Mr. Walsh enjoyed life on every level with his wife and best friend, Teresa, whom he married September 3, 1988. He was the proud father of six children, Brenna, Conor, Aidan, Liam, Kieran and Fiona. His happiest moments were spent around the kitchen table talking and laughing with them.

He began his professional career as a law clerk to the Honorable Gustave Diamond, Chief Judge of the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Pennsylvania. He was proud to have completed mediation training at Harvard Law School and training in the principles on Non-Violent Communication with Marshall Rosenberg, the movement's founder.

Early in his career, he served Washington County as a child advocate and assistant district attorney. In 1997, he opened his own law practice. Additionally, for the last six years, he worked as a hearing officer for Allegheny County Criminal Court Division.

Former Local Pastor Dies At His Home in Colorado

The following notice of the death of the Rev. Dr. J. L. Weaver, a former pastor of the Burgettstown First Presbyterian church, is taken from a Rocky Ford, Col., newspaper of recent date. Dr. Weaver came to Burgettstown in 1887 and left here in 1895:

At 5:30 p. m. on Saturday, June 23, Dr. J. L. Weaver, the veteran pastor of First Presbyterian church, entered into his eternal rest, after lying in a state of coma from the effects of paralysis with which he was stricken the Tuesday before.

Funeral services were held in the church of which he had so long been the pastor on Tuesday afternoon and that sacred edifice was filled to overflowing for the occasion, practically every business house in the city being closed during the funeral hour in response to the proclamation of Mayor Ferrill, who requested the closing as a mark of respect to our esteemed citizen.

The services were in charge of Dr. W. G. Kerry of Penrose, stated clerk of the Pueblo Presbytery, and depicted the great influence for good of the departed to the community, church and nation, his being most truly a long and well spent life.

Other ministers who took part in the services were Dr. W. B. Gillis of La Junta; Dr. George H. Stuntz of Las Animas; Rev. H. R. Hosteller an the entire membership of the Rocky Ford Ministerial Association.

Joseph Lawrence Weaver was born June 20, 1855, near Freeport, Armstrong county, Pa. He was the son of John Gert and Margaret Alter Weaver, and the eldest of a family of ten children of whom the following survive him: T. N. Weaver of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Rebecca West, Mrs. Daisy Lauffer and Mrs. Ethel Glunt of Freeport, Pa.

J. L. Weaver graduated at Washington and Jefferson college at Washington, Pa., in 1880, and from Western Theological Seminary at Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1883. He was licensed to preach June 22, 1882, by the Presbytery of Kittanning, Pa., and ordained and installed at Morristown, Ohio, Nov. 6, 1883.

His first pastorate was at Morristown, Warnock and Bannock, Ohio; the next at Burgettstown, Pa.; then he went to Philadelphia, Pa., and from there to First Church, of Pueblo, Colo. He was president of Westminster College in Denver for two and a half years before coming to Rocky Ford, September 1, 1909.

On Oct. 21, 1884, J. L. Weaver was married to Flora A. Grimes of Uniontown, Ohio. Two daughters were born to this union: Mary Margaret, now Mrs. Hary P. Midkiff of Loges, Brazil, and Frances Willard, now Mrs. Frank Latson of Glenwood Springs. Mrs. Weaver died in Pueblo, Nov 6, 1898. On May 14, 1901, he was married to Minnie F. Grimes in Pittsburgh, Pa. Two sons and a daughter were born to this union: Joseph Lawrence Jr., pastor of First Presbyterian church, Towanda, Pa., who passed away April 26, 1932; Harold L. P., of Colorado Springs, who was killed in an automobile accident on Sept. 11, 1933; and Lucia Aileen, a student at Denver University. Dr. Weaver is survived by the following grandchildren: Joseph Lawrence III and Patricia Ann Weaver, Franklin Edgar, Dorothy Margaret and Mary Beth Latson.

On Nov. 6, 1933, Dr. Weaver celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination. During his fifty and more years of service he was honored by the church of being chairman of the Home Mission committee of the Presbytery of Pueblo for 16 years; member of the Home Mission Council, Executive Commission and Judicial Commission of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., the latter two being two of the three highest honors bestowed by the Presbyterian church upon its servants. He was eight times commissioner to the General Assembly and there were only a few of the meetings of that body during his ministry at which he was not present.

In May of this year Dr. Weaver attended the General Assembly of the Prebyterian Church, U. S. A., and during this trip he was present at the fifty-fourth reunion of his college class at Washington and Jefferson College, when he received a "Semi-Centennial certificate, presented in recognition of fifty or more years of service to the nation and loyalty to the college."

In addition to his church affiliations Dr. Weaver was an esteemed member of St. John's Lodge No. 75, A. F. & A. M., and the Lions Club of Rocky Ford.

Mr. Withrow was born at Murdocksville, July 5, 1880. He was the only son of John S. Withrow, a native of Hanover township, Washington county, who was a well-known miller of his day, having operated most of the mills on Raccoon creek between Burgettstown and the Ohio river. He was reared on his father's farm in Hanover township in Beaver county.

In early life Mr. Withrow married Miss Lula Jane Morris, of the same community, and for a time resided on his parents' homestead. About 16 years ago he left the farm, removing to Glenwillard, where he engaged in general contracting work.

He was a member of the Glenwillard Presbyterian church. A man of intelligence and of sterling integrity, he was an active public spirited citizen personally esteemed. He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Mrs. Helen McKenzie and Mrs. Geneviene Murgrove, both of Glenwillard. Mrs. D. A. Cameron, on the Withrow homestead in Beaver county, is a sister, as is also Miss Margaret Withrow, a teacher in the Beaver county schools, who makes her home with Mrs. Cameron. Besides the fore-going he leaves a large connection of nephews, nieces and cousins, mainly located in Washington and Beaver counties.

Funeral services were held in the church at Glenwillard on February 2nd, in charge of his pastor and interment was in the Mt. Olivet cemetery, in his native township.

A Chartiers Township man died Sunday morning after he lost control of his car, drove over a hillside and crashed into a creek in Burgettstown.

Phillip S. Wolanski, 43, of Montclair Road, died in the crash and was found by a passing motorist, who saw his car in the creek about 10:30 a.m., Washington County Coroner Timothy Warco said.

Authorities do not know when the crash occurred and are trying to determine where Wolanski was before the crash. No other vehicles were involved in the crash.

A cause of death is pending an autopsy, Warco said.

*Peaceful be thy silent slumber
Peaceful in thy grave so low;

Fatal Coasting Accident.

Michael Wukelic, aged 11 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Wukelic of Bavington, died in the Washington Hospital on Saturday from injuries sustained when a sled on which he was coasting down a hill near Harmon Creek on Wednesday of last week collided with the delivery truck of D. Petrucci & Son, local grocers. The lad suffered a fracture of the skull and other injuries. He was brought to the office of Dr. J. M. Boice and given emergency treatment and sent to the hospital. Attilio Napolitano, driver of the truck, stated that he saw the sled nearing him, and drove his truck into the bank at the side of the road, but the boy, no doubt badly frightened, guided his sled directly into the front of the truck. This is the first fatal coasting accident reported in the local community in many years.
