league will, undoubtedly, follow in line with the number of other leagues in this district and play under the commissioner's jurisdiction in order to be represented in the elimination series conducted by and under the control of the National Baseball Federation. At the next meeting the official adoption of the name of the league and the constitution will be acted upon.

A Baseball Record.

One man in baseball history placed himself in the hall of fame by delivering just one ball, calling for probably only a few seconds' actual participation in the game.

He was Manager Childs of the Portsmouth (O.) team.

In a game with Marion June 20, 1910, Childs went into the box and pitched one ball. It resulted in a triple play, and Childs got credit, of course, for pitching an entire inning with one heave, the only time it has ever been accomplished.—Chicago Herald.

SAGE AND SULPHUR DARKENS GRAY HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Restore Color, Gloss
and Attractiveness.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

$200 An Acre for Independence Coal

Independence, March 23.—A coal deal involving the sale of 410 acres of territory adjoining the village of Independence has just been closed and the sum of $82,000, or at the rate of $200 an acre, was paid. The land belonged to Mrs. Letitia Liggett, of Locust avenue, Washington. While the purchasers are not known, it is understood that the land was taken by the Waverly Coal company, of which R. M. Cook, of Duncan avenue, and S. C. Cook, of West Wheeling street, Washington, are the principal owners. The deal was made through L. M. Irwin, cashier of the Lincoln National bank of Avella.

The Liggett land is located just in the edge of the village of Independence and extends northward, bordering on the present operations of the Waverly Coal company. It is underlain with a fine vein of coal, as from under these farms for the past 50 years or more the Independence section has been supplied with fuel. Mrs. Liggett reserved 10 acres near where the country mine has been operated for years, and it is likely that this will be continued for the benefit of the residents of the Independence section.

Some years ago Mrs. Liggett, by agreement, sold this tract and received $5,000 in cash, but the deal fell through. That hand money, with the present price makes about $212 an acre. Some hand money has already been paid on this deal, and one-fourth of the purchase money will be paid within a few days. During the past few months several deals have been made in Independence township, where the price has been $200 an acre.

Another Deal in Independence

Independence, March 26.—Another transaction in Independence township coal lands has been completed. In this deal the Waverly Coal company, which operates a mine at Avella and owns a large tract in this district, purchased that portion of the Cornelius Beall heirs tract owned by Mrs. Clara Frizzell, of Wheeling, and Mrs. Mary Johnson, of Baltimore, Md., amounting to 400 acres or more. While the purchase price was not made public it is reported to have been between $150 and $200 an acre. These tracts adjoin acreage already held by the Waverly company.

It has been learned that the Letitia Liggett coal land was not purchased by the Waverly company. It is presumed that this tract, which contained more than 400 acres, was bought by the Cleveland men who took over the Meadowlands Coal company properties.

The Waverly company has also purchased a tract of five acres just across the line in Brooke county, West Virginia, known as the Franklin parsonage plot.

The Cornelius Beall block contained more than 1,000 acres until Mrs. Frizzell and Mrs. Johnson disposed of their interest. Mrs. Frizzell owned what was known as the Knob farm, while that of Mrs. Johnson adjoins this place. A country bank was formerly operated on the farm owned by Mrs. Frizzell but was closed recently.

CROSSCREEK

Crosscreek, March 24.—At the public sale of the properties of the late I. M. Reed held on Wednesday, the following were the purchasers: Thomas Farner bought the house and storeroom, ware room and barn; Mark Balmer bought the property recently occupied by Stewart Reed, William O. Johnston and G. Dallmeyer bought the lots on the north side of the village.

Mrs. Mark Balmer entertained a few boys at dinner on Thursday, March 22, in honor of her son Harold's ninth birthday. Those invited were Robert Lee, John Harper, Lewis Kirkman, Elice Zellars and Hope Bonner. It was a surprise party. After spending a pleasant hour they returned to their school duties.

Our Boys Go to War

William Lyon, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Lyon, went to Pittsburg on Monday and enlisted in the U. S. navy. He was assigned to an electrical corps and on Tuesday morning he left for Newport, R. I., for training. Billy is about 20 years of age, and a splendid specimen of young American manhood. A bad tooth was the only thing that kept him from making a perfect score in the examination. He was the star in Burgettstown high school athletics, and no young man in the town has a higher standing in the estimation and hearts of Burgettstown people. He comes from soldier stock, being a grandson of Veteran S. B. Lyon, and we have no doubt that his conduct will be a credit to himself and his parents and a help to his country.

This is the second enlistment from Burgettstown since war was declared, Samuel Emler, son of Campbell Emler, having enlisted in the army a couple of weeks ago. Burgettstown boys who were already serving their country before the present call came are Andrew Spindler, John Bruder and Sam Patterson, in the navy, and Roy Rummell, in the army. Others have signified their intention to enlist.

Ackelson---Proudfit Nuptials

Miss Elizabeth Ackelson and William R. Proudfit were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. T. H. Ackelson, Burgettstown, Saturday forenoon, April 7, 1917. The ceremony was performed by the bride's pastor, Rev. R. Harlan McCartney, of the First United Presbyterian church, in the presence of the members of the family. Both have spent their youth in this community and are very highly esteemed. The bride until recently was a clerk in the Pittsburg & Eastern Coal company's offices at Cherry Valley. The groom who is a son of A. C. Proudfit, of Smith township, was formerly a school teacher, but is now employed with the American Zinc & Chemical company. The young couple left on a wedding trip, and after May 1 will be at home to their friends in the Dr. J. C. Nesbit residence on Main street.

You can't realize how little money there is in a five dollar bill until you break it.

Birthday Party

A delightful birthday party was held Wednesday evening, April 4, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carmichael, of Raccoon, the occasion being Mrs. Carmichael's 51st birthday. Twenty-eight couples were present and the evening was spent in games and music, Anderson Carmichael rendering several solos and Miss McNall, of McDonald, giving some piano selections. There were three contests. The first, guessing the number of beans in a jar, was won by Mrs. William Bailey; second a bird contest, and the third, a nut contest, were both won by Miss Isabelle McNall. The home was handsomely decorated, the color scheme being yellow and white. At twelve o'clock a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. G. Phillips and Mrs. Ralph Craker. Mrs. Carmichael was the recipient of many beautiful gifts. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Enoch Wilsner, of Carnegie; Miss Isabelle McNall, of McDonald; Misses Lois and Gladys Estman and Mary Davis, of McDonald; Jules Vanerscott, of Sturgeon; Mrs. W. G. Blair and Mrs. W. G. Land, of McDonald; Miss Bates, of New Kensington; Misses Mary and Helen Conrad, Hazel Malone and Nannie Beard, of Burgettstown; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. John Love, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaiser, Mr. and Mrs. Charles King, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Proudfit, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Doumont, Mrs. John Black, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Colonge, Mrs. Stevenson and son, Miss Virginia Remmert, Miss Elva White, Miss Elsie Argenta, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. McGregor, Miss Sarah Duffy, Stewart Proudfit, Wm. McGregor.

Morgan---Brautigan

Independence, April 6.—The wedding of Mr. Louis F. Morgan, of Akron, to Miss Dessie E. Brautigan occurred at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Brautigan, one mile north of this place, Tuesday at noon. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Clay J. Bland, pastor of the Independence M. E. church. The bride is well known in this section where she has made many friends since taking up her residence here. Mr. Morgan holds a position in one of the rubber factories of Akron where they will make their home.

Wills Probated

By the will of James R. Dinsmore, late of Mount Pleasant township, his estate is given to his wife and children. There is given to Matthew J. Donaldson the sum of $16,000, to be held in trust for the benefit of Mrs. Dinsmore. Upon the remarriage or death of the wife this money is to be divided among the four daughters, share and share alike. The farm on which the deceased lived is given to the son, John Y. Dinsmore. He shall pay his mother $150 per annum and provide her a home with him. A son Robert Walker Dinsmore, is given a farm in Jefferson county, O. He must pay his mother $150 per annum. These two sons are given the Crosscreek township farm, all livestock, farm implements and other property thereon at the time of their father's death. His residuary estate goes to the six children. The two sons are named as executors.

The will of John R. McCleary, late of Jefferson township, has been probated and the letters issued to William A. Cosgrove. His daughters, Mary Elizabeth and Nellie are each given $500. His grandchildren, Mabel Louise Cosgrove, Mary Esther Cosgrove, William Cosgrove, Fred Clifford Robertson and Mildred K. Robertson, are each given $200. His residuary estate goes to his wife.

Distribution Ordered

In the assigned estate of William G. White, late of Mount Pleasant township, the report of the auditor has been filed and confirmed nisi ten days. There was left, after deducting the costs, $2,557.60, for distribution among the secured and unsecured creditors. The total amount of the claim of these creditors was $17,462.87 and the prorata share each creditor will secure is 14.645 plus per cent.

The marriage of Miss Daisy Hagan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hagan, of 117 Murray avenue, and Cecil L. Yaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yaw, of 54 Catherine avenue, took place in Wellsburg, W. Va., last Thursday. Mr. Yaw holds a position with the Pennsylvania Railroad company. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Yaw will be at home to their friends in Burgettstown.—Observer.

JOHN A. RUSSELL DEAD

John A. Russell, a former merchant and one of the best-known citizens of Burgettstown, died at his home in the south end of town Wednesday morning, April 11, 1917, at 5:30 o'clock, aged 61 years. Mr. Russell had been ill of stomach trouble for a long time.

John A. Russell was a son of Alexander and Margaret Ann Atchinson Russell, and was born in Muskingum county, Ohio, February 11, 1856. When eight years of age he moved with his parents to

JOHN A. RUSSELL

Mt. Pleasant township, remaining on the farm until 1876, when they came to Burgettstown, engaging in the mercantile business, in what is now the McMurray store. John A. Russell continued in business with his father until the spring of 1884, when he embarked in business for himself, buying out the meat business of W. B. Cain. In 1904 he added a complete line of groceries, continuing the business until within the past year, when on account of ill health he sold out to his son, Frank M. Russell.

On August 20, 1884, he was united in marriage to Miss Agnes J. Scott, daughter of the late Robert K. Scott, of Smith township, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Thos. R. Alexander, D. D., now of Washington, then pastor of the Mt. Prospect Presbyterian church. Mrs. Russell survives with four children, as follows: Frank M., of Burgettstown; Lillian, wife of Frank M. Welch, of Crown Point, Ind.; Jennie Myrtle, wife of J. R. Coventry, of Crafton, and Robert Alexander Russell, at home. One brother, Robert A. Russell, of Burgettstown, survives.

Mr. Russell was a member of the First United Presbyterian church and sang in the church choir for many years. In former years he took an active interest in borough affairs and had served as member of the school board and councilman.

Funeral services will be held from his late residence Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by his pastor, Rev. R. Harlan McCartney. The interment will be in Fairview cemetery.

THOMAS BROMLEY

Midway, April 10.—Thomas Bromley, Sr., aged 50 years, died at his home here this evening at 5:55 o'clock as a result of the shock suffered when he was caught in a fall of slate at the Bulger mine of the Verner Coal company at 1 o'clock today. He was badly injured but the effect upon his heart is thought to have caused death. He was unconscious until 20 minutes before his death.

Removed from under the mass of slate, Bromley was rushed to his home here on a hand car on the railroad.

Mrs. Bromley survives. The arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

RED CROSS ORGANIZED

Named in Honor of William Lyon, Our First Naval Soldier Boy

At an enthusiastic meeting held in Westminster church last night the Burgettstown auxiliary to the American Red Cross was organized. The auditorium was well filled, and patriotism seemed to be at high tide. After a devotional period conducted by Burgettstown pastors, Burgess John A. McKenzie presided over the meeting. The speakers were Prof. W. L. Moore, superintendent of the Cecil township schools, who made a splendid patriotic address and gave a history of the Red Cross. Prof. Moore is a former Burgettstown boy, and his address was enthusiastically received. Burgess S. H. Pyle, of McDonald, also made a splendid patriotic address, taking as his subject, "Our Heritage."

At the conclusion of the addresses W. G. Cramer introduced the following resolution, which, upon motion of Attorney J. H. Forland, was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Congress of the United States has declared that a state of war exists between the Imperial German government and the United States of America; therefore be it resolved:

First, That the citizens of Burgettstown and vicinity in mass meeting assembled, mindful of the priceless privilege of life and service under the stars and stripes, hereby reaffirm our abiding love and faith in America and our unconditional allegiance and fidelity to the national government.

Second, We express our absolute confidence in the wise leadership of the President of the United States and pledge him our unqualified loyalty and support.

Officers elected for the local Red Cross were as follows: President, John A. McKenzie; vice-president, R. C. Cassidy; secretary, S. V. Kimberland; treasurer, L. R. McKinney.

Mrs. J. C. White offered a motion that the organization be named the Lyon Red Cross Auxiliary in honor of William W. Lyon, who was the first Burgettstown boy to enlist in the navy. The motion was promptly seconded and unanimously carried.

A vote of thanks was tendered the speakers and Editor Young, of the McDonald Outlook, who assisted in the singing.

At the conclusion of the meeting an opportunity was given to enroll as members. Seventy-six persons signed up, representing a subscription of $126. Another meeting will be held soon, probably on Sunday afternoon, and there is little doubt that the membership will be more than trebled within a short time.

First U. P. Congregation Takes Action on Resignation of Pastor

At a meeting held Monday evening the congregation of the First United Presbyterian church reluctantly agreed to join with the Rev. R. Harlan McCartney in asking the presbytery of Frankfort for a dissolution of the pastoral relations, Rev. Mr. McCartney having accepted a call to Sharon. A committee, consisting of John M. Welch, A. C. McClure and S. Reed Shillito, was appointed to draw up resolutions expressive of the love and esteem in which Mr. McCartney was held by the congregation and the sorrow occasioned by his resignation. Mr. McCartney will preach his farewell sermon and declare the pulpit vacant on the last Sabbath in April, and on the first Sabbath in May the congregation will begin to hear candidates. The pulpit committee is as follows: W. E. Dickson (correspondent) and S. C. Malone, of the session; J. G. Scott and J. D. Keys, of the trustees, and W. G. Shillito, of the congregation. W. W. Stewart was elected commissioner to presbytery. Presbytery has appointed Rev. James Thom, of Clinton, moderator of the session.

At a recent meeting of the congregation the following officers were elected: Congregational chairman, W. F. Scott; secretary, Lee R. McKinney; trustees, W. E. Dickson, J. G. Scott, John D. Keys; auditors, A. C. McClure, Charles Hindman, Miss Maud Ackelson.

The Sabbath school officers for the coming year are: Superintendent, W. F. Scott; assistant superintendent, Charles Hindman; secretary, Edna Malone; assistant secretary, Ronald Miller; treasurer, Clarence Wolf.

The appointments made by the First Presbyterian church for the ensuing year are as follows: Clerk and treasurer of session, W. E. McCurdy; choir organist, Miss Emily Glessner; choir leader, Joseph M. Chilcote; music committee, W. E. McCurdy and Richard Hill; collectors, M. W. Scott, T. V. Lee, Winfield Allison; assistant collectors, Richard Hill, M. W. McCullough, W. E. McCurdy. Sunday School—superintendent, Charles Hamilton; assistant superintendent, W. B. Linn; secretary and treasurer, Miss Pamela Scott; assistant secretary, Miss Vivian Gilbert; organist, Miss Dorothy Reed; assistant organist, Miss Florence Glessner; primary superintendent, M. W. McCullough; primary organist, Miss Dorothy McCabe; primary secretary, Miss Mary Linn.

A marriage license was issued at Washington yesterday to Wilbert W. Morrow and Mildred L. Buxton, both of Burgettstown.

Reed, young son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Reed Shillito, met with a serious injury to one of his eyes yesterday. He was throwing a small steel marble into the mud, seeing how deep he could sink it, when it struck the curb, bounding into his eye and burying itself beneath the eyelid. The little fellow worked the marble out himself, but the ball of the eye was injured, and he was taken to a Pittsburg specialist for treatment. He was brought home the same evening, but will be taken in again to-day, when it will be determined whether or not the sight is affected.

Burgettstown is Decorating

Burgettstown is gradually assuming a patriotic appearance. Flags are now shown from most of the public buildings and many of the residences. Westminster church had its pulpit draped and the interior decorated with flags last Sabbath, and we understand that the different churches took steps to have elaborate decorations by the coming Sabbath. It is proposed that the citizens secure a large flag and suspend it from a large pole to be erected for that purpose on the burnt district near the Burgettstown National bank.

How to Fly the Flag

Harry Lee King, deputy commissioner of the Boy Scouts of America, is anxious to have country editors to teach every one in the country how to fly the stars and stripes. Here are the rules:

The proper time for raising the flag is sunrise or after, never before.

The flag must be lowered at sunset.

In draping the flag against the side of a room or building the proper position for the blue field is toward the east.

It is a mark of disrespect to allow the flag to fly throughout the night.

There are two places in a newspaper where a man doesn't care to have his name appear—the obituary column and the police court record.

A Pittsburg educator says only one person in 25,000 thinks. But unfortunately nearly every one of the 24,999 thinks he is the one.

A biting dog makes no preliminary announcement.

Uncle Zeke went into the Burgettstown postoffice the other day and found Postmaster Vance Hays at the window.

"Hello, Vance," said Uncle Zeke. "How much are the little pink stamps selling at these days? Still two cents, eh? Well, give me two cents worth of one-cent ones. How is business anyway?"

"Zeke," said the postmaster, "business is good—too darned good, in fact. I don't even have time to scratch my head when it itches. Don't see any sense in people writing so many letters. We have received over fifty sacks of mail here to-day, and often times it comes stronger than that."

"Fifty sacks in one day!" shouted Uncle Zeke. "Why I can remember, and I suppose you can, too, when if we got three little sacks here in one day it created quite a sensation, and when if Curbin Ross, who carried the star route, got over a dozen letters in his pouch he put on an extra horse. What's responsible for the great increase, Vance?"

"Well, of course, there are a whole lot more people here than there used to be, and most of them seem to cling to the old idea of writing letters for sentimental reasons. There may not be so many love-letters written as in the olden time, for with the benzine buggies and other improvements in traveling facilities the young bloods are better equipped to give the case their personal attention, but the increase in business correspondence much more than offsets this. Then it seems that most of our citizens are of the opinion that they can't keep house without a Montgomery-Ward or Sears-Roebuck catalogue, and every mother's son landing here from a foreign country gets a bundle of papers as big as your arm. Yes, the mails are heavy, and they are getting heavier every week.

That's why John McCue sacked the job—too much work for him. And then McCue sort of lost interest when his eyes got so bad he couldn't read the poorly-written postal cards."

"Taking it from one week to another, I didn't suppose the mails would be quite so heavy now since Fullerton is leaving a word out of his paper each week," ventured Zeke.

"On first thought one would think that would make a difference, but the difference is scarcely perceptible."

"Then you think Saunty's words don't have much weight," said Zeke.

"Well," said Hays, "I wouldn't put it that way. Of course at the beginning of the contest he is only leaving out little words, and so far they have not effected the total heft; but he may leave out some sock-dollagers before it is over, and in that case we will likely notice it."

"Vance," continued Uncle Zeke, "there is something I have always wanted to ask you. When a person wants to get a letter to its final destination in a hurry, does it do any good to write 'In haste' on the envelope?"

"It certainly does," replied Hays. "We pay particular attention to that class of mail. As soon as the girls get a letter on which those mystic words are penned they fall all over themselves to get it to me. I at once throw myself into high-gear to get it in the first mail sack, and I speak personally to the railroad mail clerk, who shouts to the engineer: 'Pull her wide open; here's a letter marked in a hurry.' The train fairly flies on its important mission, cutting out many stops that it would otherwise make. Yes, Zeke, any time you want a letter to get there real quick just write 'In haste' on the envelope."

At a recent meeting of the session of Robinson U. P. church the Sunday school was organized as follows: Superintendent, George Bell; assistant superintendent, I. D. Bigger; secretary, Clara Wyke; assistant secretary, Olive Wilson; treasurer, John Glass. L. P. Clemens was elected teacher to take the place of George Belle elected superintendent, and Mrs. J. P. Bailey to take the place of Mrs. May F. Stewart, resigned. All other teachers were re-elected.

Aliens and Their Savings

When the United States gave to Ambassador Bernstorff his passports, and diplomatic relations with Germany were sundered, there was a rush to the banks in some localities on the part of foreign residents to withdraw their funds. They feared the United States authorities would confiscate their cash. War having been formally recognized as existing between the United States and Germany, there may be another movement of this sort on the part of the uninformed or the unbelieving. The attention of member banks of the Fourth district is called to this situation by Gov. E. R. Fancher, of the Federal Reserve Bank located at Cleveland. He recalls such withdrawals in February, by reason of unwarranted fears for the safety of deposits of aliens, and advises banks in places where such withdrawals are likely to print on placards and post prominently the following statement, issued by the Department of State on February 8:

It having been reported to him that there is anxiety in some quarters on the part of persons residing in this country who are the subjects of foreign states lest their bank deposits or any other property should be seized in the event of war between the United States and a foreign nation, the President authorizes the statement that all such fears are entirely unfounded. The government of the United States will in no circumstances take advantage of a state of war to take possession of property to which international understandings and the recognized law of the land gives it no just claim or title. It will scrupulously respect all private rights alike of its own citizens and of the subjects of foreign states.

Signals in Railroad

The greatest civilizing agent in the world, after the art of printing, is the locomotive, and that term includes the railroad and all its appurtenances, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. Without railroads, three-quarters of the United States would now be a wilderness, and the same is true of great portions of other continents. Everybody travels on the railroad, and a railroad train is a familiar sight that never grows old.

But how many of the millions who travel know what the railroad signals mean? The majority do not bother their heads about the matter, and a large minority vaguely wonder why there should be so much tooting and swinging of lanterns, all of which is no doubt essential, but at the same time very confusing to the uninitiated passenger.

Perhaps this article may serve to clear up the mystery, as the data is taken from the "Standard Code," a text book for railway men.

Red signifies "danger."
 Green signifies "caution—go slowly."

White signifies "safety."
 Green and white signifies "stop at flag stations for passengers or for freight."

One cap or torpedo on rail means "stop immediately."

Two caps or torpedoes on rail means "reduce speed immediately and look out for danger signals."

A train while running must display two green flags by day and two green lights by night, one on each side of the rear of the train.

After sunset, or when obscured by fog or other cause, must display headlight in front and two red lights in rear.

Two green flags by day and two green lights by night, displayed in the places provided for that purpose on the front of an engine, denote that the train is followed by another train running on the same schedule and entitled to the same time table rights as the train carrying the signals.

Two white flags by day and two white lights by night, carried in the same manner, denote that the train is an extra.

A blue flag by day and a blue light by night placed on the end of a car, denotes that car inspectors are at work under or about the car or train, and must not be coupled to or removed until the blue signal is removed.

A lamp swung across the track is the signal to stop.

A lamp raised and lowered vertically is the signal to move ahead.

A lamp swung vertical in a circle across the track when the train is standing is the signal to move back. A lamp swung vertically in a circle at arm's length across the track when the train is running is the signal that the train has parted.

A flag or the hand moved in any of the direction given above will indicate the same signal as given by the lamp.

The locomotive whistle signals are composed of short, quick sounds, and long sounds. In the following table O means short, quick sound; — means long sound:

Apply brakes, stop.....	O
Release brakes, start.....	O O
Back.....	O O O
Highway crossing signal.....	— —
or.....	O O — —

Call for switchmen.....	O O O O
Cattle on track.....	— — — —
Train has parted.....	— O
For fuel.....	O O O O
Bridge or tunnel warning..	O O —
Fire alarm.....	— O O O
Will take sidetrack.....	— — —

OPEN NOSTRILS! END A COLD OR CATARRH

How To Get Relief When Head and Nose are Stuffed Up.

Count fifty! Your cold in head or catarrh disappears. Your clogged nostrils will open, the air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more snuffling, hawking, mucous discharge, dryness or headache; no struggling for breath at night.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothing and healing the swollen or inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable. Relief is sure.

The Roman Tribune.

The tribunes in ancient Rome represented the people in much the same way that the house of commons does in England and the house of representatives in this country. For a long time the patricians or aristocrats of Rome had everything their own way. But when the plebeians (or, as we would say, the "plain people") got their tribune the reckless tyranny of the patricians ceased. The tribune had great power. He could veto almost any act and nullify almost any law passed by the Romans. Liberty among the Romans dates from the time they first secured their tribunes.—New York American.

Hopes Women Will Adopt This Habit As Well As Men

Glass of hot water each morning helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Happy, bright, alert—vigorous and vivacious—a good clear skin; a natural, rosy complexion and freedom from illness are assured only by clean, healthy blood. If only every woman and likewise every man could realize the wonders of the morning inside bath, what a gratifying change would take place.

Instead of the thousands of sickly, anaemic-looking men, women and girls with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists, we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking, each morning before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood, while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

SAGE TEA BEAUTIFIES AND DARKENS HAIR

Don't Stay Gray! It Darkens
So Naturally that Nobody can Tell.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

This preparation is a toilet requisite and is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

The Master Hauler

Over 450 Lines of Work
Over 10,000 Users
30,000 More This Year

Smith Form-a-Truck is the master hauler of the world. With more sold in the past twelve months than all other truck attachments combined—more than any other make of motor truck—and with a staggering demand ahead for the next twelve months.

Overwhelming demand has forced the factory to develop a universal attachment—to combine with any Ford, Maxwell, Buick, Dodge Bros., Chevrolet or Overland car. Insistent buyers demand almost superhuman results to satisfy their demands. We are assured that every demand will be met.

Present users are doubling their equipment to take care of the new opportunities opened by a tremendously widened field of delivery. Every day brings new records of economy—and of sensational delivery and hauling achievements.

Why the Smith Form-a-Truck will stand the test: It has the best of materials, using different Jack Shafts and Housing from the regular Ford equipment, the material being heavier. Equipped with sight feed oiler.

Do not put off giving us your order—come in to day for a demonstration—see what low ton-mile hauling and delivery cost really means. See how this Master Hauler puts big money back into your profits.

Adjudication in Partition

In the partition suit of Orion A. Potts, of Columbiana, O., against James A. Potts, Elizabeth M. Potts, William F. Pollock, and James A. Potts and Elizabeth Potts, executors of the will of Jerome W. Potts, an adjudication has been handed down by the court. The court adjudicates that the plaintiff is entitled to the partition of the real estate described in his bill in equity. The court, in its conclusions of law, finds that William Potts died intestate as to the 127 acres of land, and that Orion A. Potts, the plaintiff, is the owner of an undivided one-fourth interest thereof, under the intestate laws. The parties of interest in the suit hold together two tracts in Hanover township. One contains 127 acres and the other four acres. Also a lot on the Pittsburg-Steubenville pike, containing one acre and 19 perches, more or less. If no exceptions are filed to the matter raised in the suit, then a master will be appointed to make partition, as provided by law.

U. G. Boak Sued for $25,000

U. G. Boak, of Cecil township, has been made the defendant in a suit for $25,000. This action is brought by Wm. H. Ault, of Hanover township, Beaver county, who alleges that he was badly injured in a runaway accident which occurred in Green township, Beaver county, on August 30, 1916.

It appears that Boak has oil and gas interests in Beaver county. Some of the wells are pumped by means of cables, which run from a central pumping station. One of these cables extended over a public road and made a squeaking noise, frightening Ault's horse and causing it to run away and throw him out. His leg and collar bone were broken and he was otherwise badly injured. He was compelled to hire help to carry on his farm work and some of his crops were lost as a result of the accident, according to the statement filed.

BE A HOOVER HELPER

Hang These Rules on Your Kitchen Hook

SAVE THE WHEAT—One wheatless meal a day. Use corn, oatmeal, rye or barley bread and non-wheat breakfast foods. Order bread 24 hours in advance, so your baker will not bake beyond his needs. Cut the loaf on the table and only as required. Use stale bread for cooking, toast, etc. Eat less cake and pastry.

SAVE THE MEAT—Beef, mutton or pork not more than once daily. Use freely vegetables and fish. At the meat meal serve smaller portions and stews instead of steaks. Make made dishes of all left-overs. We are to-day killing the dairy cows and female cattle as the result of high prices. Therefore eat less and eat no young meet.

SAVE THE MILK—Use buttermilk and sour milk for cooking and making cottage cream. Use less cream.

SAVE THE FATS—Use butter on the table as usual, but not in cooking. Other fats are as good. Reduce use of fried foods. Soap contains fats. Do not waste it.

SAVE THE SUGAR—But do not stint sugar in putting up fruits and jams. They will save butter.

SAVE THE FUEL—Coal comes from a distance, and our railways are overburdened hauling war material. Help relieve them by burning fewer fires. Use wood when you can get it.

USE PERISHABLE FOODS—As a nation we eat too little green stuff. Double their use and improve your health. Store potatoes and other roots properly, and they will keep. Begin now to can or dry all surplus garden products.

USE LOCAL SUPPLIES—Patronize your local producer. Distance means money. Buy perishable food from the neighborhood nearest you and thus save transportation.

GENERAL RULES

Buy less, serve smaller portions.

Preach the "gospel of the clean plate."

Don't eat a fourth meal.

Don't limit the plain food of growing children.

Watch for the waste in the community.

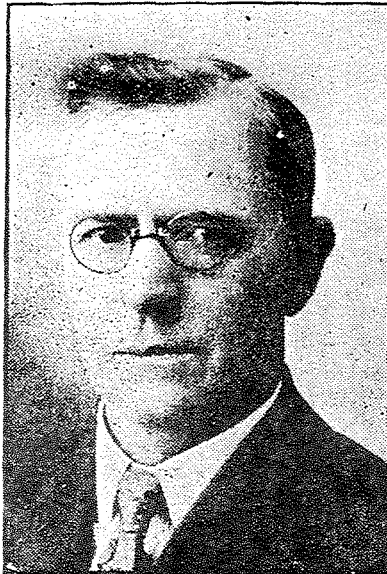

Full garbage pails in America mean empty dinner pails in America and Europe.

If the more fortunate of our people will avoid waste and eat no more than they need, the high-cost-of-living problem of the less fortunate will be solved.

HERBERT HOOVER,

United States Food Commissioner.

AUGUST VALENTOUR IS REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY RECORDER

AUGUST VALENTOUR

August Valentour, of McDonald, in this issue makes his formal announcement as a candidate for the Republican nomination for the office of Recorder of Deeds of Washington county. Mr. Valentour is one of the best-known citizens of the northern end of the county, having been a resident of Midway and McDonald since 1874, being permanently located in McDonald since 1883. His occupation since early youth has been divided into five distinct branches, viz: Glassworker, coal miner, farmer, maker and shipper of oak staves for foreign markets, devoting about three and one-half years to each of these activities. Since 1885 Mr. Valentour has been engaged in mercantile pursuits, together with real estate operations and notarial work. He has always been a Republican in principle and in fact and has unstintedly given his time and influence to the election of national, state and county officeholders. In 1893 Mr. Valentour was elected a delegate to the state convention which nominated Daniel H. Hastings for governor. Mr. Valentour has never held an office of profit at the hands of the party which he has served so diligently, and his friends feel that his present candidacy is one of undoubted merit. He and his friends appreciate the fact that integrity, fidelity and efficiency are requisite qualifications for one aspiring to an office of the importance of that of recorder of deeds. Mr. Valentour possesses these qualities and in presenting himself as a candidate it is with the purpose of rendering a degree of service, should he be successful, that shall have his best and careful attention at all times.

John C. Riddile Dead

John C. Riddile, of Steubenville, Ohio, formerly a well-known resident of Burgettstown community, died Sunday evening, July 15, 1917, at 7:30 o'clock, at the West Penn hospital, Pittsburg, aged 66 years. Mr. Riddile had not been in good health for some time, being a sufferer from kidney and liver trouble. On Friday he went to the hospital, stopping off en route to attend to some business in Burgettstown. At the hospital he was being treated preparatory to undergoing an operation the first of this week. He was not so well Saturday evening, and on Sunday afternoon was taken much worse, dying that evening.

John C. Riddile was a son of John and Rebecca Riddile and was born in Smith township. He lived in this community until his marriage to Margaret Lee McGough, since which time he had lived in Steubenville, where he was employed by the railroad company. He is survived by his wife and one brother—J. P. Riddile, of Jefferson township. The funeral was held Wednesday at 11 a. m. from the residence of Wylie McGough, in Steubenville.

To Automobile Drivers

Notice is hereby given that on and after July 1, 1917, all persons violating the Automobile Laws of Pennsylvania and driving at greater speed than the 15 mile limit will be arrested and fined.

By order of Borough Council.

E. C. Gordon,

2613 Constable.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Westminster Presbyterian church will hold a Raspberry and Ice Cream festival on the lawn Friday evening, July 20. Feist's Ice Cream will be served. Everybody invited.

Road Will Not be Built Now

The county commissioners and controller opened the bids for the resurfacing with cement the mile of road between Burgettstown and Atlasburg and the section from Taylorstown to Taylorstown station at noon Monday. No contract for either road was awarded, and it is doubtful if the commissioners will decide to do this work at this time, as it was found that it will cost about $25,000 to resurface a mile of the Burgettstown-Atlasburg road, and approximately $5,000 to resurface less than a mile of the Taylorstown station road. This is for resurfacing alone, as all grading has been done. It is an example of the great advance in prices. Ordinarily the first cost of the construction of these roads would not be much more than half the above amounts.—News.

ELDERSVILLE

Mrs. John Boles spent the past week with friends in Midway.

Twenty-eight new members to the Red Cross were received at the meeting last Tuesday evening.

Alexander Wills has returned to his work in Pittsburg after spending two weeks with his mother, Mrs. Biles.

Mrs. Margaret Schary and son Thomas have returned from a four-weeks visit to her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Truax, of Burgettstown.

Louis Dussere left on Monday for Columbus, Ohio, where he will take the final examination. If he passes he will leave at once for France. He enlisted several weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cassidy and children, of Follansbee, have returned home after spending two weeks at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Truax.

Miss Iva Miller, of near Bethel, left Saturday for Canton, O., where she will visit for a few days, then go with some friends for a two-weeks camp at Long Bay, near Akron, Ohio.

The Governor's Quick Wit.

While talking to a former governor of Illinois, who was noted for the quickness of his wit, an English tourist spoke with special fervor of a sight he had seen in another state.

"I attended a Sunday service for the inmates of the state prison," he said, "and I learned that of the 208 persons now confined there all but twelve voluntarily attend religious services held in the prison chapel twice each Sunday."

"Most extraordinary," said the governor musingly. "I am sorry to say it is not so with us. But then," he added soberly, "in Illinois, you see, most of the respectable people do not come to prison."

Women's Time Schedules.

Few women speak of a train starting slightly off the even hour, as the 3:02 train, for example, or the 3:12. "Three" will do. It bothers a man a heap to go hunting for a 3 o'clock train by feminine directions when it is a 3:11 train. For some women "3" will do for the 2:54 train; it's near enough. Then the man following feminine directions, unless he is on his guard against these pitfalls, is lost.

Probably if it were not for his business training, which teaches a man that 3:02 is not 3, not 3:01, not 3:01½, not 3:01¾, but 3:02, he'd be better natured about women's time schedules.—Exchange.

Hotels and Thirteen.

One of the big hotels in the uptown shopping district considers the number of superstitious travelers sufficiently large to justify a concession to them. The elevator indicators in this hotel show that there is a twelfth floor and a fourteenth, but the figure 13 does not appear on the dial. From the 1200's the rooms jump to the 1400's. Clerks in hotels which have a thirteenth floor say that the number of patrons who insist on avoiding the hoodoo number is large. Frequently a person assigned to that floor asks to be transferred even if his removal to another floor means the exchange of an outside room for one inside.—New York Sun.

A Bluff.

"Are you sure de lady in dat house cooks wit an oll stove?" asked Plodding Pete.

"Positive," replied Meandering Mike.

"And she has a pump right in de kitchen?"

"Yes."

"G'wan up an' ask her if she don't want us to chop some wood or carry some water."—Washington Star.

Trousers in England.

Strange though it may appear to the present generation, it seems that trousers when first introduced into England were regarded as anything but a mark of respectability. In the original trust deed, drawn up in 1820, of Bethel chapel, Cambridge street, Sheffield, there was a clause containing the following prohibition: "Under no circumstances whatever shall any preacher be allowed to occupy the pulpit who wears trousers." It is scarcely necessary to add that knee breeches and gaiters were then the correct attire.

Aping His Sire.

"Papa," said five-year-old Tommy, "please give me 5 cents to buy a toy monkey."

"You don't need a toy monkey," answered the father. "You are a monkey yourself."

"Well," continued the little fellow, "give me 5 cents to buy peanuts for the monkey."—Christian Herald.

The subscription price of THE CALL is $1.00 per year and should be paid in advance. If a subscriber wishes his paper discontinued at the expiration of his subscription, notice to that effect should be sent to this office. Otherwise it is assumed that a continuance is desired.

To those who would condemn this issue of the Call as being more punk than usual, we say, "Have a heart." Our office force has been rent in twain, and this week ye editor is the whole show, appearing in all the different roles from editor-in-chief to office cat. It's beginning to tell on our disposition, too. But as the old lady remarked when she heard that war had been declared: "We're having nice weather for it."

CRIBBED WITTICISMS

Life loves to keep the grouchy man supplied with grievances.

To-morrow may never come, but what's the matter with to-day?

The meanest man is the rabbit who plays the lion's part around home.

The trouble with family picnics is that they last longer than funerals.

There are two reasons why some people do not mind their own business. One is because they haven't any business; the other is because they haven't any mind.

Waiting until after you fall in love to find out about a man's character or a woman's temper is like waiting until your house catches on fire before taking out insurance.

The girl who insists on spooning with every pantaloon owner in the corporation ought to be relieved of her excess affection with a No. 11 slipper rub-down.

Owing to the similarity of names between the two postoffices, Sheradenville Station, Pittsburgh, and Sheraden, Lebanon county, the post-office department has changed the name of Sheradenville Station to Corliss Station, effective August 1.

Say, Ezra, did you ever have a ride in Billy Bell's limousine? No? Well, you know Billy is one of the men that helped put the pie in the Gillespie oil business, and R. G. got him one of those cute little motor wagons designed and constructed by the celebrated Pacifist. Billy takes good care of it and tries to humor R. G. by not wearing out any more tires than is necessary, but he isn't a bit tight with his little old boat, and every morning he gathers up Jim Shillito, Walter Mitchell, and generally Ira Woodling, and hauls them out to work. The other morning Billy hitched up and drove around to the starting point, where all are supposed to assemble at 6:30. No one was there, but Billy honked his honker and Shillito and Mitchell came running from their homes, buttoning their shoes and combing their hair as they ran, for well they knew that Billy Bell, like time and tide, "waiteth on no man."

"Ira has slept in again," said Bell; "we can't wait on him. Jump in, Zeke, and come for a little ride."

As we rode along Bell said: "Zeke, I live in constant fear of Big Mary and her little Ford. As you know I am a careful driver, and when my nerves are good I can run over a custard pie without disturbing the froth, but that Mary girl has no such record. You can't tell whether she is going or coming. I am expecting every morning to be torpedoed by her Ford U-Boat, and I tell you now if the old gal ever submarines me I'll never speak to her again."

Scarcely were the words out of his mouth when Shillito started the panic by saying:

"Behold, she comes! Let us beat it while the beating is good."

"Alas! I cannot," said Bell. "What would poor old R. G. say if I saved my clapper at the cost of his car."

No, boys; flee to the hills and save your own bacon, but I will go down with the boat."

"Then," quoth Shillito, "nary a flee for me. I stay."

"Bell rings true," said Mitchell. "We will perish together."

All the while Mary's little Ford rambled right along, just as innocent looking as any Ford. I thought they were unduly alarmed, and told Bell that if he could chase his car up the hill a few feet further Mary might clear him.

"Of what avail?" answered Bell. "Big Mary has my number; it would be folly to attempt escape. Verily, verily our time has come. I only hope she leaves the tires intact."

As he ceased speaking Mary's bus glided gracefully by, allowing sufficient space for a load of hay to pass between the two cars.

"Wh-who was that?" murmured Bell. "Wasn't that Mary's car after all?"

"It was Mary," answered Shillito, "but, thank the saints, someone else was driving."

After Bell had got his nerves settled, and the boys had jacked the machine from its lofty perch, the journey was resumed. And when the circumstances were explained to the proper authorities, none of the boys were docked for the few hours they had lost. In parting, Billy said to us:

"It would be just as well if we said nothing about this. R. G. need never know that his car was even threatened with danger."

The Servant Back.

There have always been a lot of give and take in American women's social adventures in England. But American women have spirit, and if they have taken a good deal they have given back still more.

An Englishwoman some years ago called on an American countess in Belgravia.

"Oh, I thought you were out! That's why I called," the Englishwoman said in her sweet, clear, insolent English voice.

"Well, do you know, I thought I was out, too," the American replied. "My stupid man must have mistaken you for some one else."

The Test of Greatness.

When Elliston, the theatrical manager, went from London to his own theater at Birmingham he was known to scarcely a member of his own company. On reprimanding one of them sharply the irate actor threatened to kick him off the stage. He rushed to the stage manager and asked who that man was.

"Mr. A," said the manager.

"A great man, a very great man," said Elliston. "He threatened to kick me, the lessee of Drury Lane. Such a man as that must go to London. He mustn't waste his energies here." And he engaged the actor on the spot for Drury Lane.

Gave Him Away.

With a stormy look on his face, the master of the house waylaid the servant in the kitchen.

"Look here," he began angrily, "how dare you tell my wife what time I came home this morning, after I had told you not to?"

The Irish girl eyed him steadily.

"Shure, an' Oi didn't!" she replied calmly. "She asked me phwat telme yez came in, an' Oi only tould her that Oi was too busy gettin' the breakfast ready to look at the clock."—London Mail.

The Bigger Reunion

On the old homestead near Candor the descendants of Samuel Bigger held a reunion July 4th. The event was especially in honor of Miss Jeannette Bigger, the only one of the name living on the homestead, and her niece, Miss Hattie Donaldson, of Wilkesburg, who has been in failing health for years.

The porches, rooms and four large tables, two of which were in the room where the old-fashioned wood fire place is still found, were decorated with flags, yellow and white colors. A British flag which was brought to this country by Thomas Bigger, grandfather of Miss Jeannette, was displayed. Over sixty guests partook of the six-course dinner.

The farm where the reunion was held was taken up as a claim under a Virginia patent by Thomas Bigger. In order to hold it he had many fights with the Indians and a dispute with George Washington, who claimed a prior title to the land.

Mrs. Annie Nikolito, Russian, age 31, died at Eastonville on Sunday of pulmonary tuberculosis. Buried in Fairview cemetery on Tuesday.

ANNOUNCEMENT

On account of the continuous changes in prices and a constantly rising market, and in order to maintain our standard of prices and give the public the best possible values at the lowest prices, we will put our business on a strictly CASH basis, beginning JULY 25, 1917.

In conducting our business on this basis we will be able to buy to much better advantage, which will enable us to sell at a lower price. In order to do this we must have the cash. All goods must be paid for at time of purchase or upon delivery. If goods are not satisfactory, money cheerfully refunded.
